Bulldogs Extend One Of The Nation's Longest Active Bowl Streaks

Fifth-ranked Georgia will face No. 15 Texas in the 2019 Allstate Sugar Bowl on Jan. 1 at the Mercedes-Benz Superdome in New Orleans at 8:45 p.m. ET on ESPN. Georgia (11-2) will represent the SEC while Texas (9-4) hails from the Big 12. Both teams won their respective divisions before falling in their conference championship games on Dec. 1. Top-ranked Alabama rallied past the Bulldogs 35-28 for the SEC title while Oklahoma avenged its only season blemish with a 39-27 win over the Longhorns to claim the Big 12 crown.

The Bulldogs have the second longest active bowl streak in the nation now at 22, trailing only Virginia Tech (26). Overall, the Bulldogs and Longhorns rank among the nation's top bowl teams as they will be making their 55th all-time appearances. Georgia owns a 31-20-3 bowl record while Texas is 28-24-2. Last season, Georgia won the Rose Bowl Game over No. 2 Oklahoma and fell to No. 4 Alabama in the National Championship Game in Atlanta to finish 13-2 in Kirby Smart's second year at the helm. Texas won the 2017 Texas Bowl over Missouri to finish 7-6 in Tom Herman's first season.

Sweet History In the Sugar Bowl

Georgia has made nine appearances in the Sugar Bowl – more than the Bulldogs have played in any other postseason game. Georgia's last appearance in the New Orleans game was Jan. 1, 2008, when the Bulldogs defeated Hawaii, 41-10. Georgia entered the game ranked No. 4 and with a 10-2 record while Hawaii was 12-0 and No. 10.

Jan. 1, 2008, #4 Georgia defeated #10 Hawaii, 41-10

Georgia-Texas Series History

Texas holds a 3-1 edge in the series history with Georgia with two of the games coming in bowl games. Also of note, UGA and UT have scheduled a two-game series in 2028-29. The Bulldogs will travel to Austin in 2028 while Georgia will play host to the Longhorns in 2029.
Jan. 1, 1949 Orange Bowl in Miami.....Georgia lost to Texas, 41-28
Sept. 21, 1957 in Atlanta.....Georgia lost to Texas, 26-7
Sept. 20, 1958 in Austin.....Georgia lost to #11 Texas, 13-8
Jan. 2, 1984 Cotton Bowl in Dallas.....#7 Georgia defeated #2 Texas, 10-9

Seniors Go For 43

The 2018 senior class picked up its 42nd win after beating Georgia Tech 45-21 on Nov. 24. The 2018 seniors are 42-12, and the 42 wins is tied for third in school history with the 2004 team. The record for most wins by a class is 44 held by the 2005 contingent, which won two SEC titles. The most successful Georgia class was the 1983 group that went 43-4-1 with a national title and three SEC crowns.

Bulldogs Earn SEC Recognition

Head Coach Kirby Smart

When Georgia looked for a new head football coach after the 2015 season, all arrows pointed to Kirby Smart, former Bulldog player and assistant coach, and longtime University of Alabama defensive coordinator. Three years later, the decision to bring Smart home has paid handsome rewards.

His impact, along with a stellar group of players who bought into the new system, has put Georgia in the national championship hunt the last two seasons. His 2018 season posted an 11-1 regular season, second straight SEC Eastern Division title, and ranking as high as number four in the College Football Playoff poll at the end of the regular season. Despite a narrow defeat in the SEC Championship Game, the 'Dawgs landed in the prestigious Allstate Sugar Bowl on Jan. 1, 2019—Georgia's tenth all-time appearance in the New Orleans classic. It also extended the Bulldogs' bowl-game streak to a record 22 straight years, second highest active streak in the country. For his efforts, Smart was named a semi-finalist in the Maxwell Club George Munger National Coach of the Year balloting and finalist in the Bobby Dodd Trophy coach of the year competition.

The Bainbridge, Ga., native is married to the former Mary Beth Lycett of McDonough, Ga., a 4-year letterwinner and 2-year starter, on the Georgia women's basketball team from 2000-03. They are the proud parents of twins Weston and Julia (born Feb. 8, 2008) and son Andrew (born May 25, 2012).

Quick Facts

*2017 George Munger National Coach of the Year finalist, leading UGA to a 13-2 record, a Rose Bowl Game victory and an appearance the CFP National Championship Game.
*The Bulldogs' No. 2 AP ranking in 2017 was the team's top AP ranking since week three of the 2008 season when Georgia was No. 2.
*Advanced to 2017 & 2018 SECCG with 7-1 record
*Went 6-0 in the division in 2017 and 2018 for the first time since the SEC split into divisions in 1992.
*Seven fourth-quarter comebacks, including wins over #8 AU (2016), #22 UNC in Atlanta (2016), @ #24 Notre Dame (2017), vs. #2 Oklahoma in 2018 Rose Bowl.

High-Powered Offense

* Georgia is on pace to have one of the best scoring averages in UGA history this season. The Bulldogs have scored 40+ points in seven games this year and are averaging 39.2, which is second in the SEC and 13th nationally. The 2014 team owns the school record at 41.3 ppg.

* The Bulldog offense has scored 61 touchdowns in 2018 while the defense and special teams have each chipped in two scores.

* Against top-ranked Alabama, Georgia tallied 454 yards of total offense and 28 points versus a unit that was ranked third nationally in scoring defense. The Tide had trailed for just 70 seconds all year before Georgia led them for 35 minutes and 23 seconds in the SEC Championship Game.

* Georgia piled up 516 yards of total offense in the 27-10 victory over #24 Auburn. This was the most yards the Tigers had given up since Oklahoma had 524 in the 2016 Sugar Bowl.

Efficient Signal Callers

* Jake Fromm, a 2018 Manning Award finalist, is 23-4 as a starter, including 8-4 versus Top 25 teams.

* He is on pace to set the school record for Completion Percentage at 68.4. He leads the SEC and ranks 8th nationally. Georgia's school record is 67.9 by Hutson Mason in 2014.

* The Warner Robins, Ga., native is ranked third nationally in Passing Efficiency at 175.81, which would be a school record. In the regular season finale versus Ga. Tech, Fromm had a career-high four TD passes. Against top-ranked Alabama, he had a streak of 10 straight completions, which tied an SEC Championship Game record.

* His three TD passes versus #9 Florida all came on third downs covering 12, 16 and 24 yards. He was named SEC Offensive Player of the Week after going 17-for-24 for 240 yards and three TDs.

* Georgia also has freshman QB Justin Fields. After enrolling in January, he has seen action in 12 games and is 27-for-39 with 328 yards and four scores and four rushing TDs. Fields also has 266 yards on 42 carries and is averaging 6.3 yards a carry.

* Fields became the first Bulldog QB to have 100 yards rushing in 20 years when he did it versus UMass on Nov. 17 (Quincy Carter tallied 114 against UK in 1998). Fields, who was 5-for-8 for 121 yards and two touchdowns against UMass, also became the first Georgia QB to lead his team in rushing in a game since D.J. Shockley in 2005 against Boise State (85 yards).

* In his career, Fromm has led his team to two comebacks when trailing at the half. One of Georgia's signature wins came with his 2018 Rose Bowl Game performance after the Bulldogs trailed #2 Oklahoma 31-17 at the half and rallied to a 54-48 win in double overtime. Georgia trailed 45-38 with 3:22 remaining in the game before Fromm directed a game-tying drive.

* Fromm's first career start came last year at #24 Notre Dame. Trailing 19-17 with 6:47 left in the contest, Fromm directed a nine play, 63-yard drive to set up the go-ahead field goal. He was 3-for-4 for 45 yards during the drive.

Sharing The Load In The Ground Game

* Sophomore D'Andre Swift (1,037 yds.) and junior Elijah Holyfield (956 yds.) aim to become the latest Bulldog duo to each have 1,000-yard seasons. Most recently Nick Chubb (1,345) and Sony Michel (1,227) did it in 2017. Swift became the 14th Bulldog in school history to have a 1,000-yard season during the matchup versus #1 Alabama. It has now been done 20 times.

* Against #24 Auburn, the Bulldogs went over 300 yards on the ground and had a 100-yard rusher for the third straight game. In the SEC East clinching road win over #9 Kentucky, both tailbacks went over 100 yards as the Bulldogs tallied 331 yards.* Swift registered a career-high 186 yards and a score on 17 carries (10.9 avg) and had four catches for 43 yards against AU and was named the SEC Offensive Player of the Week.

* Swift went for 156 and two scores and was named the Offensive Player of the Week while Holyfield had a career-high 115 and a score versus #9 UK.

Next Man Up On The Line

* The Bulldog offensive line, coached by Broyles Award semifinalist Sam Pittman, has been named a finalist for the Joe Moore Award given to the nation's top unit. Georgia leads the SEC in Rushing Offense at 251.6 yards/game.

* Georgia has started four different alignments on the OL but the same unit for the past three games. It has featured Andrew Thomas/freshman Cade Mays (LT), redshirt sophomore Solomon Kindley (LG), senior Lamont Gaillard (C), redshirt sophomore Ben Cleveland/Mays/freshman Trey Hill (RG) and redshirt freshman Isaiah Wilson (RT). Wilson is the only lineman from the group who has not missed a snap due to injury.

Spreading The Wealth

* Junior Riley Ridley leads the wideouts with 39 catches for 509 yards and nine touchdowns, which is tied for second in school history. Junior Mecole Hardman checks in with 33 receptions for 529 yards and six scores.

* QB Jake Fromm connected with nine different receivers versus top-ranked Alabama, including hitting TB D'Andre Swift for a career-high six catches for 63 yards and a score.

* Versus #24 Auburn, junior WR Tyler Simmons caught his first career TD pass to give Georgia a 13-10 edge during the 27-10 win. Simmons followed that performance up with a 49-yard touchdown run and a career-long 87-yard scoring catch against UMass.

* Hardman had a career day at #24 South Carolina, hauling in six catches for 103 yards, including a 34-yard touchdown. This was Georgia's first 100-yard receiver since the 2016 Liberty Bowl versus TCU (Isaiah McKenzie, 4-103).

* Sophomore Jeremiah Holloman has 23 catches for 387 yards and five scores including two versus #9 UF.

Bulldogs Setting The Tone On Defense

* Georgia is 15th nationally in Scoring Defense, allowing just 18.5 points/game. The Bulldogs held #1 Alabama to only 14 points in the first half and 35 total after the Tide came into the game with the nation's top Scoring Offense averaging 49.0 points per game.

* Georgia held #24 Auburn to just 10 points and 274 yards, including only 102 on the ground, and kept the Tigers to a 3-for-11 mark on third downs. Like the Austin Peay and Middle Tennessee State games, the Bulldogs shut out AU in the second half.

* With the SEC East title on the line, the Bulldogs built a 14-3 halftime lead over #9 Kentucky as Georgia forced a pair of punts, a fumble and a field goal on the Wildcats' first four possessions.

* Georgia kept #9 Florida to a season-low 275 total yards in its 36-17 victory over the Gators in Jacksonville. UGA forced UF into turnovers on its first two possessions.

Walker Making An Impact

* Senior OLB D'Andre Walker has been this year's leader on the outside. Versus #1 Alabama in the SEC Championship Game, Walker added another sack to his total, giving him a team-leading 7.5 on the year. He had five tackles, two TFLs and a forced fumble against the Tide. Walker also recorded four tackles, including two sacks, and forced two fumbles in the win at Missouri.

* Walker has a team-leading four forced fumbles to go along with 45 total tackles and a team-leading 11.0 of those are TFLs.

* Georgia has senior Juwan Taylor, sophomore Monty Rice, junior Tae Crowder and senior Natrez Patrick sharing time. Rice has missed the last three games with an injury and stands second with 59 stops while Taylor is sixth with 46 tackles.

* Crowder is fifth on the team with 49 stops and is coming off an eight tackle, 1.5 TFL performance against #1 Alabama. He intercepted his second ball of the season during the victory over UMass. Crowder highlighted the Missouri game with a 43-yard INT return, marking the first pick of his career. Crowder is tied with DBs Deandre Baker and J.R. Reed for the team lead with two INTs.

* Rice posted a team-high eight tackles, including his first career sack, during the win at #9 Kentucky. In fact, UGA had a season-high four sacks against the Wildcats.

* In the victory over #9 Florida, Rice established a career high 11 stops and forced a fumble while Crowder recovered a fumble on the Gator 1-yard line.

* Taylor recovered his second fumble versus Tennessee, which is tied for the team lead. At South Carolina, he was credited with a TD after Baker dropped the ball at the 1-yard line following a 55-yard INT return.

Starting Up Front

* Veterans Jonathan Ledbetter and Tyler Clark anchor the line. Ledbetter is fourth on the team with 51 tackles, 5.5 tackles for loss and a sack, while Clark has 26 stops, including 4.0 TFL and a sack. Against #9 Kentucky, Ledbetter forced a fumble that Clark recovered. Ledbetter posted a career-high 10 stops at #13 LSU.

* True freshman Jordan Davis has started four games versus #9 Florida, at #9 Kentucky, against #24 Auburn and versus #1 Alabama. In the contest at #13 LSU, Davis recorded seven tackles.

Baker, Reed Leading Defensive Backfield

* Senior DB Deandre Baker, a Walter Camp First Team All-American and the Jim Thorpe Award winner, has 40 tackles on the year and is tied with two other players with two picks each. Baker also has nine pass break-ups.

* Baker had six stops, two pass breakups and the team's first interception in 2018 (along with a 55-yard return) at #24 South Carolina. He was named the Athlon National Defensive Player of the Week following the contest.

* Junior J.R. Reed ranks third on the team with 58 stops. Reed's had his first pick for 2018 in the end zone at South Carolina and then his second inside the 5-yard line versus #Alabama in the SEC Championship Game.

* Sophomore Richard LeCounte has started 12 games this year, leads the team with 67 tackles and notched his first career interception at the goal line against top-ranked Alabama and returned it 29 yards. LeCounte had seven tackles and a 32-yard fumble return in the win over #9 Florida.

* Freshman Tyson Campbell posted a career-high 11 tackles in the loss at #13 LSU, including eight solo stops.

* Campbell and redshirt freshman Eric Stokes had career highlights in the win at Missouri. Campbell started the game by forcing a fumble, recovering it and scampering 64 yards for a touchdown. Stokes blocked a punt and returned it eight yards for another of the Dogs' scores.

With AU leading 7-6, Stokes had a key pass breakup on a 3rd-and-goal from the 4-yard line to force the Tigers to a field goal. Stokes started his first career game versus UMass on Nov. 17.

Blankenship One Of The Best

* All-America candidate PK Rodrigo Blankenship enters the Sugar Bowl with an SEC-leading 119 points on the year (19 FGs, 62 PATs). He was a Lou Groza Award semifinalist for the second straight year and was named the SEC Special Teams Player of the Week following the 41-17 rout at #24 USC.

* Honored as one of 11 players nationwide named to the 2018 Allstate AFCA Good Works Team. He and the other recipients are scheduled to be honored at halftime of the Sugar Bowl.

* Has connected on a school record 151 consecutive PATs, topping Blair Walsh's record of 119 (2008-11). His 151 ranks fourth in SEC history for consecutive PATs.

* Second in NCAA with 79 touchbacks out of 93 KOs in 2018. This tops his own school record of 67 from last season.

* Set a Rose Bowl Game record by kicking a career-long 55-yard field goal during the 2OT win over #2 Oklahoma. His performance included a 38-yard FG in overtime.

Hardman Again SEC's Leading Punt Returner

* Junior returner/receiver Mecole Hardman is leading the SEC in Punt Return average at 20.1 and that mark would rank among the school's best ever. He had 23 punt returns for 271 yards and an 11.8 average in 2017 (all of those led the SEC). Also, Hardman is averaging 25.0 on 113 kickoff returns this year.

* Hardman has had a 70-yard PR for a touchdown versus Middle Tennessee State and a 65 yarder set up Georgia's first score at #9 Kentucky.

* Hardman is on pace to set a record for punt return average in a season, which is currently 15.7 (Scott Woerner, 1980). He already ranks in the top 10 in career punt return/kickoff return yards.

Two Dogs Named To Academic All-District Team

* Sophomore tailbacks D'Andre Swift and Prather Hudson have been named to the Google Cloud Academic All-District Team. Swift has a 3.42 in Journalism while Hudson has a 3.81 in Finance and Sport Management.

N.O.T. Just Scoring On Offense

* The Bulldogs' 65 touchdowns this season have included 61 by the offense, two by the defense and two by special teams.

* The last N.O.T.s (Non-Offensive TDs) came in the 43-29 road win over Missouri. Georgia had a 20-7 lead at halftime and the offense did not have a TD The Bulldogs' first score came on a forced fumble/64-yard return for a TD by freshman Tyson Campbell.

In the second quarter, redshirt freshman Eric Stokes blocked his first career punt and returned it eight yards for a score. This marked the 10th defensive/special teams score in the Kirby Smart era. In fact, Georgia's first TD in both of the first two SEC games this year were scored by the defense.

* Also, it was the first time since 2015 at Tennessee that Georgia had registered a special teams TD and a defensive TD in the same game. That year, current Chicago linebacker Leonard Floyd had a 96-yard FR-TD and Reggie Davis had a 70-yard PR-TD.

Dynamic Duo

* Schools with two RBs with 950+ yards:

1. Memphis: 2,921 yards on 392 attempts (Darrell Henderson and Patrick Taylor) 7.5 yards per carry
2. Pittsburgh: 2,211 yards on 326 attempts (Qadree Ollison and Darrin Hall) 6.8 ypc
3. Louisiana: 2,092 yards on 336 attempts (Trey Ragas and Elijah Mitchell) 6.2 ypc
4. Georgia: 1,993 yards on 302 attempts (D'Andre Swift and Elijah Holyfield) 6.6 ypc

Blankenship Latest Good Works Team Rep

* When junior PK Rodrigo Blankenship was named to the 2018 All-state AFCA Good Works Team for his dedication to the community, he joined a long list of Bulldogs who have garnered this honor.

Alec Millen - 1992	Quentin Moses - 2006
Travis Jones - 1993	Kelin Johnson - 2007
Brian Smith - 1993	Jeff Owens - 2009
Matt Stinchcomb - 1997	Aaron White - 2011
Matt Stinchcomb - 1998	Aaron Murray - 2012
Brett Millican - 2000	Chris Conley - 2014
Jon Stinchcomb - 2001	Malcolm Mitchell - 2015
David Greene - 2003	Jeb Blazevich - 2016
D.J. Shockley - 2005	Aaron Davis - 2017

Youth Movement

* The Dogs returned 51 lettermen from their 2017 team, including 13 starters. However, UGA is still among the nation's youngest teams with 68.2 percent being either freshmen/sophomores.

Record Watch

* Junior PK Rodrigo Blankenship has set two all-time school career records this year and has two more on the horizon.

* He now has 151 consecutive PATs, which topped Blair Walsh's 119 from 2008-10. Blankenship has 62 PATs on the year and is closing in on Marshall Morgan's 67 in 2014.

* The next record to keep an eye on is career touchbacks. The record is held by Kevin Butler (1981-94) who had 169 during his career. Currently, Blankenship has 167.

* Last year, Blankenship set the season touchback record with 67 breaking the mark held by Butler who had 51. Against UMass on Nov. 17, Blankenship topped his own record with 69. Currently, he ranks second nationally in touchbacks with 79 in 93 kickoffs with Oklahoma's Austin Seibert leading with 87 in 104 kickoffs.

Bulldog Graduates

* Georgia began the 2018 season with three players who had already earned their undergraduate degrees. Those players included: DL Jay Hayes (Notre Dame-Film, Television, Theater), P Landon Stratton (Murray State-Occupational and Health Safety) and OL Sean Fogarty (UGA-History). Hayes is pursuing a Master's degree in Financial Planning while Stratton is enrolled in the Master's program for Learning, Leadership and Organizational Development. Fogarty is taking a full load of undergraduate courses.

* Fall semester commencement exercises took place on the UGA campus on Friday, Dec. 14. An additional six current players were scheduled to receive their undergraduate degrees. They are:

Kendall Baker, Sociology
Rodrigo Blankenship, Journalism
Lamont Gaillard, Sociology
J.R. Reed, Communication Studies
Keyon Richardson, Sociology
Steven Van Tiflin, Real Estate and Finance

* All of the SEC players who have achieved undergraduate degrees wear the SEC Graduate patch on their uniforms.

* Additionally, three former UGA football players were also slated to receive their degrees this December: DeAngelo Tyson (2008-11), Housing Management & Policy; Nick Williams (2008-10), Communication Studies; and Shakenneth Williams (2017), Sociology.

UGA 13th In US News & World Report rankings

* UGA jumped three spots to No. 13 in the U.S. News & World Report 2019 ranking of best public national universities, the highest ranking in UGA's history. This is the third consecutive year the university has risen in the U.S. News ranking.

Notre Dame, Texas A&M Coming To Athens In '19

* Games with Notre Dame and Texas A&M highlight the 2019 home schedule announced recently by the SEC.

* Notre Dame will be visiting Athens for the first time in history while the Aggies will be making their first appearance between the hedges since 1980 (Georgia won 42-0). Georgia posted a 21-19 win in South Bend last year, which marked the first meeting since the 1981 Sugar Bowl (Georgia 17-10).

* The Bulldogs have yet to face the Aggies in an SEC contest as the last time they squared off came in the 2009 Independence Bowl (Georgia won 44-20).

* Georgia will open at Vanderbilt for the first time since 1956 in Nashville and open a season with an SEC contest for the first time since 1995 (versus South Carolina in Athens).

Georgia 45, Austin Peay 0

Sept. 1, 2018 • Sanford Stadium • Athens, Ga.

ATHENS — A stout defensive effort and an explosive offense lifted Georgia to a 45-0 victory over Austin Peay in the season opener at Sanford Stadium in front of a capacity crowd of 92,746 and an ESPN national television audience.

While the defense held the Governors scoreless, every first-half offensive possession for the Bulldogs resulted in a score. The first points of the season came on kicker Rodrigo Blankenship's 34-yard field goal.

Following the first of many stands from the Bulldog defense, the Georgia offense conducted an 11-play, 80-yard march, featuring 46 total yards from tailback D'Andre Swift. Receiver Riley Ridley claimed the first touchdown of the season, a 10-yard connection with quarterback Jake Fromm, and a 10-0 lead after Blankenship's PAT.

Thirty-nine seconds later, linebacker D'Andre Walker placed the ball back into the hands of the Bulldog offense, recovering a fumble from Austin Peay quarterback Jeremiah Oatsvall. The next play, Swift ran for an 8-yard touchdown and a 17-0 margin with Blankenship's kick.

In the second quarter, quarterback Justin Fields entered and handed off to receiver Demetris Robertson. With a pair of blocks from the tight end tandem of Isaac Nauta and Charlie Woerner, the open field presented itself for the Cal transfer, cementing his first Georgia score on a career-high 72-yard run. Blankenship's kick pushed the lead to 24-0.

After a three-and-out from Austin Peay, a 9-play, 69-yard drive was finalized with a hand-off to tailback Elijah Holyfield, who eluded multiple Governors on his way to the end zone for a 17-yard touchdown. Blankenship tacked on the PAT for the 31-0 edge.

Receiver Mecole Hardman closed out the half for the Bulldogs, using his speed to out-run the Austin Peay secondary and complete a 59-yard throw-and-catch with Fromm. Blankenship added the extra point to make it 38-0.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"We're happy to get the win. It was a good way to start. The kids played hard. But there are a lot of things we can improve on. We knew we couldn't get better until we played a game. We'll learn from this one, learn from our mistakes. We'll get some things ironed out."

Riley Ridley scores Georgia's first touchdown of the 2018 season on a 10-yard pass from Jake Fromm. The Bulldogs scored on every first-half possession against Austin Peay.

Worth Noting…

• The shutout marked Georgia's first in a season opener since 2003 against Clemson. Before Austin Peay, the most recent shutout for the Bulldogs came against Tennessee in 2017 (41-0), and the most recent team to be held scoreless for two quarters was Alabama in the 2018 College Football Playoff National Championship Game.

• The Bulldog defense held the Governors to 152 total yards and seven first downs on 50 plays. In the first half alone, Georgia limited Austin Peay to 81 yards with one trip to the red zone.

• Offensive production was spread between 11 receivers from three different quarterbacks: sophomore Jake Fromm and freshmen Justin Fields and Matthew Downing.

• Demetris Robertson's lone carry brought a 72-yard career-best touchdown, the longest run by a Bulldog since Sony Michel went 75 yards in the 2017 Rose Bowl against Oklahoma.

COLUMBIA, S.C. — No. 3 Georgia routed 24th-ranked South Carolina 41-17 in front of a crowd of 83,140 at Williams-Brice Stadium and a CBS national audience.

The Bulldogs improved to 2-0 overall and earned their first Southeastern Conference win over USC (1-1, 0-1). The victory marked Georgia's seventh win in 30 games against ranked opponents under Coach Kirby Smart.

With an efficient 15-for-18 passing clip for 194 yards and a touchdown, quarterback Jake Fromm guided Georgia to its highest point production in Columbia, a series that dates to 1894.

Five Bulldogs made trips to the end zone: linebacker Juwan Taylor; tailbacks D'Andre Swift, Elijah Holyfield, and Brian Herrien; and receiver Mecole Hardman, who also led the receiving corps with six catches for 103 yards – both career bests.

The Georgia defense produced a 7-0 Bulldog lead within the game's first minute. A deflected pass from Jake Bentley intended for running back Rico Dowdle found the hands of defensive back Deandre Baker, who returned it for 55 yards but fumbled inches before the end zone. Taylor trailed the play and completed the touchdown by scooping up the loose ball.

After a South Carolina three-and-out, a 30-yard Fromm-Hardman completion and a 15-yard Gamecock penalty positioned Georgia in the red zone. The next play, Swift sealed the two-touchdown lead with an untouched 17-yard rush.

After a South Carolina touchdown pass, kicker Rodrigo Blankenship, soon followed with a 45-yard field goal for a 17-7 lead. The Bulldogs and the Gamecocks traded second-quarter field goals —Blankenship's coming on a 44-yarder as time expired —for a 20-10 halftime edge for the Bulldogs.

Georgia opened the second half with Fromm finding Hardman for a 34-yrd scoring pass. Holyfield and Herrien closed the scoring with third-quarter touchdown runs of five and 15 yards, respectively.

Blankenship went 5-for-5 on extra points.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"At the end of the day, they (South Carolina) just wore down ... You could just see the air coming out of them a little bit as they wore down physically. The big stop of the game to me was either the first or second drive in the second half. We had third-and-2 or third-and-3 and stopped them. They had to punt it right back to us. The defense was right back out there. That takes its toll. I think our conditioning showed through. A lot of credit goes to Coach (Scott) Sinclair and the strength staff. They worked those kids hard all summer, so they could prepare for second halves like that."

Mecole Hardman led Georgia with a career-high 103 receiving yards on six catches and one touchdown vs. the Gamecocks.

Worth Noting…

• Georgia carried a 20-10 advantage to halftime and posted a 41-17 win, marking the most points it has ever scored in Columbia in the series that dates back to 1894. The 24-point margin of victory was the most in Columbia since 1971. Georgia improved to 2-0 (1-0 SEC) on the year and has won four in a row over USC.

• Junior WR Mecole Hardman established a career-high for receiving yards with 103 on six catches. Hardman was the first Bulldog receiver to have a 100-yard game since Isaiah McKenzie (103) vs. TCU in the 2016 Liberty Bowl win.

• Senior DB Deandre Baker made his first interception of the year and the sixth of his career in the first quarter, returning it 55 yards before dropping it before crossing the goal line. Senior ILB Juwan Taylor scooped up the fumble and scored to put Georgia up 7-0. Taylor's touchdown marked Georgia's first INT returned for a TD since Maurice Smith took one 35 yards vs. Auburn in 2016.

• Junior PK Rodrigo Blankenship gave the Bulldogs a 17-7 lead late in the opening period on a 45-yard field goal and then made a 44-yarder as the first half expired. He is now 3-for-3 on the year and 12-for-18 in his career from 40-plus yards. He logged six more touchbacks, improving to 14-14 on the season.

No. 3 Georgia 49, Middle Tennessee 7

Sept. 15, 2018 • Sanford Stadium • Athens, Ga.

ATHENS — Forty-nine points from the offense and special teams, plus a stingy Georgia defense led to a resounding 49-7 victory for the No. 3-ranked Bulldogs against Middle Tennessee State in front of 92,746 fans at Sanford Stadium and an ESPN2 national television audience.

The Georgia offense finished the contest with 484 total yards, including 382 in the first half. Averaging 45.3 points per game this season, the Bulldogs have scored 40-plus points through three consecutive outings.

Tailback Elijah Holyfield led the rushing attack, becoming the first Bulldog to record a 100-yard game this season, reaching the mark in the first half. Holyfield was complemented by quarterback Jake Fromm, who threw for an efficient 10-for-12 clip with three touchdowns and 128 yards. Receiver Jeremiah Holloman paced the pass game with 90 yards on three catches, becoming the third different Bulldog receiver to do so in as many games.

The Bulldogs opened the contest with a seven-play, 87-yard drive, highlighted by Holyfield's career-long 66-yard rush. Three plays later, tight end Charlie Woerner provided a block to set up the Fromm-Mecole Hardman 5-yard touchdown connection. Hardman leads the receivers with three touchdowns this season.

After defensive back Deandre Baker snagged his second interception of the season, which he returned for 26 yards, Holloman cemented the 14-0 lead with his first career touchdown catch.

To open the second quarter, receiver Tyler Simmons broke free for a career-long 56-yard rushing touchdown, the first of his career. Hardman widened the Georgia lead to 28 on a 70-yard punt return for a touchdown, the first for the Bulldogs since Isaiah McKenzie in 2016.

Receiver Riley Ridley capped a 4-play, 74-yard drive with a 12-yard touchdown on a pass from Fromm for a 35-7 advantage. Freshman quarterback Justin Fields sent the Bulldogs into intermission with the first rushing touchdown of his career, a 15-yarder.

Georgia tacked on another career-first touchdown with a 9-yard pass from Fromm to receiver Jayson Stanley in the third quarter.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"Every player who goes in needs to perform like a starter. There's no room for error because we're one play away from those guys. I like the toughness we show during the week. We've created a standard the last couple of years, and now we're owning it with players holding other players accountable."

Worth Noting…

• The 49-7 victory over Middle Tennessee gives Georgia its third consecutive win with at least 40 points. The Bulldogs last did that when they started the 2012 season with five straight 40-plus-point games.

• Junior TB Elijah Holyfield had a career-long 66-yard run on the Bulldogs' first possession to set up a touchdown three plays later. Holyfield completed the half with eight carries for a career-high 100 yards. The last backs to hit the century mark were Sony Michel (181) and Nick Chubb (145) in the Rose Bowl Game win over Oklahoma last season.

• Junior WR Tyler Simmons took a hand-off at the beginning of the second quarter a career-long 56 yards for his first career touchdown of any kind. This capped a season-best scoring drive of 94 yards, which was six plays and lasted 2:40, and was Georgia's longest scoring drive since the Bulldogs went 98 yards on 11 plays in 6:34 versus Auburn in 2014.

• Junior WR Mecole Hardman, who led the SEC in punt returns/yards/average last year, returned a punt 70 yards in the second quarter for his first career PR for a touchdown to give the Bulldogs a 28-0 edge. Isaiah McKenzie was the last Georgia player to return a punt for a score after he went 82 yards versus UL-Lafayette in 2016.

No. 2 Georgia 43, Missouri 29

Sept. 22, 2018 • Memorial Stadium • Columbia, Mo.

COLUMBIA, Mo. — A defensive first half and offensive onslaught in the second half pushed second-ranked Georgia past Missouri 43-29 at Faurot Field at Memorial Stadium in front of a nationally televised ESPN audience.

The Bulldogs headed into the half with a 20-7 lead after defense and special teams dominated the early pace of the game.

On a third-and-9 play, defensive back Tyson Campbell stripped Missouri's Albert Okwuegbunam and scoop-scored for a 64-yard fumble return to put the first points on the board.

After the Tigers evened the score, kicker Rodrigo Blankenship connected on a 44-yard field goal to move Georgia back in front 10-7. On the ensuing drive, the Georgia defense produced another turnover – this time a 43-yard interception return by linebacker Tae Crowder. The takeaway turned into another Blankenship try, a 21-yard field goal, for the 13-7 lead early in the second quarter.

Special teams then made its splash later in the second to put the Bulldogs up 20-7. Georgia bombarded Missouri punter Corey Fatony with an defensive back Eric Stokes blocking the kick and scooping up the football for an 8-yard touchdown.

A back-and-forth third quarter saw both teams trade touchdowns. First, Georgia got a 33-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Jake Fromm to receiver Riley Ridley to cap a 5-play, 59-yard drive. Mizzou responded with a long drive and score, but the Bulldogs struck on their second play from scrimmage. Fromm threw a jump ball to receiver Jeremiah Holloman, who eluded the sideline to run free for a 61-yard touchdown.

The Tigers got the last touchdown in the third to put the score at 33-22, and the scoring commenced immediately in the fourth quarter. On the first play, Fromm connected with receiver Mecole Hardman for a 54-yard touchdown pass to finish the Bulldogs' longest drive of the game that spanned 77 yards in just five plays.

Missouri quarterback Drew Lock pulled the game to a 40-29 margin on an 11-yard run with 10:47 left in the game, but the Bulldogs capped the game with a 40-yard Blankenship field goal with less than two minutes remaining.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"The flow of the game was about what I thought it would be. There were a lot of emotional big plays. I didn't see us having the big plays in the turnover game with the fumble recovery and blocked punt, but they were really big plays. We struggled some to stop the run today, which is not indicative of the defense we want to have, and we struggled to run the ball. When you have that combination then you are going struggle some and we did. Give Missouri credit, they have a good football team. We knew that coming in. I've always respected them. They've won nine of the last 10 games and you don't do that by accident."

Coach Kirby Smart congratulates defensive back Eric Stokes after his second-quarter punt block and return for a touchdown against Missouri.

Worth Noting…

• For the fourth straight game this year, Georgia (4-0, 2-0 SEC) scored at least 40 points for the first time since the 2012 season. In 2012, Georgia opened the year with five straight games of scoring at least 40 apiece. This season, Georgia now is averaging 44.5 points a game. The school record is 37.8, set in 2012.

• Missouri ran a total of 85 plays, which is four more than No. 2 Oklahoma ran in the Rose Bowl double-overtime game, the previous high against a Kirby Smart team.

• Redshirt freshman DB Eric Stokes' blocked punt for a TD marked the first since CJ Byrd in 2006 against UAB. Alongside freshman DB Tyson Campbell's 68-yard fumble return, it was the first time since the 2015 road game at Tennessee that Georgia has scored a defensive TD and special teams TD in the same game. That year, Leonard Floyd had a 96-yard fumble return and Reggie Davis had a 70-yard punt return.

• The Georgia defense held senior QB Drew Lock without a touchdown in the air. Senior OLB D'Andre Walker had two forced fumbles and two sacks of Lock. The Bulldogs had one sack coming in to the game, which also belonged to Walker.

• After a 6-for-14 first half, sophomore QB Jake Fromm went 7-for-9 for 194 yards and three touchdowns in the second.

No. 2 Georgia 38, Tennessee 12

Sept. 29, 2018 • Sanford Stadium • Athens, Ga.

ATHENS — No. 2 Georgia knocked off Tennessee 38-12 in front of a crowd of 92,746 at Sanford Stadium and a CBS national television audience.

The Bulldogs improved to 5-0 overall and 3-0 in Southeastern Conference play with the victory against the Volunteers, who fell to 2-3 and 0-2.

With the Volunteers entering the contest averaging 205 yards on the ground, Georgia limited Tennessee to 66 rushing yards while producing five rushing touchdowns on offense.

The rushing attack featured the first multi-touchdown outings on the ground for tailback D'Andre Swift and quarterback Justin Fields. Swift found the end zone on a 1-yard pitch in the second quarter and later returned with a 14-yard score in the final period. Fields, who rushed five times for 45 yards, scored on a 12-yard scamper in the third quarter and followed with a 15-yard touchdown run to cement the victory.

Georgia opened the game's scoring following a fortuitous bounce. On third-and-9 in the first quarter, Tennessee linebacker Darrell Taylor forced the ball out of quarterback Jake Fromm's hands, but the fumble found tight end Isaac Nauta, who ran for a 31-yard touchdown.

After kicker Rodrigo Blankenship booted a 43-yard field goal in the second quarter, Fields jump started a scoring drive to end the half, contributing a 13-yard run. Fromm continued it, connecting with receivers Riley Ridley and Jeremiah Holloman for 12 yards apiece. Swift finalized the 17-0 halftime margin with his first touchdown run.

Back from intermission, Georgia resumed on offense with a 10-play, 75-yard drive capped off by Fields' touchdown with an elevated horizontal dive into the end zone. The Volunteers then connected on passing touchdowns of 37 and 35 yards to cut the lead to 24-12 (as Georgia denied both two-point conversions).

The Bulldogs drove 75 yards in 7:39, finished by Swift's second touchdown, for a 31-12 lead. On the ensuing Tennessee drive, linebacker D'Andre Walker forced a fumble recovered by linebacker Juwan Taylor, and Fields sealed the decision with his 15-yard score.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"We struggled at times. We didn't hit some of the plays we thought we could have. We must execute at a higher level to be successful. There were times when we didn't have much movement up front. But when we had to play well in the second half, we challenged them and they did so. It's big when you answer a challenge, but it shouldn't have to come to that. We preach good habits, competitiveness, physicality."

• The Bulldogs scored 38 points in their win over Tennessee to improve to 5-0 overall, 3-0 in the SEC. Georgia has tallied 216 points for the year, for an average of 43.2. Georgia's point total through five games is the most since 2014 (225 and that squad was 4-1).

• Georgia's first points came in an unorthodox fashion. Junior TE Isaac Nauta scooped up a sophomore QB Jake Fromm fumble and ran it 31 yards for a touchdown on a fumble advance to give Georgia a 7-0 edge at the 8:52 mark in the first period. This marks the third consecutive SEC game that the Bulldogs have scored their first touchdown on a return following a fumble.

• Fromm completed the game 16-for-22 for 185 yards and got his 19th consecutive start at QB. Freshman QB Justin Fields also took some snaps and finished 1-for-2 for five yards and ran the ball five times for 45 yards, including scoring runs of 12 and 15 yards.

• Senior OLB D'Andre Walker had five stops, including a sack, and a forced fumble. Walker has 13 tackles on the year with five tackles for loss and four sacks.

• Junior DB Tyrique McGhee made his third career start and first since the 2017 Tennessee game. Freshman Cade Mays started at RG in place of the injured Ben Cleveland.

No. 2 Georgia 41, Vanderbilt 13

Oct. 6, 2018 • Sanford Stadium • Athens, Ga.

ATHENS — Second-ranked Georgia Bulldogs remained undefeated with a 41-13 win over Vanderbilt in front of 92,746 at Sanford Stadium and am SEC Network television audience.

Five different Bulldogs (6-0, 3-0) produced touchdowns, three through the air from quarterback Jake Fromm (17-for-23, 276 yards) and two on the ground from tailbacks Elijah Holyfield and Brian Herrien.

Receiver Riley Ridley led eight different Georgia targets with five catches for 57 yards and a touchdown, while Holyfield paced the Bulldog rushers – who collected a total of 219 yards as a group – with six carries on 64 yards and a touchdown.

Defensive back Richard LeCounte supplied six solo stops for the Bulldog defense, who limited the Commodores to two field goals until the final seconds of the game. Linebacker Channing Tindall also provided five tackles on the night.

At the 10:30 mark in the opening period, Vanderbilt became the first team to lead against the Bulldogs this season, using a 25-yard field goal to cap a 5-play, 50-yard scoring drive.

The Bulldogs used one play to respond as Fromm found receiver Terry Godwin for a 75-yard touchdown. Holyfield settled an 8-play, 86-yard drive with an airborne, horizontal dive into the end zone for a 24-yard touchdown run and a 14-3 lead. The Commodores tacked on another field goal with 2:18 remaining in the first half, but Fromm found Ridley on a 10-yard touchdown to send Georgia into intermission with a 21-6 advantage.

Georgia opened the second half with an 8-play, 75-yard drive, finalized by a 35-yard D'Andre Swift catch and run from Fromm. Blankenship used a 53-yard field goal to make it 31-6, before Herrien, flanked by the Georgia offensive line, fought for the touchdown after dropping and recovering the ball for the 38-6 lead.

Blankenship added his second field goal of the day for insurance before the Commodores produced a final touchdown as the final seconds on the clock wound down.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"We played sloppy and I was disappointed with the way we played. It's sad when you have undisciplined penalties. We're trying to teach our team a lesson – you don't beat good football teams having those errors. We did a few good things, too, and I don't want to overshadow that. We ran the ball against a team that said, 'You're not going to run on us.' But we've got to continue to improve. It starts with discipline ... with tying your shoes before practice, being on time for practice, following the rules and regulations. When you do those things, you don't have penalties."

Terry Godwin scored Georgia's first touchdown against Vandy with a 75-yard catch and run in the first quarter.

• Georgia posted a 41-13 win to run its record to 6-0 (4-0 SEC). It marks the 12th time in school history that Georgia has raced out to a 6-0 start, and it's the first time the Bulldogs have done it in back-to-back seasons.

• Junior PK Rodrigo Blankenship connected on five extra points to make him 32-for-32 on the year and to give him 121 straight. This topped Blair Walsh's school record of 119. Blankenship also had touchbacks on seven of eight kickoffs, giving him 44 on the year and 132 in his career.

• Georgia now leads the all-time series with Vanderbilt 57-20-2 including 21-4 on Homecoming. Overall, Georgia is 77-18-2 in Homecoming contests.

• Georgia's defense held Vanderbilt scoreless on its second trip to the Red Zone. The Bulldogs stalled a drive that started on Vanderbilt's 5-yard line by stopping the Commodores on the Georgia 14-yard line during a 4th-and-1 situation. This was Georgia's third Red Zone stop of the year.

• Sophomore QB Jake Fromm connected with senior WR Terry Godwin for a 75-yard touchdown, which marked the longest passing play of the 2018 season thus far. This was a career-long catch for Godwin and the longest for the Bulldogs since Fromm connected with WR Mecole Hardman on an 80-yard score in the 2018 CFP National Championship versus Alabama.

No. 12 LSU 36, No. 2 Georgia 16

Oct. 13, 2018 • Tiger Stadium • Baton Rouge, La.

BATON ROUGE, La. — Second-ranked Georgia suffered a 36-16 upset loss against No. 12 LSU in front of a crowd of 102,321 at Tiger Stadium and a nationally televised CBS audience.

Georgia forced a three-and-out on the game's opening drive, but the momentum didn't matriculate to the rest of the half. The Bulldogs' most successful first-half drive came on their second possession, which spanned 12 plays for 59 yards – all on the ground. However, a thwarted fake field goal attempt halted the Bulldogs.

Georgia trailed 16-0 at intermission, putting the Bulldogs in a hole that they didn't overcome. In the first half, quarterback Jake Fromm was 5-for-16 for 47 yards, while most of the production occurred on the ground with D'Andre Swift tallying 47 yards on seven carries and Elijah Holyfield mustering 33 yards on five attempts.

The Bulldogs took the opening possession of the third quarter 52 yards on 12 plays, setting up a 40-yard Rodrigo Blankenship field goal to make it 16-3. After a Fromm interception gave the Tigers a short field, the Bulldogs defense held LSU to its fourth field goal inside Georgia's 25-yard line.

Holyfield finished off a 7-play, 75-yard drive on the ensuing possession with a 10-yard touchdown run to make it a 19-9 game after an unsuccessful 2-point try.

After each team traded punts to start the fourth quarter, LSU capitalized with a touchdown and a field goal to move ahead 29-9.

With six minutes to go, the Bulldogs found the end zone again as Fromm threw a 27-yard scoring pass to Ridley.

Fromm finished 16-of-34 for 209 passing yards with one touchdown and two interceptions. Ridley led the receiving group with three catches for 75 yards and the touchdown. Swift picked up a team-high 72 yards on a dozen attempts, while Holyfield added 56 yards on seven carries and a touchdown.

With the win over Georgia, the Tigers take a 17-13-1 edge in the series history that dates back to 1928. This was the 11th meeting where both teams were ranked in the top 25 and LSU now leads that 6-5.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"We didn't play our best game. You have to give LSU credit. They are a great football team. We didn't do well against their hurry-up offense, which caused us to not be able to play as many guys as we normally do. They did a great job of mixing up their play calls with run and pass. Offensively, we had a drought and they capitalized. We didn't come out physical today. We just have to execute better and get better overall."

Tyson Campbell (3) and J.R. Reed bring down an LSU receiver during second-quarter action in Baton Rouge.

• The final score marks Georgia's first 20-point loss since losing at Auburn last season, 40-17.

• Defensively, Georgia gave up a season-high 475 total yards and 36 points; however the Bulldogs forced five LSU field goals inside the Georgia 25-yard line and were on the field for a season-high 33 minutes and 41 seconds. Freshman CB Tyson Campbell had a team-high and career-high 11 tackles, while defensive end Jonathan Ledbetter tallied 10 tackles – also a career high.

• For the first time since the 2016 Auburn game, Georgia was shut out in the first half. Auburn led 7-0 at the half that day, and the Bulldogs rallied back for a 13-7 victory. The Bulldogs came in today averaging 42.8 points a game.

• Sophomore QB Jake Fromm came in ranked fourth nationally in passing efficiency but finished 16-for-34 for 209 yards with 1 TD and 2 INTs.

No. 7 Georgia 36, No. 9 Florida 17

Oct. 27, 2018 • TIAA Bank Stadium • Jacksonville, Fla.

The Bulldogs improved to 7-1 overall and 5-1 in Southeastern Conference play with the victory against Florida, which drops to 6-2 overall and 4-2 in league competition.

Quarterback Jake Fromm connected on three touchdown passes (all on third down), with a 17-for-24 passing clip for 240 yards, two of those going to receiver Jeremiah Holloman over 12 and 16 yards, respectively.

The Georgia run game controlled the first drive for the Bulldog offense, split between tailbacks Elijah Holyfield and D'Andre Swift. Through 12 plays and 71 yards, the pair of tailbacks marched the Bulldogs to the Florida 4-yard line, where kicker Rodrigo Blankenship drilled a 21-yard field goal.

Three plays later, linebacker Monty Rice caused a fumble that was recovered by defensive back Richard LeCounte, who ran for 32 yards. Set up in the red zone, the Bulldog offense produced a 16-yard touchdown from Fromm to Holloman.

On a subsequent drive, the Bulldogs utilized tight end Isaac Nauta on four straight completions from Fromm on the right side. Blankenship sent the Bulldogs into the break with a 13-7 lead following his 22-yard field goal.

The Gators opened the second half with a 36-yard touchdown pass to go up 14-13, but Georgia countered with Fromm's second touchdown completion to Holloman, a 12-yard back-shoulder throw for a 20-14 lead. Shortly after, defensive back Tyrique McGhee forced a fumble recovered by linebacker Tae Crowder at the Florida 1-yard-line, leading to another Blankenship kick from 18 yards out.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"We've got kids with character. Everybody questioned these kids because we didn't play our best game (two weeks ago against LSU), and all we did was work. Everybody questioned and questioned it. They are tough, physical kids. We still have a long way to go. But we got better today…They played their hearts out. I'm so proud of the way they played. I'm proud for the University of Georgia."

Jake Fromm directed three second-half scoring drives of 72, 75 and 66 yards to defeat Florida for the second straight year.

Worth Noting…

• Georgia's 36-17 win over No. 9 Florida gave the Bulldogs their second straight win in the series and fifth victory in the last seven contests. The Bulldogs now lead the all-time series 52-43-2.

• Sophomore QB Jake Fromm finished 17-for-24 for 240 yards and 3 TDs. In the first half, he went 8-for-11 for 97 yards as Georgia built a 13-7 edge. The three TD passes by Fromm ties the Bulldog mark in the Florida series in the modern era, also done by Aaron Murray (2010), Matthew Stafford (2007) and Buck Belue (1980).

• Sophomore LB Monty Rice established a new career high with 11 total tackles (five solo, six assisted), and forced a fumble for sophomore DB Richard LeCounte to recover that led to a 10-0 lead in the first quarter.

• In his first career start, sophomore WR Jeremiah Holloman snagged four catches for 48 yards, including two touchdown grabs on third downs in the same end zone corner. Freshman DL Jordan Davis also earned the nod to start the game.

No. 6 Georgia 34, No. 11 Kentucky 17

Nov. 3, 2018 • Kroger Field • Lexington, Ky.

LEXINGTON, Ky. — For the second year in a row, Georgia captured the SEC Eastern Division Championship as the No. 6 Bulldogs defeated No. 11 Kentucky 34-17 in front of 67,606 fans at Kroger Field and a national CBS television audience.

Georgia improved to 8-1 overall and 6-1 in the SEC, while the Wildcats fell to 7-2 and 5-2. The Bulldogs went undefeated against SEC East foes for the second straight season.

Entering Saturday, Kentucky represented the nation's top defense, yielding just 13 points per game, and the SEC's third-toughest run defense, giving up just 107.5 yards per game, while also averaging 214 rushing yards of its own. Georgia flipped the script by tallying the most points on the Wildcats this season, accumulating a season-high 331 yards on the ground, and limiting Kentucky to 84 yards on the ground.

Tailback D'Andre Swift finished with a career-high 156 rushing yards on 16 carries and two touchdowns. Swift's second score came on an 83-yard sprint in the third quarter for the Bulldogs' longest run of the year and the longest by a Bulldog since Nick Chubb in 2015. Tailback Elijah Holyfield added a personal-best 115 yards on 18 carries and a touchdown.

Quarterback Jake Fromm went 14-of-20 for 113 yards and a touchdown. Fromm's top target was receiver Jeremiah Holloman with four catches for 39 yards. Fromm's touchdown pass went to tight end Isaac Nauta in the first quarter and covered four yards.

Quarterback Justin Fields tacked on four rushing first downs, none more important than a fourth-quarter pickup that enabled Georgia to continue to run clock with less than six minutes to play.

Kicker Rodrigo Blankenship tacked on fourth-quarter field goals of 23 and 38 yards to cap the Bulldogs' scoring.

Linebacker Monty Rice amassed a team-high eight tackles with a sack, while end Jonathan Ledbetter and linebackers Channing Tindall and Brenton Cox all recorded sacks too. Linebacker Juwan Taylor and Ledbetter forced fumbles which cornerback Tyson Campbell and lineman Tyler Clark recovered, respectively.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"[Winning another SEC East title is] huge. It hasn't been easy, and it's never easy. Sometimes I think people get spoiled when you win, and these are good programs and teams. I give our kids a lot of credit because their backs were against the wall two weeks in a row, and they came out fighting, scratching and clawing."

Elijah Holyfield rushed for a career-best 115 yards against Kentucky. Georgia gained 331 yards as a team against the Wildcats.

Worth Noting…

• With its 34-17 victory, defending SEC Champion Georgia (8-1, 6-1 SEC) has clinched another trip to Atlanta for the SEC Championship Game (SECG). The Bulldogs will be making their seventh appearance in the game, and they are 3-3 including winning the 2017 SEC title over Auburn last year. The Bulldogs now have won or shared the SEC Eastern Division crown nine times (1992, 2002, '03, '05, '07, '11, '12, '17 and '18).

• For the second straight season, Georgia has gone 6-0 against the SEC East. Last year marked the first time the Bulldogs had done that since the league split into divisions in 1992.

• Going in, Georgia ranked 13th nationally in scoring defense (16.3 points per game), while the Wildcats ranked No. 1 nationally, allowing only 13.0 points per game and had not allowed more than 20 points in a game. Georgia held UK to 17 points as the Wildcats ran 64 plays for 310 total yards.

• Sophomore TB D'Andre Swift had a career-high 156 yards on 16 carries and two TDs, one of which was the longest rushing Georgia TD since Nick Chubb went 83 yards for a score against Alabama in 2015. Sophomore TB Elijah Holyfield added a career-high 115 yards on 18 carries. The duo averaged 6.1 yards a carry. Georgia finished with a season-high in rushing yards, the most since 381 on 44 attempts versus Kentucky last year.

No. 5 Georgia 27, No. 24 Auburn 10

Nov. 10, 2018 • Sanford Stadium • Athens, Ga.

ATHENS — Behind 303 yards on the ground and a stout defense in the second half, Georgia defeated Auburn 27-10 in front of an ESPN audience and a capacity crowd of 92,746 at Sanford Stadium.

Tailback D'Andre Swift led the Bulldogs' ground attack with a career-best 186 yards and a touchdown on 17 carries. Swift punctuated his day with a 77-yard touchdown run early the final quarter. Tailback Elijah Holyfield contributed 93 yards on 15 attempts.

Quarterback Jake Fromm went 13-of-20 for 193 yards and two touchdowns for the Bulldogs. Fromm's touchdowns covered 14 yards to receiver Tyler Simmons and 38 yards to receiver Terry Godwin. Godwin hauled in three passes for 84 yards and the score.

Kicker Rodrigo Blankenship drilled first-half field goals covering 25 and 20 yards. Blankenship also went 4-for-4 on extra points.

After Blankenship's first-quarter field goal, Auburn used a bit of trickery to find the end zone first. Running back JaTarvious Whitlow took a handoff and passed nine yards to John Shenker for a score with 4:28 left in the first period.

The game's momentum swung toward Georgia for good in the final minutes before halftime. Fromm found Tyler Simmons for a 14-yard score that put the Bulldogs ahead 13-10 with 2:47 left in the second quarter. The Bulldog defense then forced an Auburn punt after just three plays, giving Georgia possession again at the 2:00 mark. Five plays later, on fourth-and-three from the Tigers' 38-yard line, Fromm connected with a streaking Terry Godwin for another score.

Both teams fought for field position in a scoreless third quarter. Georgia appeared to have won the battle when Jake Camarda's final punt of the night was downed at the Auburn 1-yard line with 3:52 left in the period.

The Tigers managed a pair of first downs before punting back to Georgia on the first play of the final quarter. Two plays and a false start penalty later, Swift sealed the game's outcome when he broke free at the line and used key downfield blocks to run 77 yards for a touchdown.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"We're a work in progress. We're fighting tooth and nail and we don't panic. It was a physical game. We played a ton of guys on defense. I'm proud of the way the guys competed. If we feed [D'Andre Swift], he does well. He's got a great offensive line in front of him, he's explosive and he makes guys miss on the second level. The wide-outs deserve credit for some big-time down-field blocking too."

D'Andre Swift rushed for a career-high 186 yards on just 17 carries, including a fourth-quarter touchdown run of 77 yards.

• The Bulldogs closed out the SEC part of the regular season with a 7-1 league mark and improved to 9-1 overall. Georgia extended its series advantage over the Tigers to 59-56-8 in the 123rd meeting in the Deep South's oldest rivalry.

• The Bulldogs, who lead the SEC in rushing at 233.8 yards per game, finished with 303 on the ground after getting a season-high 331 yards in the road win over Kentucky last Saturday. Overall, Georgia churned out 516 yards of total offense, the most since 560 against Vanderbilt this year.

• Sophomore TB D'Andre Swift went over 100 yards for the third straight game to highlight the Bulldogs' rushing game. Swift went for a career-high 186 yards on 17 carries after going for 156 at No. 9 Kentucky the week before. This is the most yards for a Georgia running back since Nick Chubb exploded for 222 versus North Carolina in the 2016 season opener. Swift also had a team-high four catches for 43 yards.

• Georgia had the ball for 20:02 in the first half and out-gained Auburn 266-149 in total yards as the Bulldogs surged ahead 20-10.

• The QB Jake Fromm-WR Terry Godwin 38-yard connection on fourth-and-2 was the Bulldogs' fourth score at the end of a first half this year with less than two minutes to go.

• With two field goals on the game, junior PK Rodrigo Blankenship improved to 17-of-19 on FGs this year. Blankenship also launched touchbacks on four kickoffs of the game to give him 58, which is ranked second nationally.

No. 5 Georgia 66, UMass 27

Nov. 17, 2018 • Sanford Stadium • Athens, Ga.

ATHENS — No. 5 Georgia accumulated season highs of 701 yards of offense and 66 points, downing Massachusetts 66-27 in front of a crowd of 92,746 at Sanford Stadium and an SEC Network national television audience.

The Bulldogs improved to 10-1 overall with one game left in the regular season, while Massachusetts concluded its season at 4-8.

Quarterback Jake Fromm produced a 5-for-5 clip with 106 yards and a touchdown before quarterback Justin Fields entered the contest to accumulate 100 yards on the ground and 121 through the air with three touchdowns.

Five other members of the Bulldog backfield joined Fields on the ground with nearly 50-plus yards apiece and five combined touchdowns.

Receiver Tyler Simmons opened the Georgia scoring with a 49-yard touchdown run off a jet sweep. The Bulldogs then added a 5-yard touchdown scamper by tailback Elijah Holyfield for a 14-0 first-quarter lead.

Fields stole the show in the second quarter by initiating three touchdowns. Fields connected with Riley Ridley on an 11-yard scoring toss. After Fromm re-entered on the ensuing drive and found Simmons up the sideline for a 71-yard catch and run, Fields posted a 3-yard scoring run and a 57-yard touchdown pass to receiver Mecole Hardman as the Bulldogs led 42-13 at the break.

Tailback James Cook joined the scoring in the second half, rattling off runs of 26 and 27 for touchdowns for the Bulldogs. Georgia also registered a 40-yard field goal from kicker Rodrigo Blankenship and a 6-yard touchdown run by tailback Brian Herrien.

Blankenship went 9-for-9 on extra points.

The Bulldog offense did not send punter Jake Camarda to the field (except to hold on placement kicks); all but two possessions resulted in points, due to a fumbled punt return and the end of regulation. Georgia played to the third down only six times. Sixth-six points marked the most for Georgia (10-1) since its 70 against Northeast Louisiana in 1994.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"I'm proud of the guys. We challenged them to play hard, to start fast, to play fast and not mosey around. We got things rolling and did some big things. I was really proud of the focus. We've gotten a little better offensively and we'll keep working on it. We need to get the playmakers the ball and peak at the right time. We out-manned those guys. They played hard and competed, but we know it won't be that way the rest of the season."

Freshman Justin Fields played extensively against UMass, passing for 121 yards and becoming the first UGA quarterback since 1999 to surpass 100 yards rushing.

• Georgia, the SEC's rushing leader averaging 240.7 yards a game, tallied 426, including 168 in the first quarter. Freshman QB Justin Fields led the team with 100 yards on seven carries including a TD.

• Senior C Lamont Gaillard started his team-leading 39th straight game. Senior DB Deandre Baker now has 32, including a streak of 14, with junior DB J.R. Reed the most consecutive on defense with 26. Redshirt freshman Eric Stokes made his first career start at LC. True freshman Trey Hill got his first career start at RG.

No. 5 Georgia 45, Georgia Tech 21

Nov. 24, 2018 • Sanford Stadium • Athens, Ga.

ATHENS, Ga. - Georgia kept the Governor's Cup in Athens for the second consecutive season with its 45-21 victory over Georgia Tech. The win marked a perfect record at home for the Bulldogs with an 11-1 regular-season record in back-to-back years.

Quarterback Jake Fromm began the game with seven straight completions. He finished the game 13-for-16 with 175 yards and a career-high four touchdowns. Sophomore tailback D'Andre Swift registered his fourth 100-yard rushing contest of the season with 105, complete with a touchdown.

Junior wide receiver Riley Ridley finalized Georgia's first possession with a five-yard touchdown. After the first Georgia defensive stop, the Bulldogs used an 11-play, 88-yard march – featuring a 39-yard rush from junior Elijah Holyfield and receptions from tight ends senior Charlie Woerner and junior Isaac Nauta – to reach the 1-yard line, where Swift fought for the touchdown and the 14-0 margin.

After the Yellow Jackets' Juanyeh Thomas returned the first 100-yard kickoff return against the Bulldogs since 1999, Georgia's distanced itself with a 6-play, 63-yard drive, highlighted by Jayson Stanley's 26-yard rush. A 12-yard touchdown from Fromm to sophomore wide receiver Jeremiah Holloman gave the Bulldogs a 21-7 lead.

Georgia marched 40 yards between a 13-yard Swift rush and three-straight Nauta receptions to set up a Rodrigo Blankenship 25-yard field goal. Georgia headed into the half with a 38-7 advantage.

The Bulldogs opened the second half by forcing Tech to punt. Holyfield and Swift then combined to take Georgia to the 4-yard line, where Fromm found Ridley for final score of the day.

Georgia Tech had just one more meaningful possession of the second half. Trailing 45-7, the Jackets needed 15 plays and 9:05 to cover just 36 yards. The drive stalled at the Georgia 39, where they failed to convert on fourth down, their sixth such try of the day and third of the drive.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"The kids played hard and practiced hard. Our defensive coaching staff put a lot of effort in and it paid off. The look from the scouts all week was tremendous. They gave us a good picture and a lot of credit goes to those kids. ... It's an eyes football game. You've got to look at your keys the whole time and we did that... [The SEC Championship game] is where this program should be. It feels like a game we should be going to every year. Our guys will lay it on the line and they're excited about the opportunity. It will be a great atmosphere, one of the best in college football. It will be another game week for us. We'll prepare for our opponent and treat it like every other week."

Worth Noting…

• Georgia's 45-21 victory over Georgia Tech improves the Bulldogs' senior class to a 42-11 record which is tied for third with the 2004 class's 42-10 record. Georgia went a perfect 7-0 at home this year.

• For the fourth time in school history since a 12th-game was added to the season in 2002, Georgia has won at least 11 games in the regular season. Georgia has gone 11-1 during the regular season in 2002, 2012, 2017 and now 2018. In the series history with Tech, Georgia improves to 67-39-5 all-time and retains the Governor's Cup Trophy.

• Georgia scored touchdowns on its first five possessions and six out of its nine times with the ball and added a field goal during its 11thwin of the year. This comes after the Bulldogs scored touchdowns on all seven possessions in the first half last week versus Massachusetts and then scored on four of five drives during the second half against the Minutemen. Georgia's first punt came in the 4thquarter, a span of seven quarters dating back to the Auburn game after not punting last week against UMass.

• With one fumble against GT, Georgia is now +3 in turnover margin. The Bulldogs have forced 15 turnovers that have led to 51 points. Their opponents have forced 12 turnovers that have resulted in 30 points.

SEC Championship Game

ATLANTA — Three unanswered touchdowns from No. 1 Alabama lifted the Crimson Tide past No. 4 Georgia Bulldogs in a 35-28 decision in the 2018 SEC Championship Game at Mercedes-Benz Stadium in front of a nationally televised CBS audience.

The Crimson Tide threatened in their first drive of the game, reaching the Georgia six-yard line, but an 11-yard sack by D'Andre Walker followed by Richard LeCounte's first career interception kept the scoreboard clean. Three possessions later, Fromm connected with Nauta over the middle for a 20-yard score.

After Alabama knotted the score at 7-all, Georgia orchestrated a 13-play, 74-yard scoring drive that consumed 7:19 off the clock. This time Fromm went a perfect six-for-six including two third-down completions. Swift capped the drive with a 9-yard run to make it a 14-7 Georgia lead.

Next, Georgia's defense forced a three-and-out, giving the ball back to the offense and to Swift who proceeded to rack up 44 yards in a 51-yard touchdown drive. The Philadelphia native ended the drive with an 11-yard touchdown catch. On the drive, Swift became the 14th Bulldog all-time to eclipse the 1,000-yard rushing mark.

Coming out of the break, the Bulldogs' defense forced Alabama's third three-and-out and Fromm capitalized by dropping a 23-yard touchdown pass into Riley Ridley's hands for the 28-14 lead.

Later in the third quarter, Crimson Tide narrowed the gap to 28-21 on a 51-yard touchdown catch by receiver Jaylen Waddle. Then, with 5:19 left in regulation, Alabama constructed a 16-play game-tying drive with a 10-yard pass from Jalen Hurts to Jerry Jeudy as the equalizer.

The last and game-winning scoring drive occurred in the waning minutes when Hurts scrambled for 15-yards to give the Crimson Tide the 35-28 edge. Hurts went 7-of-9 passing for 82 yards after Tua Tagovailova left the game due to an injury. The SECCG MVP went to Crimson Tide running back Josh Jacobs who had 83 rushing yards and two touchdowns.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"It was a tremendous atmosphere. The SEC Championship Game, once again is one of the best games of the year. A lot of credit goes to Alabama, they outperformed us in the second half. The game had a lot of momentum swings - up and down, back and forth, which we knew it would. We have a lot of champions on this team and a lot of kids that have a heart of a lion like these two [Jonathan Ledbetter and Jake Fromm at the podium] right here, especially. They lead this team and care about this university and play really hard."

D'Andre Swift led the Bulldogs in rushing and receiving against Alabama, scoring touchdowns both ways.

• Georgia falls to 3-4 in SEC Championship Games. UA had beaten its previous 12 opponents by at least 20 or more points this year.

• Smart is 32-9 overall in his third season with back-to-back SEC Championship Game appearances. The Bulldogs are now 5-3 against top 10 teams under Kirby Smart.

• Sophomore quarterback Jake Fromm went 14-of-18 including 10 straight completions that tied a SECCG record for 139 passing yards for two touchdowns. He finished the day 25-for-39 for 301 yards with three touchdowns.Fromm's completions, TD passes and yards were the most by a Bulldog in an SEC Championship game.

• Sophomore D'Andre Swift went over a 1,000 yards for the season during a 20-yard run in the 2nd quarter and on that same drive he caught an 11-yard pass for a TD and a 21-7 lead. Swift became the 14th Bulldog to have a 1,000-yard season and the 20th overall time it has been done in a season.

KIRBY SMART

Head Football Coach

When Georgia looked for a new head football coach after the 2015 season, all arrows pointed to Kirby Smart, former Bulldog player and assistant coach, and longtime University of Alabama defensive coordinator. Three years later, the decision to bring Smart home has paid handsome rewards.

His impact, along with a stellar group of players who bought into the new system, has put Georgia in the national championship hunt the last two seasons. His 2018 season posted an 11-1 regular season, second straight SEC Eastern Division title, and ranking as high as number four in the College Football Playoff poll at the end of the regular season. Despite a narrow defeat in the SEC Championship Game, the 'Dawgs landed in the prestigious Allstate Sugar Bowl on Jan. 1, 2019—Georgia's tenth all-time appearance in the New Orleans classic. It also extended the Bulldogs' bowl-game streak to a record 22 straight years, second highest active streak in the country. For his efforts, Smart was named a semi-finalist in the Maxwell Club George Munger National Coach of the Year balloting and finalist in the Bobby Dodd Trophy coach of the year competition.

Smart's second season in 2017 was a special one, with an 11-1 regular-season record, a victory in the 2017 SEC championship game, defeat of Oklahoma in the Rose Bowl Game (College Football Playoff semifinal) and advancement into the College Football Playoff National Championship Game in the program's first appearance. In the SEC championship game, the 'Dawgs avenged their only regular-season loss with a 28-7 victory over Auburn. It was the first conference title since 2005 for the Red and Black.

Both Smart and his players reaped the bounty of their banner 2017 season. He was named George Munger National Coach of the Year by the Maxwell Football Club, SEC Coach of the Year by the Associated Press and SEC Coaches, and the Regional Coach of the Year by the AFCA. Roquan Smith earned first-team All-America honors and the Dick Butkus Award as the nation's top linebacker. Smith, Isaiah Wynn and Sony Michel were all taken in the first round of the 2018 NFL Draft, which also claimed seniors Nick Chubb, Lorenzo Carter and Javon Wims in subsequent rounds.

In Smart's first season leading the Bulldogs, Georgia made its 20th straight bowl appearance and posted four fourth-quarter comebacks, including wins over No. 8 Auburn and No. 22 North Carolina. He led the Bulldogs to an 8-5 final record, which included a victory over TCU in the AutoZone Liberty Bowl.

Smart has also made an immediate impact in recruiting circles by posting the nation's third-ranked class in 2017, followed by the 2018 class of signees that ranked first nationally by every authority. In addition to his coaching duties, Smart oversees the Kirby Smart Family Foundation, which is focused on being champions in the community by supporting needy children and families facing adversity.

Smart officially came home to Georgia on Dec. 6, 2015, but he had unfinished business at Alabama, which was still chasing a national title. He juggled two jobs for a month until Jan. 11, 2016, when the Crimson Tide won its fourth national championship in a 7-year span. Twelve hours later, he was at work in Athens, where he remains one of nine head coaches at schools from Power 5 conferences that are coaching at their alma mater.

Smart had served on the Alabama staff the previous nine years, the past seven as defensive coordinator. During his tenure at Alabama, the Crimson Tide won three BCS National Championships, one College Football Playoff national title, three SEC crowns, six SEC Western Division titles, and was ranked in the nation's final top 10 the last eight years in a row.

Smart was one of the nation's most respected defensive coordinators. During his time at Alabama, he coached players at three different positions, in addition to his coordinating duties. He was recognized as the 2012 AFCA Assistant Coach of the Year and the 2009 Broyles Award winner as college football's top assistant coach. He also was a finalist for the 2015 Broyles Award.

The 2015 Alabama defense ranked first nationally in rushing defense, third in total defense and third in scoring defense. His 2014 Alabama defense ranked fourth nationally against the run. The Crimson Tide ranked sixth nationally in scoring defense, while ranking 12th nationally in total defense. He helped junior safety Landon Collins earn unanimous First-Team All-America honors while being selected as a finalist for the Nagurski Trophy, Thorpe Award and Lott Trophy.

Smart built another elite Alabama defense in 2013 after losing six more players to the NFL. The Crimson Tide ranked fourth nationally in scoring defense, fifth in total defense, seventh in rushing defense and 11th in pass defense. Alabama was fourth nationally in red zone defense and fourth in fewest first downs allowed. He helped mold C.J. Mosley into the Butkus Award winner as the nation's top linebacker.

Smart retooled the Alabama defense in 2012, molding a unit that lost six starters to the NFL. The Tide led the nation in total defense, scoring defense and rush defense while ranking seventh in pass defense and pass efficiency defense. The Tide defense featured two First-Team All-Americans in cornerback Dee Milliner and linebacker Mosley.

Smart's rebuilding job in 2010 was impressive, as the Tide remained one of the nation's elite defensive units while replacing nine starters. Alabama led the SEC and ranked third nationally in scoring defense and fifth in total defense.

The 2009 season was a special one for Smart, as he not only helped lead Alabama to the national championship but also took home the Broyles Award as the top assistant coach in the country. The Alabama defense again was regarded as one of the nation's top units, leading the SEC and ranking second nationally in scoring defense pass efficiency defense, rush defense and total defense.

In the 2010 BCS National Championship game against Texas, the Tide recorded four interceptions and scored a defensive touchdown. Three players on Smart's defense earned First-Team All-America honors — linebacker Rolando McClain, cornerback Javier Arenas and nose guard Terrence Cody.

Prior to joining the Alabama staff in 2007, Smart spent the 2006 season as safeties coach with the NFL's Miami Dolphins. He served six years on the collegiate level as the running backs coach at Georgia (2005), defensive backs coach at LSU (2004), graduate assistant at Florida State (2002-03), defensive coordinator/linebackers coach (2001) and defensive backs coach (2000) at Valdosta State, and administrative assistant at Georgia (1999).

Smart was the running backs coach for Georgia's 2005 SEC Championship team. His unit averaged 162.2 rushing yards per game, third in the SEC. He coached Thomas Brown, Danny Ware and Kregg Lumpkin — all future NFL players. In 2004 at LSU, he tutored two NFL draft picks: Corey Webster (second round, New York Giants) and Travis Daniels (fourth round, Miami).

As a player, Smart was a four-year letterman at defensive back for Georgia, where he was a First-Team All-SEC pick as a senior. He finished his career with 13 interceptions, a mark that still ranks sixth in UGA annals, and paced the Bulldogs with six interceptions in 1997 and five in 1998. He led the SEC in interceptions during his final season. Smart also scored two points as a collegian. He was the first player in UGA history — and one of just two Bulldogs since the rule was introduced in 1988 — to return a blocked PAT for two points, having brought one back 88 yards against New Mexico State in his freshman year of 1995.

A four-time member of the SEC Academic Honor Roll, Smart received his bachelor's degree in Finance from Georgia in 1998 and his master's in Physical Education from Florida State in 2003.

The Bainbridge, Ga., native is married to the former Mary Beth Lycett of McDonough, Ga., a 4-year letterwinner and 2-year starter, on the Georgia women's basketball team from 2000-03. The couple met long after their undergraduate days at Georgia, when Lycett — then working in the UGA Athletic Association Business Office — helped arrange Smart's trip to interview for the Bulldogs' running backs coaching job in 2005. They are the proud parents of twins Weston and Julia (born Feb. 8, 2008) and son Andrew (born May 25, 2012).

Smart still ranks sixth in UGA history in career interceptions with 13. He was a first-team All-SEC choice as a senior in 1998, when he led the league with five interceptions. Smart had six interceptions in his junior season of 1997.

Jim Chaney

Offensive Coordinator -- Tight Ends

Jim Chaney was named offensive coordinator and tight ends coach at UGA in March of 2018 after two seasons coordinating the Bulldog offense and coaching quarterbacks.

In Chaney's third season at Georgia, the Bulldog offense has ranked among the leaders nationally in several categories and is on pace to set a school record for per-game scoring average.

A 33-year coaching veteran in the Southeastern Conference, Big Ten, ACC, and the NFL, Chaney served the 2015 season at Pitt after a two-year tenure at Arkansas (2013-14). He has also served as offensive coordinator at Tennessee (2009-12), Purdue (1997-2005), and Cal State Fullerton (1988-92).

Chaney also spent three years in the NFL with the St. Louis Rams (2006-08) working with the offensive line for two seasons and the tight ends for one. Steven Jackson was a 1,000-yard rusher in each of Chaney's three seasons in St. Louis. At Purdue, he coached quarterback Drew Brees, who later led the New Orleans Saints to a Super Bowl title in 2010. Brees led the nation in total offense in 2000 (358.1 yards per game) and was selected the winner of the prestigious Maxwell Award as the college player of the year.

Chaney was an instrumental figure in Arkansas achieving its first winning campaign since 2011 during the 2014 season. The Razorbacks averaged 406 yards and 31.9 points per game, capping the season with a 31-7 rout of Texas in the Texas Bowl. Chaney's offense produced two 1,000-yard rushers and a 2,000-yard passer.

In 2013, Chaney's offense featured underclassmen starters at five positions. Despite that youth, Arkansas averaged 5.28 yards per rush--the fourth highest season average in school history. Center Travis Swanson was a first team All-American, while running back Alex Collins was a 1,000-yard rusher and the SEC Freshman of the Year.

The Volunteers in 2012 ranked among the nation's most productive offenses, finishing 15th in passing yards, 18th in total offense and 22nd in scoring. That same year, UT quarterback Tyler Bray threw for 3,612 yards and 34 touchdowns, both career bests. Chaney also served as Tennessee's interim head coach for the 2012 season finale, a 37-17 win over Kentucky.

Chaney is a 1985 graduate of Central Missouri State. He and his wife Lisa have two daughters, Elizabeth and Sara.

Mel Tucker

Fain and Billy Slaughter Defensive Coordinator -- Defensive Backs

Note: Mel Tucker was announced as head football coach at the University of Colorado on Dec. 6, 2018.

Mel Tucker, assistant head coach and defensive backs coach at the University of Alabama and former NFL defensive coordinator, was named UGA defensive coordinator and secondary coach on January 12, 2016.

Tucker was part of a 2017 staff that led the Bulldogs to a record-tying 13 victories, first SEC championship since 2005, first appearance in the College Football Playoff, first appearance (and victory over Oklahoma) in the Rose Bowl CFP semifinal, and first appearance in the College Football Playoff Championship Game. Georgia's defense finished second in the SEC and 6th nationally in Scoring Defense, 2nd in the SEC and 6th nationally in Total Defense and 2nd in the SEC in Rushing Defense.

Tucker joined the Crimson Tide staff in January, 2015, after serving seven years as an NFL defensive coordinator: two with the Chicago Bears (2013-14), four with the Jacksonville Jaguars (2009-12), and one with the Cleveland Browns (2008). The Jags ranked sixth in the league in total defense in 2011, allowing just 313.0 yards per game. Tucker was Jacksonville's interim head coach for the final five games of that season. He earned the additional title of assistant head coach with the Jaguars in 2012.

Tucker was also on the Browns staff from 2005-07 as defensive backs coach before taking over as defensive coordinator in 2008. In that season, the Browns were second in the NFL with 23 interceptions and ranked 16th in scoring defense (21.9 points per game).

Tucker joined Nick Saban's staff at Michigan State as a graduate assistant in 1997. After two years there, he went to work as a defensive backs coach at Miami (Ohio) for one season in 1999. In 2000, Tucker returned to work with Saban at LSU for one season before going to Ohio State for a four-year stint (2001-04). The Buckeyes went 14-0 in 2002 and won the BCS National Championship. Tucker was elevated to co-defensive coordinator in 2004.

Tucker attended Cleveland Heights High School in Ohio, where he was a football standout and earned a scholarship to Wisconsin. He was a four-year letterman at defensive back for the Badgers (1992-95).

Tucker's wife, Jo-Ellyn, earned her undergraduate degree at Illinois and her law degree from Rutgers. The couple has two sons: Joseph (15) and Christian (13).

James Coley

Co-Offensive Coordinator — Quarterbacks

James Coley, former offensive coordinator at Miami and Florida State, was named wide receivers coach at UGA on January 3, 2015.

Coley's first two years of coaching the Bulldog receivers have produced Isaiah McKenzie, fifth-round selection by Denver in the 2017 NFL Draft, and one of the Bulldogs' most improved players this season in senior Javon Wims.

Prior to joining the Miami staff, he was offensive coordinator and tight ends coach at Florida State from 2010-12 and tight ends coach and recruiting coordinator at FSU in 2008 and 2009.

A native of Miami, Coley served as an offensive assistant with the Miami Dolphins in 2005-06. His coaching resume also included a stop at 2003 national champion LSU where he served as a graduate assistant coach.

His experience also includes assistant positions at Miami (Fla.) Norland High School where he was assistant head coach and offensive coordinator (2000-02) and Miami (Fla.) Senior High School serving as quarterbacks coach.

He has coached numerous NFL receivers during his career. At Miami Norland he coached NFL first-round picks Andre Johnson and Dwayne Bowe and second-round pick Roscoe Parrish; at FSU he mentored draft picks Kelvin Benjamin and Rashad Greene; at Miami he coached first-round picks Phillip Dorsett and Allen Hurns; and with the Dolphins he coached Wes Welker.

Coley earned his bachelor's degree from Florida State in 1997 and his master's degree from LSU in 2004. He and his wife Kenia have two children, Madison and Brady.

Scott Fountain

Special Teams Coordinator

Scott Fountain, a native of East Brewton, Ala., is completing his first season as an on-field assistant after serving as a special teams analyst for the 2017 season, and also for a brief time in the offseason as special teams coordinator at Mississippi State.

Fountain played a key role in an outstanding season for Georgia's special teams in 2017. Mecole Hardman ranked 8th and 21st nationally in punt and kickoff returns, respectively. Georgia's coverage teams also held opponents to 5.9 yards per punt return and 19.5 yards per kick return.

Additionally, placekicker Rodrigo Blankenship made 20 of his 23 field goal attempts this season, including two kicks over 50 yards in the College Football Playoffs. He made all 63 of his PAT attempts, kicked 67 touchbacks (a Georgia season record and No. 3 nationally) and was named a semifinalist for the Lou Groza Award. Punter Cameron Nizialek averaged 45 yards per punt (9th nationally) and was named a semifinalist for the Ray Guy Award.

Before joining Georgia's staff, Fountain had spent the previous eight years assisting the football program at Auburn, the first four as the Tigers' player personnel director and the latter four as an on-field assistant, coordinating special teams and coaching tight ends. From 2014-16, Fountain coached kicker Daniel Carlson, a three-time Lou Groza Award finalist.

Fountain, a part of three SEC championship teams, led Auburn's administrative and recruiting efforts from 2009-12. He followed Gene Chizik to Auburn after spending two seasons (2007-08) on Chizik's staff at Iowa State as tight ends coach and recruiting coordinator.

Fountain earned a bachelor's degree in physical education from Samford in 1988 and a master's degree in educational leadership from Florida State in 1998. He is married to the former Rosie Hidalgo and the couple has four sons: Brookes, Hunter, Tanner and Skyler.

Cortez Hankton

Assistant Coach — Wide Receivers

Former NFL wide receiver Cortez Hankton joined the Georgia coaching staff in February, 2018, after serving three years coaching wide receivers at Vanderbilt.

During his three seasons at Vandy, Hankton coached veteran receivers C.J. Duncan and Trent Sherfield, Caleb Scott and Kalija Lipscomb. In 2016 this foursome combined for 129 catches and 1,715 yards. In 2017, Duncan and Sherfield combined for 102 catches, 1,246 yards and 10 TDs.

Prior to his tenure at Vanderbilt, Hankton coached receivers for three seasons at Dartmouth in the Ivy League (2012-14).

Hankton was signed as an undrafted rookie free agent in April, 2003, by the Jacksonville Jaguars. He played in all 16 games as a rookie, catching 17 passes for 166 yards. In his four years with the Jaguars, he caught 34 passes for 310 yards and a pair of touchdowns. Hankton signed with the Minnesota Vikings in 2007 and spent the entire 2008 season on injured reserve with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

Hankton earned his bachelor's degree in business administration from Texas Southern in 2002, where he set school season and career records for receiving yards. A four-year starter and two-year captain, he was Texas Southern's team MVP and an All-SWAC honoree as a junior and senior.

A native of New Orleans, Hankton is the son of Cortez Sr. and Sherome Hankton, both officers in the city's police department. Hankton was a standout athlete and at St. Augustine High School in New Orleans.

Hankton and his wife, the former Shon Holder, were married in July, 2014. They are the parents of Cortez "Trip" Hankton III.

Dan Lanning

Assistant Coach — Outside Linebackers

Dan Lanning was named assistant coach at the University of Georgia in January, 2018, after serving two years as inside linebacker coach and recruiting coordinator at the University of Memphis.

Lanning joined the Memphis staff in 2016 after spending the 2015 season at Alabama as a graduate assistant coach with the outside linebackers. Prior to Alabama, Lanning held positions at Pittsburgh (2011), Arizona State (2012-13) and Sam Houston State (2014).

At Memphis he was part of a staff that led the Tigers to their third 10-win season in school history and finished in the top five in the country in turnovers gained two years in a row. On that team, Lanning coached two-time first-team All-American Athletic Conference linebacker Genard Avery.

Lanning began molding his defensive philosophy with his coaching start at Park Hill South High School in Riverside, Mo., from 2008-10. In his three seasons there, he served as an assistant coach with emphases on special teams, defensive backs and wide receivers.

Lanning began his collegiate coaching career as a grad assistant on the Pitt staff of head coach Todd Graham. In his role, Lanning worked with the defensive backs coach and as a lead recruiter for several northeastern states.

A Richmond, Mo., native, Lanning played linebacker at William Jewell College, located in Liberty, Mo. He earned two Bachelor of Science degrees in physical education and secondary education in 2008. Two years later, Lanning completed coursework for his master's degree in secondary administration from William Woods University in Fulton, Mo.

Lanning and his wife, Sauphia, have three sons: Caden, Kniles and Titan.

Dell McGee

Assistant Head Coach — Running Backs

Dell McGee was named Assistant Head Coach in March of 2018 after two seasons as an assistant coach, overseeing running backs.

McGee was part of a 2017 staff that led the Bulldogs to a record-tying 13 victories, an SEC championship, and first appearance in the College Football Playoff. Georgia's offense finished first in the SEC (9th nationally) in Rushing Offense, 3rd in Scoring Offense, 5th in Total Offense, and 2nd (4th nationally) in Red Zone Offense.

The 2017-18 campaign was a banner year for McGee. His two star pupils, Nick Chubb and Sony Michel, finished as the Nos. 2 & 3 career rushers in UGA history, amassing over 8,400 yards and 87 touchdowns between them. Additionally, Rivals.com named McGee the 2018 National Recruiter of the Year after the Bulldogs signed the consensus No. 1-rated recruiting class.

Just 10 days before he came to UGA, McGee had led Georgia Southern to victory in its first-ever bowl game (GoDaddy Bowl) as interim head coach.

He served as running backs coach at GSU the previous two seasons, during both of which the Eagles led the nation in rushing offense—384 yards per game in 2014 and 363 yards per game in 2015.

McGee developed Carver-Columbus High School into a perennial powerhouse. The Tigers rattled off seven straight seasons with 10 or more wins, including a perfect 15-0 season en route to the Georgia state title.

McGee was a two-year starter and four-year letterwinner at Auburn from 1992-95, helping preserve the Tigers' undefeated 1993 season with a critical interception against Alabama.

McGee and his wife Linda have a son, Austin.

Sam Pittman

Assistant Coach — Offensive Line

Sam Pittman was named offensive line coach at UGA on Dec. 12, 2015, after serving three years at Arkansas as offensive line coach, associate head coach and recruiting coordinator.

Pittman was part of a 2017 staff that led the Bulldogs to a record-tying 13 victories, an SEC championship, and the school's first appearance in the College Football Playoff. Georgia's offense finished first in the SEC and 9th nationally in Rushing Offense (258.4 ypg), 3rd in the SEC in Scoring Offense (35.4 ppg), 5th in Total Offense (435.3 ypg), and 4th nationally in Red Zone Offense (0.964).

Pittman is widely regarded among the nation's best offensive line coaches and recruiters. Since 2013, nine offensive linemen coached by Pittman have been drafted, including three first-rounders. Two of his charges in 2017 — senior Isaiah Wynn and freshman Andrew Thomas — earned All-America and All-SEC honors.

From 2012-15, a Pittman-coached offensive line led the SEC in fewest sacks allowed—three years at Arkansas and one at Tennessee. Arkansas allowed only 1.00 sacks per game in 2015, 1.08 in 2014, and 0.67 in 2013. In 2012, Pittman coached the Tennessee offensive line that led the SEC with just 0.67 sacks allowed per game.

Pittman has also served as associate head coach and OL coach at North Carolina (2007-11), and OL coach at Northern Illinois (2003-06).

Pittman played at Pittsburg State, where he was a first-team NAIA All-American and twice earned all-conference recognition. He graduated with a bachelor's degree in 1986 and was inducted into the PSU Athletics Hall of Fame in 1998. He is married to his wife, Jamie.

Glenn Schumann

Assistant Coach — Inside Linebackers

Glenn Schumann was named inside linebackers coach at Georgia on Dec. 12, 2015, after serving two years as Director of Player Development and Associate Director of Personnel at Alabama.

Schumann was part of a 2017 staff that led the Bulldogs to a record-tying 13 victories, an SEC championship, and the school's first appearance in the College Football Playoff. Georgia's defense finished second in the SEC and 6th nationally in Scoring Defense (16.4 ppg), 2nd in the SEC and 6th nationally in Total Defense (294.9 ypg), and 2nd in the SEC in Rushing Defense.

Schumann's star pupil over his first two years was Roquan Smith, the Bulldogs' leading tackler who capped his junior season by winning the Butkus Award as the nation's top linebacker, in addition to being named SEC Defensive Player of the Year.

Schumann spent eight years with the Crimson Tide, first as an undergraduate analyst (2008-Dec. 2011) and then as a graduate assistant (Dec. 2011-Feb. 2014). He was named Director of Player Development and Associate Director of Player Personnel in Feb., 2014.

Born in Valdosta, Schumann graduated from McKinney Boyd High School in McKinney, Texas, where he lettered in both football and basketball. He earned his B.A. degree from Alabama in 2011 and his M.S. in sports management UA in December, 2013. He and his wife Lauren were married in the summer of 2015.

Tray Scott

Assistant Coach — Defensive Line

Tray Scott was named defensive line coach at Georgia in February of 2017 after two seasons in a similar capacity at the University of North Carolina.

Scott was part of a 2017 staff that led the Bulldogs to a record-tying 13 victories, an SEC championship, and the school's first appearance in the College Football Playoff. Georgia's defense finished second in the SEC and 6th nationally in Scoring Defense (16.4 ppg), 2nd in the SEC and 6th nationally in Total Defense (294.9 ypg), and 2nd in the SEC in Rushing Defense.

In his two campaigns in Chapel Hill, Scott helped UNC reach back-to-back bowl games and the 2015 ACC Championship Game. Scott's 2016 unit was especially effective in the Red Zone, ranking 35th nationally allowing opponents to score only 79.6 percent of the time.

Scott's top player during his tenure at UNC was Nazair Jones, an All-ACC tackle who had 70 stops, 9.5 for lost yardage and 2.5 QB sacks as a junior in 2016. Jones was a third-round selection by the Seattle Seahawks in the 2017 NFL Draft.

Prior to moving to North Carolina, Scott served two years (2013-14) as defensive line coach at UT Martin, an FCS team in the Ohio Valley Conference. He also held positions as defensive line graduate assistant at Ole Miss (2012), assistant coach at Arkansas State (2010-11). Scott was also a graduate assistant coach at his alma mater, Arkansas Tech, from the fall of 2008 until the spring of 2010.

Scott earned his bachelor's degree in sociology from Arkansas Tech in 2008. He also received his Master's degree from Arkansas Tech in 2010. He is married to the former Sarah Fancher and the couple has a son, Julian Thomas Scott, born on May 22, 2017.

Scott Sinclair

Director of Strength & Condtioning

Scott Sinclair was named Director of Strength and Conditioning on January 6, 2015, after serving two years in the same position at Marshall.

Sinclair joined the Marshall program in January, 2013, after nine years as an associate director of strength and conditioning at the University of Central Florida (UCF), where he worked with the football program along with baseball and track & field. He was directly responsible for the football speed and agility programs in addition to the program's administrative duties.

In 2012, he was awarded the highest honor in his field when he was certified as a master strength and conditioning coach (MSCC) at the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association's national conference.

Prior to UCF, he served as an assistant strength and conditioning coach at Georgia Tech from 2001-03. While with the Yellow Jackets, he worked as the assistant director of player development for the Yellow Jackets' football squad. From 1999-2001, he worked in the Wake Forest strength and conditioning department.

A native of Rockingham, N.C., he earned his bachelor's degree in sports medicine from Guilford College in 1999. Sinclair, a member of the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association, received a master's degree in physical education from UCF in 2006. Sinclair and his wife, Farrah, have one son, Creed, and one daughter, Asher.

Sinkwich Leads Bulldogs Past TCU In 1942 Orange Bowl

Georgia All-American quarterback Frankie Sinkwich, playing with an oversized chin mask to protect a broken jaw, put on an offensive display still considered by many as the greatest in any bowl game, as he led his Bulldogs to a 40-26 win over Texas Christian before 35,786 fans in the 1942 Orange Bowl game (a record crowd in '42).

Sinkwich passed for touchdowns of 61, 60 and 15 yards and raced 43 yards on a QB draw for another score. He completed nine of 13 passes for 243 yards and rushed for 139 yards for a total offensive gain of 382 yards.

Georgia scored first as Ken Keuper rushed two yards over the goal line to give the Dogs the early 6-0 lead. TCU tied the game less than four minutes later after a Lamar Davis fumble led to a Horned Frog score from the four yard line. TCU kicked the point after and led 7-6. Georgia answered soon after the score on a 60-yard pass play from Sinkwich to Melvin Conger, giving the Bulldogs a 12-7 lead they would never relinquish.

When the Dogs left the field at halftime the score stood 33-7, prompting head coach Wally Butts to proclaim it the greatest offensive performance he ever saw by a UGA team. He also believed the Georgia squad, at the end of the 1941 season, was the most powerful he coached.

The lead was 40-7 in the third quarter before TCU mounted a late three-touchdown effort. Bruce Alford caught two passes for scores from Emory Nix and Frink Kring scored on a 53-yard play from Kyle Gillespie for the 40-26 final.

The 1942 Orange Bowl was played less than a month after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor and was a record-setting event. Sinkwich set five individual Orange Bowl records in the win for combined rushing and passing yards (382), touchdown passes (3), points scored (24), yards gained on touchdown pass plays (136) and yards gained on all touchdown plays (179). Georgia's four touchdown passes set a bowl team record, as well as the Dogs' four interceptions. The combined seven touchdowns for Georgia and TCU also set a new Orange Bowl mark.

Trippi Gets Helms Award In 1943 Rose Bowl

With All-American Frankie Sinkwich hobbling on two sprained ankles, his young sophomore understudy — Charley Trippi — paced Georgia to a 9-0 victory over UCLA before 90,000 in the 1943 Rose Bowl at Pasadena.

Trippi rushed 27 times for a net gain of 115 yards and received the Helms Award as the game's outstanding player.

Recently the Rose Bowl named its all-time first team and put Trippi at left halfback.

Tackle Red Boyd blocked a Bob Waterfield punt, which rolled out of the end zone for a safety to give Georgia two points in the last quarter. A few minutes later center Clyde Ehrhardt intercepted a Waterfield pass and returned to the UCLA 25. Sinkwich finally scored from the one and Leo Costa converted.

Charley Trippi was at his best as Georgia defeated Tulsa, 20-6, in the Oil Bowl at Houston before 27,000 on Jan. 1, 1946.

He passed 64 yards to John Donaldson for Georgia's second TD and returned a punt 68 yards for the final Bulldog tally in the fourth quarter — a run still considered by many as the greatest punt return of all time. He completely reversed his field and ran over two Tulsa tacklers who had him trapped near a sideline.

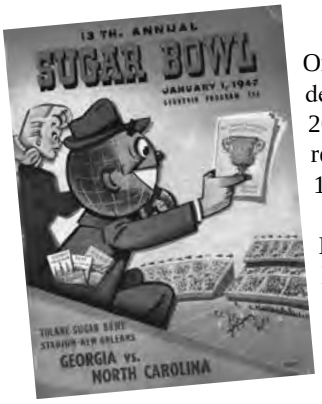
Trippi Closes Great Career In '47 Sugar Bowl Playing Entire 60 Minutes



On a chilly and rainy day in New Orleans, Georgia battled back from two deficits to knock off North Carolina, 20-10, in front of 75,000 in the 13th renewal of the Sugar Bowl on Jan. 1, 1947.

Charley Trippi led the way for the Bulldogs, playing all 60 minutes in his last game wearing the red and black. His 67-yard touchdown pass in the third quarter to Dan Edwards gave the Dogs a 13-10 lead that the club would not relinquish.

The win was Georgia's 16th consecutive victory and gave the Bulldogs a perfect season (11-0) for just the second time in school history.

Dan Edwards

The scoring started when North Carolina's Walt Pupa ran 25 yards in the second quarter for the first lead of the game. Kicker Bob Cox added the extra point for a 7-0 lead.

Georgia was held scoreless into halftime, but Johnny Rauch plunged into the endzone from one yard out in the third quarter and was followed by George Jernigan's extra point for a 7-7 tie.

Cox gave the Tar Heels the lead later in the third quarter with an 18-yard field goal, but the play of the day, Trippi's 67-yarder to Edwards, answered the Tar Heel score and Georgia never looked back.

Rauch, Geri Shine In 1948 Gator Bowl

Joe Geri

Georgia's All-America quarterback Johnny Rauch had one of the best days of his career in Jacksonville, completing 12 of 17 passes for 183 yards. Captain Dan Edwards caught five passes and Joe Geri averaged 43.5 yards on seven punts.

The game remained scoreless after one quarter of play, but Maryland's Lu Gambino ran 35 yards for the first score of the game. The Terps held that 7-0 lead into halftime.

Georgia took the opening drive of the second half 87 yards, capped by Rauch's 1-yards plunge into the end-zone. Maryland answered with an 80-yard drive of its own and took the lead again on Gambino's second TD of the day. Later in the third, Georgia drove to its own 40 yard line but fumbled away possession. Three plays later the Terps were leading 20-7.

The fourth quarter was all Georgia, as the Bulldogs scored once on a Geri four-yard run and again on a nine-yard pass from Rauch to John Donaldson. The extra point was no good after Geri's TD and time ran out on a tied ball game with Georgia knocking on the door for another score.

Rauch Spectacular In 1949 Orange Bowl

Johnny Rauch, who directed Georgia to four straight bowl games, stood out in defeat as the Bulldogs finally lost their first post-season game, 41-28, to Texas in the 1949 Orange Bowl at Miami before a then-record crowd of 60,523. Rauch completed 11 of 17 passes for 161 yards.

A&M Zips Past Georgia In 1950 Presidential Cup Tilt

Georgia lost its seventh visit to a post-season affair, 40-20, to Texas A&M in the first and only Presidential Cup game at College Park, Md., before 12,245 fans on Dec. 9, 1950.

Georgia's Zippy Morocco, who later was to set the all-time SEC basketball scoring record, scored two touchdowns on brilliant runs, the first coming on a 65-yard punt return and the other a 23-yard rush.

A&M jumped out early and never looked back, scoring 40 unanswered points through three quarters of play. Before two minutes had been played in the opening quarter, the score was 13-0 after Bob Smith took the opening kickoff 100 yards and Glenn Lippman scored from five yards out after a Bulldog fumble. Another 81-yard TD rush by Smith in the first quarter buried the Bulldogs.

Morocco scored on a two-yard run in the third and a 65-yard punt return in the fourth to get the Dogs on the board. Lauren Hargrove added the last score of the day on a one-yard rush to make the final 40-20.

Tarkenton's TD Passes Key 1960 Orange Bowl Win

Francis Tarkenton directed two excellent scoring drives of 62 and 71 yards in Georgia's 14-0 victory over Missouri in the 1960 Orange Bowl before 75,280.

Late in the first quarter Tarkenton anticipated a quick kick to set up the first score. He returned it 17 yards to the M 38. On third down and nine he passed to Fred Brown for 12 to the M 25. On third and 14 he fired to Bill McKenny, rookie RHB from Jacksonville, for 29 yards and the TD, Durward Pennington's PAT made it 7-0.

Ridlehuber Rips Raiders In 1964 Sun Bowl

The 7-0 conquest of Texas Tech in the Sun Bowl at El Paso Dec. 26, 1964, before 28,500 may have been the Bulldogs' best game of a glorious ''Cinderella'' season.

The defense held the Red Raiders' vaunted offense, which led the Southwest Conference with almost 300 yards per game, to only 128 yards (32 rushing and 96 passing). And, the offensive troops rolled up 329 yards (245 rushing and 84 passing), their second best performance of the season.

Preston Ridlehuber had by far the most productive day of his Georgia varsity career and clearly deserved the trophy awarded him as the game's outstanding performer. Preston ran 19 times for 87 yards, completed 4x5 passes for 77 yards, giving him a total of 164 yards.

Kent Lawrence Sets Cotton Bowl Record As Bulldogs Win Big over SMU

Kent Lawrence

Georgia magnificently upheld the honor of the SEC with its decisive 24-9 victory over Southern Methodist University, Southwest Conference champ, Dec. 31, 1966, in Dallas' Cotton Bowl before 75,504.

Kent Lawrence established a Bulldog bowl-game rushing record vs. the Mustangs. His 149 yards in 16 carries erased the old Georgia bowl-game mark of 139 yards in 22 rushes by Frank Sinkwich vs. TCU in the 1942 Orange Bowl.

Lawrence's 74-yard TD rush on the game's third play also was the longest scoring play in Bulldog bowl annals. He was voted the game's outstanding player.

Bob Etter's 28-yard FG put Georgia out front 10-3 at the quarter. Steve Neuhaus set up another score with an interception at the SMU 33. Kirby Moore hit Billy Payne on a 20-yard scoring pass and Etter made it 17-3.

There was only one score in the last half. The Bulldogs drove 59 yards to goal early in the fourth quarter with Ronnie Jenkins carrying nine of the 12 rushes. Jenkins scored from the one. Etter made it 24-9.

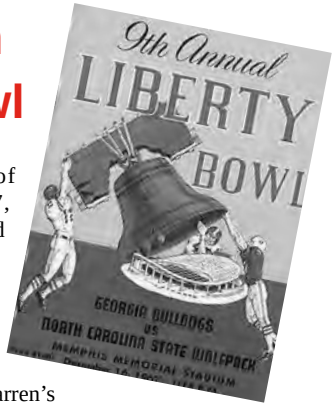
N.C. State Rallies Past Georgia In 1967 Liberty Bowl



A record Liberty Bowl crowd of 35,045 at Memphis Dec. 16, 1967, saw N.C. State, led by former Bulldog head coach Jim Donnan, trim Georgia, 14-7.

The Wolfpack cashed in their scoring opportunities, drawing first blood in the second quarter on a 65-yard drive—aided by a timely 15-yard penalty —that saw Donnan pass 6 yards to Martell for a TD. Warren's PAT made it 7-0.

Georgia retaliated with a fine 68-yard scoring drive, Lawrence starting things off with a 42-yard kickoff return. Kirby Moore hit on four passes, three to Dennis Hughes and one to Billy Payne. Ronnie Jenkins scored from the one and Jim McCullough's PAT knotted the count at 7-7 midway the second quarter.

State went ahead early in the fourth quarter, driving 73 yards with Barchuk scoring from the one. Warren's PAT was good.

Georgia again fought back and mounted a great 98-yard drive that ended with Lawrence failing to score by inches after taking a pitchout from Moore at the N.C. State 3 and sprinting to the 1. Lawrence was voted the game's most valuable offensive back, while Edgar Chandler was the most valuable offensive lineman.

Georgia Upset by Arkansas Razorbacks In 1969 Sugar Bowl

A huge Sugar Bowl crowd of 82,113 saw Arkansas, champion of the Southwest Conference, upset Georgia, champion of the Southeastern Conference, 16-2, on Jan. 1, 1969.

The Bulldogs had the ball six times in the first quarter but lost possession three times on fumbles and once on a pass interception. But the Georgia defense played well and the quarter ended scoreless.

The Razorbacks moved 65 yards for a TD early in the second quarter, scoring on a 27-yard pass, Montgomery-Dicus. White's PAT made it 7-0.

Midway the second quarter David McKnight tossed Burnett for a six-yard loss and a safety to make it 7-2, but a Bulldog fumble a few plays later gave Arkansas position for a 34-yard field goal by White which made it 10-2 at halftime.

Georgia ''blew'' a good chance early in the third quarter after recovering an Arkansas fumble on the kickoff. Brad Johnson fumbled on the goal line on third down, and the ball went out of the end zone.

A fumble and pass interception in the fourth quarter put Arkansas in position for two more field goals by White (24 and 31 yards).

Nebraska Too Much for Dogs In 1969 Sun Bowl

Nebraska turned out to be every bit as good as advertised.

''They were the best team we played all season,'' said Captain Steve Greer following the Cornhuskers' 45-6 victory before a sun-baked Sun Bowl crowd of 31,176 in El Paso Dec. 20.

The Cornhuskers took advantage of a strong wind to kick four field goals in the exceptionally-long first quarter (scoreboard clock broke and officials admitted afterwards that the first quarter was too long).

Trailing 18-0 after the first quarter, Georgia fought back to hold the big and fast Big Eight co-champions scoreless in the second quarter. But the Nebraskans took advantage of six pass interceptions and two fumble recoveries to run up the score, 14 points in the third quarter and 13 in the fourth.

Paul Gilbert directed Georgia's lone TD in the fourth quarter. He completed passes of 16 yards to Charley Whittemore, 11 to Dennis Hughes, then scored himself from the six. Jim McCullough's PAT kick was wide.

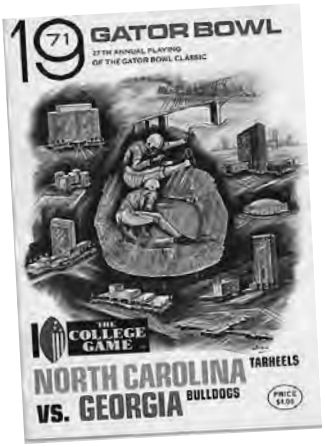
Poulos Superb in 1971 Gator Bowl



Georgia played perhaps its finest defensive game of the season to beat North Carolina 7-3 in the Gator Bowl, Dec. 31, 1971, before 71,208.

The Bulldogs held the Tar Heels to only 181 yards total offense (115 rushing and 66 passing).

Dennis Watson was the defensive hero, making tackles time and time again. He made three straight tackles during one stretch.

Offensively, the Bulldogs gained a lot of ground (322 yards) but were sporadic, particularly in the first half. But, following the Tar Heels' lone scoring drive of the game which resulted in a 35-yard FG by Craven, the Bulldogs finally mounted a beautiful 80-yard march that settled the issue.

The scintillating sophomores, Jimmy Poulos and Andy Johnson, ran the ball from Georgia's 20 to the G 43. Then Johnson hit split end Lynn Hunnicutt on a great 32-yard play to the NC 25. On the next snap, Poulos broke around left end down the sidelines to score, side-stepping the safety. Braswell made it 7-3.

The nation's TV audience once again was thrilled by the exploits of Poulos, the Greek Streak, who set a Georgia bowl rushing record in the Gator Bowl. He netted 161 yards on 20 carries to better the old Bulldog bowl mark of 149 yards on 16 rushes by Kent Lawrence against SMU in the 1966 Cotton Bowl.

Tough Terps Trimmed in 1973 Peach Bowl

Hats off to the Bulldogs for their thrilling 17-16 triumph over the Terrapins in the 1973 Peach Bowl Dec. 28 before 38,017 in Atlanta Fulton County Stadium.

Early in the second quarter, thanks to runs by Horace King and Andy Johnson, Georgia reached the Maryland 17 but was stopped. Johnson hit Jimmy Poulos on a screen and the Greek Streak went 62 yards for a score in one of the finest runs ever made by a Georgia back. Two plays later Maryland's Carter and White hooked up on a 68-yard haymaker and Mick-Mayer's PAT tied it 7-7.

Later Mike-Mayer put Maryland out front 10-7 on a 36-yard FG. Then the Bulldogs roared back with one of their best drives of the season. Captain Bobby Burns ripped up the middle for 21. Johnson hit King for 30, then ran 12 after faking a pass to the UM 9. With the clock running out, the Bulldogs had to settle for a 26-yard FG by Leavitt to make it 10-10 at halftime.

Tremendous defensive play set up Georgia's go-ahead TD late in the third quarter. Following Golden's 43-yard punt to Smith, tackled in his tracks at the UM 11 by Glynn Harrison, Sylvester Boler smashed through and hit QB Kinard as he was pitching out to Jennings. The hit caused a fumble that was recovered by Dick Conn at the Maryland 8 yard line. On third down, Johnson scored from the one and Leavitt made it 17-10.

A nine-yard punt and fumble by Richard Appleby, on an end-round, presented Maryland with two FG opportunities in the fourth quarter. Both were cashed in on by Mike-Mayer (25 and 28 yards) to close the gap to 17-16.

Miami of Ohio won its 23rd in a row with a 21-10 vicotry over Georgia in the Tangerine Bowl before 20,246 at Orlando, on Dec. 21, 1974.

It might have been a close game had not the Bulldogs given Miami two easy scoring chances with fumbles at their own 25 (first play from scrimmage) and 22. The Redskins cashed both opportunities, and in between, marched 68 yards to goal, QB Smith passing seven yards to E. Taylor for the TD.

After trailing 7-0, Georgia did make a good drive, first down at the UM 9, the big gainer being a 43-yard pass, Robinson to Appleby. But the vaunted Miami defense held and Allan Leavitt kicked at 21-yard FG.

Georgia came back strong in the second half and won it, 7-0. The defense played considerably better.

Midway through, the third quarter Butch Box, covering a Bucky Dilts punt, recovered a fumble at the Miami 41. Glynn Harrison immediately broke loose for 28 yards to the UM 13. Five plays later Ray Goff plunged over from the one and Leavitt made it 21-10.

Georgia outgained Miami in total offense, 274 to 242. Georgia had only 74 yards rushing but 200 passing. Miami had 228 rushing, 14 passing.

Cinderella Dogs Bow to Hogs in 1976 Cotton Bowl

The big clock in the Cotton Bowl showed 1:49 left in the first half with Georgia leading Arkansas, 10-0. Not a soul there or any one of the millions watching CBS-TV had any idea then that the Bulldogs, who had played almost a perfect game for nearly a half, would suffer one tough blow after and finally succumb, 31-10 on Jan. 1, 1976.

Georgia amazed the crowd of 74,500 by taking the opening kickoff and ramming the ball all the way to the A4. But the Razorbacks held and Georgia had to settle for a 35-yard FG by Allan Leavitt.

In the second quarter Matt Robinson connected with Gene Washington on a nifty 21-yard scoring play and Georgia led 10-0.

But two Georgia fumbles in the last two minutes of the first half resulted in an Arkansas FG (Little, 39 yards) and TD (Forte, 1-yd. rush).

It was a scoreless third quarter but the Hogs tallied three times in the final period.

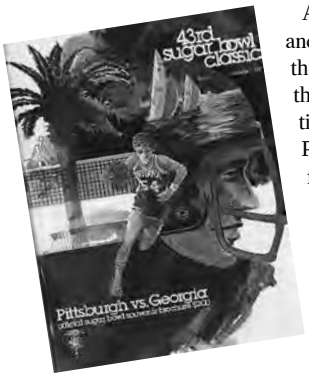
#1 Pittsburgh Tops Dogs In '77 Sugar Bowl



Armed with a number four national ranking and the distinction of being first team to represent the conference in the SEC's "marriage" with the Sugar Bowl, Georgia's dreams of a national title were convincingly shattered by top-ranked Pittsburgh, 27-3, in the Sugar Bowl shootout for the national championship.

With a Sugar Bowl record crowd for the Superdome of 76, 117 fans looking on, Pittsburgh made believers of the whole nation in justifying their top national billing.

Junior quarterback Matt Cavanaugh and heralded Heisman Trophy winner Tony Dorsett supplied most of the offensive fireworks for the Panthers in building a 21-0 halftime lead. Cavanaugh directed his team 80 yards in the first quarter for Pitt's initial score, covering the last six yards himself on a keeper. In the second quarter, the Pittsburgh junior unveiled a brilliant passing game to account for another Pittsburgh score by hitting FLK Matt Jones for a 59-yard scoring strike. Dorsett added the Panthers' third TD of the day on an 11-yard burst to make the halftime tally 21-0.

The Bulldog offense, which had been stymied all day by the swarming Pittsburgh defense, finally was able to put something on the scoreboard in the third quarter. On Pitt's first possession of the second half, fullback Elliott Walker was separated from the ball on the Panthers' own 26-yard line, where defensive end Lawrence Craft fell on it for the Bulldogs. But several plays later, Georgia found themselves faced with fourth and goal on the seven and had to settle for Allan Leavitt's 25-yard field goal for their only score of the day.

Pitt's Carson Long added field goals of 42 and 31 yards as the Panthers claimed the 1976 national championship.

Stanford Rallies For Win In 1978 Bluebonnet Bowl

Georgia's Wonderdogs outgained Stanford 525 yards to 31, but lost the game 25-22 before 34,084 fans in the Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston on December 31, 1978.

Fumbles and penalties, missed PAT's and FG's and precision passing by All-American QB Steve Dils, enables the Cardinal to overcome a 22-0 deficit in the second half.

The Bulldogs played their best game of the season in running up an early advantage to the 22-0. They scored on their second possession in the first quarter, Rex Robinson kicking a 31-yd FG. On their third possession, Georgia's Buck Belue passed to flanker Carmon Prince 22 yards for a TD, but Robinson missed on the PAT to make Georgia a 9-0 leader.

As the half closed, Jeff Pyburn directed an 80-yard drive in seven plays as he spotted Prince for an eight-yard strike. Robinson was wide again on the PAT and Georgia led 15-0.

Georgia drove 75 yards to goal after the second half kick-off and took only six plays as Pyburn dove in from the one, making the score 22-0.

Two Bulldog fumbles accounted for Stanford's first pair of touchdowns, and their third tally came on a 14-yard pass from Dils to Ken Margerum. The two-point conversion was good, knotting the score at 22. The Cardinal recovered another Georgia fumble to set up their go-ahead field goal of 24 yards. Georgia came back strong, driving to the Stanford 14, but Robinson missed on a 31-yard attempt.

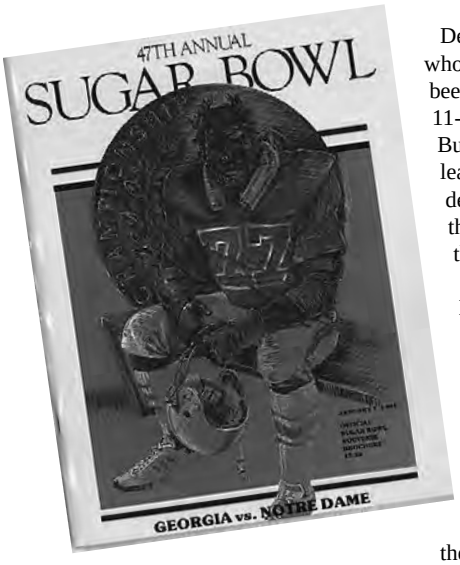
Georgia Whips Irish For 1981 Sugar Bowl Win And The National Championship



Determined to silence the critics who claimed that Georgia had been lucky in streaking to a perfect 11-0 regular season slate, the Bulldogs journeyed to New Orleans, No. 1 ranking in hand, and defeated Notre Dame, 17-10, in the 1981 Sugar Bowl to claim the national championship.

Played before a record Sugar Bowl crowd of 77,895 in the Louisiana Superdome, the game was one where Georgia capitalized on early Irish mistakes to take a 17-3 lead at halftime.

Notre Dame took the ball on the first possession of the contest from its own 20 all the way to the UGA 32 where kicker Harry Oliver booted a 50-yard field goal to give the Irish a 3-0 lead with 10:41 to go in the opening quarter.

Oliver tried another field goal moments later from the 48, but this time Bulldog freshman rover Terry Hoage slipped through the line to step in front and block the attempt, giving Georgia the ball at the ND49. Nine plays netted 20 yards and placekicker Rex Robinson was called on for a 46-yard field goal. The All-American was successful to tie the game at three apiece with less than two minutes remaining in the first period.

On the ensuing kickoff, Georgia capitalized on confusion among two Notre Dame return men, and Bulldog senior Bob Kelly recovered a loose football at the Irish one-yard line. Freshman marvel Herschel Walker, who would go on to gain 150 yards (the first 100-yard performance against the Notre Dame defense all season) and win the Miller-Digby MVP Trophy, dived on the second play for the touchdown. Robinson coverted the PAT and Bulldogs were up, 10-3, still in the first quarter.

Erk Russell's defense, which led the country in takeaways during the season, recovered another Notre Dame fumble early in the second period as Irish fullback John Sweeney was separated from the ball at the ND22 and Bulldog senior roverback Chris Welton pounced on it.

Walker broke an off tackle play for 12 yards to the ND10. Quarterback Buck Belue swept left for seven more to the Irish three-yard line, setting up a second and goal situation. Belue gave it to Walker and the 6-2, 220-pounder stormed into the endzone for his second score of the game. Robinson added the PAT and Georgia enjoyed a 17-3 lead.

Down 14 points, Notre Dame drove the second time it had the ball in the second half from its own 40-yard line to the G13. On a third down play there, Irish QB Blair Kiel dropped back, threw into the endzone to flanker Pete Holohan, only to watch Georgia's All-American cornerback Scott Woerner step in at the last minute to bat the pass away. Notre Dame's Oliver came in to kick a 30-yarder, but the ball sailed wide right.

The Irish finally got a touchdown after Georgia punted on the next possession. The passing of Kiel and running of tailback Phil Carter took Notre Dame 57 yards in 11 plays as the drive was climaxed by a one-yard plunge by Carter for the touchdown. Oliver booted the PAT and the Georgia lead was now 17-10 with :54 seconds of the third quarter showing on the Superdome scoreboard clock.

After Georgia was unable to move the ball, senior Mark Malkiewicz was called in to punt. The boot carried to the Irish 46 and Notre Dame, with momentum mounting, took over. Seven plays later, the Fighting Irish were at the G21 and fourth down staring them in the face. Oliver's 38-yard field goal attempt went wide to the left this time and the Bulldogs clung to their seven-point lead.

After two unsuccessful possessions by each team, Notre Dame got the ball one last time with 5:10 to go in the ballgame at the ND43. Carter ran around the end for seven yards to midfield. On second down, 6-1, 265-pound defensive guard Eddie Weaver caught Kiel behind the line for a four-yard loss, setting up a third and seven play. A Kiel-to-Nick Vehr pass got six yards back, making it fourth down, one yard to go.

A running play looked to be forthcoming, but Kiel surprised everyone when he faded back, looking for Dean Masztak, the big tight end, on the side line. One Bulldog, apparently not surprised by the call, was cornerback Woerner, who stepped in front of Masztak for the interception (his second of the game) at the G34. Only 2:56 remained.

Runs by Belue and Walker gave the Bulldogs a first down at the G47. Two plays after that, Georgia recorded the biggest first down of the game when Belue hit his very first completion of the day on a seven-yard pass to senior flanker Amp Arnold. Walker got the Bulldogs another first down at the ND 38, where Georgia ran off three plays and watched the clock expire, prompting a sea of UGA fans to engulf the playing field for the national championship celebration.

Pitt Edges Bulldogs 24-20 In 1982 Sugar Bowl

Pittsburgh QB Dan Marino hit tight end John Brown on a fourth-down, 33-yard TD pass with just 35 seconds left to give the Panthers a come-from-behind 24-20 win over Georgia in the 1982 Sugar Bowl, dashing the Bulldogs' hopes for a second straight national championship.

Perhaps the most exciting of the holiday games of '82, the Pitt-Georgia matchup had six lead changes for the 77,224 who were in attendance at the Superdome.

Early in the fourth quarter it was Pittsburgh which capitalized on a Dog fumble at the G23. Four plays later, QB Marino found John Brown open for a six-yard TD play. The conversion put the Panthers, 17-13 with 11:40 to play in the game.

But the Bulldogs, entering the game ranked No. 2 in the country, weren't quite through yet. Taking over on the G20, Georgia drove the distance in 10 plays, climaxing the drive with a Buck Belue-to-Clarence Kay TD pass from six yards out. Kevin Butler's PAT put the lead in Georgia's favor, 20-17, with 8:31 remaining.

Each team failed on a possession and, with 3:46 left, the Panthers got the ball on the P20. Eleven plays later, they were at the G33, fourth down and five. Seconds later, TE Brown was in the endzone on the receiving end of Marino's game-winner.

Penn State Clips Dogs 27-23 In 1983 Sugar Bowl

After staking Penn State to a 20-3 second-quarter lead, the Bulldogs staged a great comeback but came up short, 27-23, to the Nittany Lions before 78,124 in the '83 Sugar Bowl Classic. The outcome foiled Georgia's chances for another national championship and a perfect 12-0 season.

Trailing 20-3 with only :39 remaining in the first half, Georgia took over on its 34-yard line. Lastinger completed four of five pass attempts, the final completion coming on a 10-yard scoring play to Herman Archie. Butler's PAT cut the deficit to 20-10 at intermission.

The Bulldogs took the second half kickoff and drove 69 yards in 11 plays as Herschel Walker, who netted 103 yards on the day, ran in from a yard out. Penn State's lead now was only 20-17.

The Nittany Lions took possession late in the third quarter at their 19. Six plays advanced the football to the G47. From there, Blackledge found his receiver Garrity, who made a diving catch in the endzone for a TD. Gancitano's PAT increased the PSU lead to 27-17.

Georgia didn't roll over, however. With 5:38 left to play, the Dogs took the ball at the P43 after a fumbled punt. Six plays later, Lastinger found TE Clarence Kay for a nine-yard TD pass. Only 3:54 remained. The two-point try failed and Georgia trailed 27-23.

Georgia could not prevent the Nittany Lions from getting two first downs and used up its allotted timeouts as Penn State ran out the clock. The game ended with the ball rolling into the Georgia endzone after a 62-yard punt from Ralph Giacomarro.

Georgia Upsets Texas 10-9 In 1984 Cotton Bowl

Texas had one more possession, but the Bulldog defense rose up, recording two sacks (Kenny Sims and Ed Moore) to back the Longhorns up from their 28-yard line all the way to their seven. Georgia took control and ran off the final 2:19 on the clock after converting a fourth down play at the Texas 36.

As expected going into the Cotton Bowl, defense was the key for both teams as there were just 13 first downs and three points each achieved in the first half. Texas grabbed an early 3-0 lead with 10:32 to go in the first quarter when freshman Jeff Ward booted a 22-yard FG. The Bulldogs, after Moss returned a punt 29 yards to the Longhorn 43 late in the quarter, used four plays to move to the Texas 26 where Butler came in and kicked a 43-yarder.

Ward added his second three-pointer on the day with 7:10 to play in the third quarter as he connected on a 40-yard field goal. After a Georgia fumble at the G37, the Longhorns moved 26 yards in eight plays to the G11 where Ward came on and extended the Texas advantage to 9-3 with 3:50 to play in the third quarter.

FSU Rallies To Tie Bulldogs In 1984 Citrus Bowl

Georgia placekicker Kevin Butler's attempt of a 70-yard field goal fell a foot short as time expired in the '84 Florida Citrus Bowl, enabling favored Florida State to hold off the upstart Bulldogs and earn a 17-17 tie before 51,821 in Orlando on Dec. 22, 1984.

The Bulldogs, who had hoped to use the Citrus Bowl as the start of their 1985 season, stormed out to a 14-0 halftime lead. Florida State battled back to tie the score through the efforts of a talented offense and an aggressive punt rush with under four minutes remaining.

After averaging 35.3 points a game, the Seminoles were held to just 10 points through three quarters until noseguard Lenny Chavers blocked a Chip Andrews punt, which was picked up by teammate Joe Wessel for a Seminole touchdown. Darrin Holloman's sweep around the left side gave FSU a two-point conversion and knotted the game at 17 late in the fourth quarter. The Dogs tried to repeat the miracle they had staged earlier in the season against rival Clemson in which they drove up field in the closing seconds enabling All-American Kevin Butler to kick a conference record 60-yard FG and secure a Georgia victory. FSU's defense proved to be a bit stiffer than that of Clemson, and after three incomplete James Jackson passes, Georgia coach Vince Dooley called on Butler once again, but his kick fell just short of the crossbar and the game ended deadlocked at 17.

Although disappointed with a tie, Georgia walked off the field encouraged by the play of their underclassmen. Freshman QB James Jackson saw his first stretch of extensive playing time and responded by earning the game's Most Valuable Player trophy. The game's most valuable offensive player was another Georgia freshman, TB Lars Tate, who scored both of Georgia's TDs. Senior CB Kevin Harris was awarded Defensive Player of the Game, giving the red and black a clean sweep of the awards ceremony.

Dogs, Wildcats Tie 13-13 In 1985 Sun Bowl Game

A Sun Bowl crowd of 52,203 saw the Georgia Bulldogs rally for 10 fourth quarter points to pull even with the Arizona Wildcats, 13-13, then watched as both teams miss potential game-winning field goals in the final two minutes to preserve the tie.

Georgia struck first, marching 72 yards in 13 plays to set up a 37-yard FG by Steve Crumley. Crumley, who had pulled a muscle in his kicking leg before the final game of the regular season, reinjured himself on the kick, however, and was unable to continue.

Arizona responded on the following possession to tie the game, driving to the G1 before an illegal procedure penalty on fourth down forced the Cats to call upon All-American Max Zendejas to tie the score at three from 21 yards.Zendejas added a 52-yarder, and the the Wildcats made it 12-3 when Martin Rudolph picked off QB James Jackson's pass and returned it 35 yards for a TD. Georgia backup kicker Davis Jacobs was true on a 44-yard field to close the gap to 13-6.

With 12:35 to play senior DB Tony Flack recovered RB James Debow's fumble at the A23 to set up what would be the game's last score behind Tate on the ground. With 1:14 left, Jacobs missed a 44-yard field goal.

Georgia held Arizona until the Wildcats gambled on fourth-and-two from their own 36, and David Adams rambled for 25 yards on a draw play with DL Henry Williams executing a game-saving tackle at the G39. The Wildcats drove to the 22, called time out, and Zendejas' 39-yard attempt went wide and Georgia averted a last-second defeat.

B.C. Edges Dogs 27-24 In 1986 Hall of Fame

Boston College scored a five-yard TD pass with 32 seconds remaining to nip Georgia, 27-24, in the first Hall of Fame Bowl held at Tampa on Dec. 22, 1986, in front of 25,368 in Tampa Stadium.

The last second win spoiled a brilliant comeback from a 13-point halftime deficit by Georgia which actually took the lead, 24-20, with a five-yard TD run by QB James Jackson with 11:51 left in the game.

The Bulldogs, after scoring first to lead 7-0, watched Boston College score 20 straight points before halftime.

Georgia came out in the third quarter to score 10 points and added another seven in the final period to take the lead. B.C. got the ball the final time with 2:38 left and drove to the Georgia 27 when an incomplete fourth-and-two pass appeared to have iced the game for the Dogs. But a pass interference penalty gave the Eagles new life and three plays later, they scored on a five-yard TD toss.

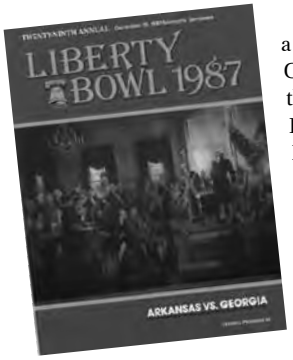
Kasay Kick Defeats Arkansas In 1987 Liberty Bowl



Freshman placekicker John Kasay booted a 39-yard field goal with no time left to give Georgia a 20-17 come-from-behind victory over the Arkansas Razorbacks before 53,249 fans at Liberty Bowl Stadium in Memphis, Tenn., on Dec 29, 1987. The victory provided Georgia with its first nine-win season since 1983 and the first victory over Arkansas after two previous attempts.

Bulldog QB James Jackson was the Georgia most valuable offensive player after rushing for 72 yards and completing 15 of 25 passes for 148 yards. Bulldog LB John Brantley was the Georgia most valuable defensive player.

Kasay's game-winning kick was set up when Georgia cornerback Carver Russaw intercepted an Arkansas pass and ran it back to the Razorback 43-yard line with 46 seconds to play. Arkansas had missed a 35-yard field goal with 1:42 left which would have given them the lead. The Bulldogs ran three plays to set up Kasay's, kick the big one being a Jackson-to -Sadowski pass for 16 yards to put the Dogs in field goal range.

Georgia had trailed at halftime, 10-7, and Arkansas took the second half kickoff and drove for a touchdown to take a 17-7 lead with 11:35 left in the third period. But the fourth quarter belonged to Georgia.

Kasay kicked a 24-yard FG with 14:57 left to cut the lead to 17-10, and James Jackson scored on a five-yard run to tie the score at 17.

Dogs Use New Tricks To Win 1989 Gator Bowl

Largely discarding their trademark rushing attack, Vince Dooley's Bulldogs took to the air in the 44th Mazda Gator Bowl en route to a 34-27 victory over the Michigan State in front of 76,236 fans in Jacksonville, Fla., on Jan. 1, 1989.

Georgia not only secured its second straight 9-win season but handed Dooley the 201st, and final, win of his illustrious 25-year coaching career. QB Wayne Johnson, who was named Georgia's MVP for the game, had a career-high 227 yards and three touchdowns. Two of Johnson's three TD strikes went to tailback Rodney Hampton, who also carried the ball 10 times for 109 yards and a TD.

Georgia took a 7-0 lead on a 6-yard Johnson-to-Hampton touchdown pass. By halftime, the Dogs led 17-7. Georgia scored again in the third when Johnson capped a 64-yard drive with an 18-yard pass to tight end Kirk Warner.

MSU closed the gap to 27-20 with 14:24 to play, but the Dogs countered on their next possession when Hampton raced 32 yards for his third touchdown. The Spartans scored once more, but Georgia, which finished the season ranked 15th, hung on for a 34-27 win.

Syracuse Nips Georgia 19-18 To Win '89 Peach

With :25 left in the game, Syracuse PK John Biskup booted a 26-yard field goal to lift the Orangemen over the Bulldogs, 19-18, in Atlanta at the 22nd Peach Bowl on Dec. 30, 1989.

Despite putting together an impressive opening drive and coming up with several big plays, the Dogs couldn't sustain a balanced offensive attack throughout the game. Georgia's leading rusher Rodney Hampton was held to 32 yards on the ground, while Syracuse TB Michael Owens ran for 112 yards on 14 carries. The Georgia passing attack was limited to 88 yards, the first time all season the Dogs were held under 100 yards in the air.

Georgia opened the game with a 66-yard drive, capped off by a 5-yard TD pass from QB Greg Talley to tight end Kirk Warner. Syracuse answered with an 80-yard drive of its own, with Owens scoring from one yard out.

In the second quarter, Syracuse suffered from three miscues, but managed to stay close. The first came when Georgia linebacker Mo Lewis set a new Peach Bowl record with a 77-yard interception return to the Syracuse five. The Bulldogs were unable to get into the end zone, however, and had to settle for a John Kasay field goal. In the second half, the Orangemen gave up a safety, and Georgia added a TD for an 18-10 edge going to the fourth.

Syracuse rallied, first with a 94-yards drive to close to 18--16. Then, Biskup's field goal lifted the Orange over Georgia in the closest Peach Bowl since 1973.

Georgia Beats Arkansas 24-15 In '91 Independence

The Bulldogs jumped out to a 14-0 lead behind two scoring strikes thrown from Eric Zeier to Arthur Marshall and Andre Hastings stretching their lead to 17-0 on a 39-yard FG by freshman Kanon Parkman.

The Razorbacks battled back and got on the scoreboard with a 7-yard run by the Hogs' leading rusher, E.D. Jackson. The run capped off an eight-play 37-yard drive by the Razorbacks.

The second half continued to be a showcase for the play of Hastings and Zeier and the ball-hawking Georgia defense led by junior linebacker Torrey Evans.

Georgia's defense forced Arkansas quarterback Jason Allen into throwing five interceptions. Evans came off the bench for the injured John Allen and played brilliantly, recording four tackles, an interception and fumble recovery to earn defensive MVP honors.

The game's offensive MVP, Hastings caught four passes for 94 yards and outran all pursuers on a third quarter 53-yard reverse that put the Bulldogs out front 24-7. The Hogs added eight points in the fourth quarter, but it was too late, the Bulldogs had won the Independence Bowl.

Dogs Beat Ohio State In 1993 Florida Citrus Bowl

Georgia secured its best finish in a decade, including a top-10 final ranking and the first 10-win season since 1983, with a 21-14 victory over Ohio State. A New Year's Day crowd of 65,861 attended the 47th annual Florida Citrus Bowl.

Offensively, Georgia found ball control to its liking in the first quarter as it opened the game with its longest touchdown drive of the season. The Bulldogs drove 80 yards in 14 plays, grinding up 6:18 on the game clock, to take a 7-0 lead. Georgia then opened it up in the second quarter, calling for passes on five of its first eight plays. An Eric Zeier fumble just inside OSU territory proved costly as the Buckeyes drove 54 yards to paydirt in 11 plays for a 7-7 halftime tie.

After the break, Andre Hastings ignited the Dogs' offense on the opening kickoff of the second half with a spectacular 49-yard return. Then from the OSU 45, Garrison Hearst gained all 45 yards on four carries en route to a 14-7 Bulldog advantage. But after a short punt by Georgia, which the Buckeyes returned to the UGA 33, Ohio State seized the opportunity and tied the game again, 14-14, on a five-yard run by Robert Smith.

Slowly, the Buckeyes had taken control of the game's momentum and after a 45-yard completion to Smith to the UGA 15, it appeared Ohio State would take its first lead of the game. But quarterback Kirk Herbstreit fumbled, and the Bulldogs drove 80 yards in 11 plays to take the victory. A final Buckeye drive ended with a desperation pass intercepted in the endzone.

Virginia Rallies For 34-27 Win In 1995 Peach Bowl

At the Peach Bowl, two of the nation's most fatestruck teams took to Atlanta's Georgia Dome in search of season-ending consolation. Although the Bulldogs entered the contest as underdogs, Georgia again battled back from adversity, this time a 14-0 deficit with 4:09 left in the first quarter, only to lose in the closing minute. Virginia's Demetrius Allen proved the difference, returning a Kanon Parkman kickoff for an 83-yard TD with :57 remaining.

Sophomore QB Hines Ward engineered the Georgia comeback, lighting up the Cavalier secondary for 413 yards on 31 of 59 passing. Figure in another 56 yards rushing, and Ward had set new Georgia bowl records for pass attempts, completions, yards passing and total offense. However, a pair of first-quarter interceptions and a blocked Dax Langley punt led to an easy 14 points for Virginia and considerable red and black frustration.

Once again, Georgia's defense kept the team's hope alive. Besides limiting Virginia to 256 yards total offense, the UGA "D" even gave the 70,824 audience a temporary charge when defensive tackle Jason Ferguson returned UVA's Walt Derey fumble 10 yards for a TD—Georgia's first tie of the game (27-27) with only 1:09 left.

Bobo, Edwards Lead UGA Past Badgers in '98 Outback Bowl

Mike Bobo completed 26 of 28 passes for 235 yards and one touchdown and running back Robert Edwards ran for three more scores as Georgia defeated Wisconsin 33-6 before an Outback Bowl crowd of 56,186 and an ESPN national television audience.

Bobo, who earned MVP honors, set an Outback Bowl record for best completion percentage (92.8). He also set Outback and Georgia records for consecutive completions with 19. Edwards set a Georgia bowl mark and tied an Outback record with three rushing touchdowns. Senior Hines Ward set an Outback Bowl record for receptions and yardage with 12 catches for 122 yards.

Georgia sported a new look for the Outback Bowl, donning black pants instead of the traditional "silver britches" to go along with the Bulldogs' white jerseys and red helmets. "The players came to me a while back and requested we do something special for the bowl game," Georgia head coach Jim Donnan said. "The idea the players liked best was wearing black pants. After discussing it with (athletic director) Coach Dooley we decided to go along with the players' suggestion for this game."

Georgia Rallies Past Virginia In 1998 Peach Bowl

Olandis Gary

No. 19 Georgia rallied from an early second-quarter deficit of 21-0 to post a thrilling 35-33 win over 12th-ranked Virginia. A Peach Bowl record crowd of 72,876 in Atlanta on Dec. 31, 1998 was in attendance for the memorable comeback.

Virginia capitalized on three second quarter interceptions by Georgia freshman Quincy Carter, turning each of them into a touchdown to build a 21-0 lead. Georgia got on the scoreboard when Carter connected with senior Tony Small on an 11-yard score with 1:15 left in the second quarter.

Georgia got its first lead of the night when Olandis Gary capped a 67-yard drive with a 2-yard run on the Dogs' first possession of the fourth quarter. The Bulldogs then built an 8-point lead when Carter called his own number on a quarterback sneak from the one-yard-line with 7:01 remaining.

Record Comeback Highlights '00 Outback Win over Purdue

Georgia kicked off the new year by staging the largest comeback in bowl history, scoring 28 unanswered points to defeat Purdue 28-25 in overtime at Raymond James Stadium in front of 54,059 in a game broadcast by ESPN.

Purdue jumped out to an early lead in the first quarter behind three Drew Brees touchdown passes. In the second quarter Brees threw his fourth touchdown pass to Chris James. Purdue missed three of the four extra point opportunities to lead 25-0 with 10:38 left in the first half.

Georgia got its first points of the game on a Terrence Edwards 74-yard touchdown run off an option reverse to cut the lead to 25-7. Quincy Carter, who had 243 yards on 20 of 33 passing with two touchdowns (one rushing, one passing), helped continue the Georgia surge when he scored on an eight-yard run with 4:22 left in the third quarter. Patrick Pass made the two-point conversion to move the score to 25-18.

The Bulldogs tied the score at 25 with just 1:19 left in regulation, when Randy McMichael caught a Carter pass over two defenders for an eight-yard touchdown. In overtime, Georgia managed to stop Purdue on its first drive when Dorsch missed a 43-yard field goal. After two Pass rushes for 19 yards, Hap Hines nailed a 21-yarder to cap the Bulldogs' come from behind victory.

Georgia Cruises Past Virginia In 2000 O'ahu Bowl

Terrence Edwards

The 24th-ranked Georgia Bulldogs (8-4) defeated Virginia 34-17 in the 2000 Jeep O'ahu Bowl in front of an Aloha Stadium crowd of 24,187 and an ESPN television audience on Christmas Eve.

Georgia jumped out to a 17-0 lead in the first quarter. The Bulldogs got on the board with a 35-yard field goal by freshman kicker Billy Bennett. On the Bulldogs' next series, one play after a successful fake punt, Edwards scampered 40 yards into the end zone on a reverse to give Georgia a 10-0 lead. On Virginia's next possession, freshman safety Kentrell Curry recovered a Cavalier fumble in the end zone for the 17-0 lead.

The Cavaliers pulled within 24-14 in the third quarter as senior linebacker Byron Thweatt returned a Georgia fumble 58 yards, but that was as close as Virginia would get. Georgia added two more touchdowns for the final margin, a 21-yard pass from sophomore quarterback Cory Phillips to freshman receiver Damien Gary and a four-yard fumble return by sophomore safety Cap Burnett after senior linebacker Kendrell Bell knocked the ball loose.

Edwards was named MVP after leading UGA in both receiving and rushing with eight catches for 79 yards and five rushes for 97 yards and one touchdown.

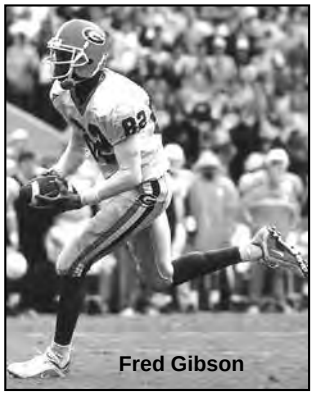
Eagles Edge Dogs In 2001 Music City Bowl



Fred Gibson

Running back William Green scored a 7-yard touchdown with 4:43 remaining to lift Boston College to a 20-16 win over Georgia at the Music City Bowl.

Running back Verron Haynes capped his Georgia career with 132 yards on 27 carries, including a 1-yard scoring run in the third quarter. That touchdown gave the Bulldogs a 16-10 lead.

The Bulldogs began the game with some trickery when Fred Gibson took the opening kickoff and gave a reverse handoff to Decory Bryant, who raced 86 yards to the Boston College 18. On Georgia's second play, Greene found Gibson on a swing pass and he fought his way into the end zone from 15 yards out.

Boston College grabbed the lead in the second quarter when quarterback Brian St. Pierre threw a 10-yard touchdown pass to receiver Dedrick Dewalt. The play was set up by Green's 75-yard run, the longest play allowed by the Bulldogs this season.

Sciortino then converted from 26 yards out to give the Eagles a 13-7 lead. The Bulldogs answered with Bennett's 24-yard field goal as Georgia trailed 13-10 at the break. Haynes' third-quarter touchdown gave the Bulldogs their final lead of the contest.

2003 Dogs Gets Record 13th Win In Nokia Sugar Bowl

Terrence Edwards

Georgia bowl MVP Musa Smith rushed for 145 yards and Billy Bennett kicked four field goals as Georgia defeated Florida State 26-13 before 74,269 fans in the Nokia Sugar Bowl. Georgia completed the season at 13-1, the most wins in school history.

The Bulldogs' defense forced three turnovers by the Seminoles, including cornerback Bruce Thornton's 71-yard interception return for a touchdown. Nose tackle Ken Veal's fumble recovery led to one of Bennett's four field goals.

Bennett staked the Bulldogs to a 3-0 lead in the first quarter . The Seminoles took their only lead of the game in the second quarter as quarterback Fabian Walker found receiver Anquan Boldin on a 5-yard scoring toss. Thornton's second-quarter interception and score gave Georgia the lead for good.

Bennett pushed the advantage to 20-7 by drilling a 42-yard field goal early in the third quarter. On FSU's next possession, Veal's fumble recovery set up a third Bennett field goal, pushing Georgia ahead 23-7.

Georgia Defeats Purdue In OT In 2004 Capital One Bowl

David Greene

After scoring the game's first 24 points, Georgia needed a Kregg Lumpkin overtime touchdown run to hold off Purdue, 34-27, in front of a Capital One Bowl crowd of 64,565 and an ABC national television audience.

The Bulldogs opened the game with a nine-play, 68-yard drive culminating in a six-yard Fred Gibson touchdown pass from quarterback and offensive MVP David Greene (left). The Bulldogs used a Billy Bennett field goal and two more Greene TD passes--one each to Gibson and Reggie Brown--to open a 24-0 lead with 4:47 left in the first half.

Purdue answered with a touchdown and field goal to pull within 14, 24-10, at halftime.

Purdue scored the fourth quarter's first points on a Kyle Orton two-yard run with 9:11 left. Georgia then used up 4:44 on a 12-play, 57-yard drive ending in a 40-yard Bennett field goal. Late in the fourth, Purdue needed just three plays to go 66 yards and pull within three, 27-24, on a Kyle Orton three-yard touchdown pass. Ben Jones kicked a 44-yard field goal with 49 seconds left to tie the game at 27-all.

On the first possession of overtime, Lumpkin pushed his way into the end zone to give the Bulldogs a 34-27 lead. Purdue also drove inside the 10 yard line, but failed to convert.

Bulldogs Beat Badgers In 2005 Outback Bowl

David Pollack

Georgia (10-2) held off a late Wisconsin rally to defeat the Badgers 24-21 in front of 62,414 Outback Bowl fans at Raymond James Stadium and an ESPN national television audience.

It was the last game for several Bulldog seniors, including All-American DE David Pollack (right) whose three-sack performance earned him Outback Bowl MVP.

Overall, Georgia's defense stifled the Badgers' offense, allowing just 13 points while recording seven quarterback sacks and forcing and recovering two fumbles.

Wisconsin (9-3) took an early second-quarter 6-3 lead in a battle of field goals, but Georgia's offense came to life in the middle of the game. Senior QB David Greene connected on a 24-yard touchdown to Fred Gibson and later a 24-yard TD to senior Jeremy Thomas.

Freshman Thomas Brown notched his fourth 100-yard rushing game of the year with 111 yards on 16 carries, including a 29-yard touchdown run to give Georgia a 24-6 lead.

West Virginia Upsets Dogs In 2006 Nokia Sugar Bowl

Georgia was unable to overcome a 28-0 deficit and fell to West Virginia 38-35 in the 2006 Nokia Sugar Bowl in front of 74,458 fans at the Georgia Dome and an ABC national television audience.

Despite three touchdowns and 277 yards passing by quarterback D.J. Shockley, the Bulldogs' late rally fell short after they outscored the Mountaineers 35-10 to finish the game. Tailback Thomas Brown led Georgia with 78 yards rushing, including a 52-yard touchdown.

Kregg Lumpkin

West Virginia started the game's scoring with three touchdowns in the first quarter and went up 28-0 with 14:10 remaining in the second quarter. Georgia got its first points at the 12:58 mark in the second quarter on Kregg Lumpkin's career-long 34-yard touchdown run.

The Bulldogs managed to close the gap to 38-35 after Shockley connected with fellow senior Bryan McClendon for a 43-yard touchdown with 5:13 left in the fourth quarter. But West Virginia converted a fake punt in the game's final drive, enabling the Mountaineers to run the clock out.

Bulldogs Rally Past Va. Tech In 2006 Chick-fil-A Bowl

Georgia stormed back from an 18-point deficit to defeat 14th-ranked Virginia Tech 31-24 in the Chick-fil-A Bowl in the Georgia Dome in front of a bowl-record crowd of 75,406 and a national ESPN television audience.

Tony Taylor

Bulldog linebacker Tony Taylor (two interceptions) and quarterback Matthew Stafford (129 yards, 1 TD) were named the Defensive and Offensive MVPs. In the fourth quarter, the Bulldogs got scoring runs from tailback Kregg Lumpkin and fullback Brannan Southerland along with one of kicker Brandon Coutu's three field goals (including a Georgia bowl record 51-yarder) to complete the comeback.

Georgia led 3-0 after the first quarter, but then the Hokies built a 21-3 halftime edge. Taylor's interception at the start of the fourth quarter set up the game-tying touchdown, a 3-yard Lumpkin run. On the Hokies' next possession, Charles Johnson sacked Sean Glennon and caused him to fumble, which Quentin Moses recovered. It led to the go-ahead field goal by Coutu.

Bulldogs Blast Hawai'i To Win 2008 Sugar Bowl

The Bulldogs trounced previously undefeated Hawai'i 41-10 in the Sugar Bowl on New Years night from the Louisiana Superdome in New Orleans, La. This was the most points the Bulldogs have ever scored in a bowl game as well as their largest margin of victory in a bowl game.

Thomas Brown

Georgia struck early against the Warriors, starting with a Knowshon Moreno 17-yard touchdown run with 9:42 in the first quarter. Moreno also had an 11-yard scoring run late in the first period.

Early in the second half, defensive end Marcus Howard sacked Warrior quarterback Colt Brennan on the goal line and recovered Brennan's fumble on the play for a TD, the first of his career. Thomas Brown got in on the scoring action with a one-yard scamper in the third quarter, and QB Matthew Stafford got into the books with an 11-yard TD pass to Sean Bailey midway through the second quarter.

Bulldogs Notch 10th Win At 2009 Capital One Bowl

Matthew Stafford threw three touchdown passes in the final 18 minutes against Michigan State, as the Bulldogs posted a 24-12 Capital One Bowl victory in front of 59,681 fans and an ABC national television audience.

Matthew Stafford

The first half was ugly for Stafford, projected to be an early first-round NFL draft pick, and Georgia. He was just 6-for-14 with an interception in the first half and Michigan State (9-4) led 6-3. In the second half, he looked more like the quarterback NFL teams covet. He completed 14 of his final 17 throws, including three TD passes.

Stafford started the comeback by directing a 10-play, 96-yard drive midway through the third quarter. He went 6-for-6 for 92 yards and capped it with a 35-yard touchdown toss to Michael Moore. Stafford and Aron White hooked up on a 21-yard TD toss with 9 seconds left in the third quarter to put Georgia up 17-6.

Dogs Defeat Texas A&M For Independence Bowl Win

Georgia closed out the 2009 football season in dominant fashion as it defeated Texas A&M 44-20 in the AdvoCare V100 Independence Bowl in front of 49,653 fans in Shreveport, La.

After the Aggies tied the game early in the third quarter, Georgia scored 30 unanswered points to win with relative ease. The 44 points was a Bulldog bowl record.

Neither team scored until the final 2:33 of the second quarter, when Georgia followed an A&M touchdown with two quick scores before halftime, highlighted by Brandon Boykin's kickoff return.

A 49-yard field goal by Blair Walsh with 9:25 left in the third quarter gave Georgia the lead for good and started the string of 30 consecutive points.

Brandon Boykin

Georgia's defense, coached by defensive line coach Rodney Garner and graduate assistants Mitch Doolittle and Todd Hartley, was led by sophomore linebacker Marcus Dowtin, who had nine tackles. Junior linebacker Rennie Curran had eight, and junior safety Reshad Jones had five tackles and an interception.

No. 24 UCF Edges Bulldogs In 2010 Liberty Bowl

Georgia saw its four-game bowl winning streak stopped by dropping a 10-6 decision to #24 Central Florida in the AutoZone Liberty Bowl, marking Georgia's first postseason loss since the 2006 Sugar Bowl.

UCF's Latavius Murray scored on a 10-yard touchdown run with 9:01 left, and the Knights were able to stave off Georgia to post the victory. The Bulldogs had the ball last and converted two fourth downs before Kemal Ishmael knocked down Aaron Murray's final throw into the end zone as time expired.

The Bulldogs also started both halves driving down field easily before bogging down and settling for field goals of 20 and 41 yards by Blair Walsh. These teams went to halftime tied at 3-3 after a first half in which both Georgia and UCF wasted chances at the end zone.

No. 12 MSU Rallies Past Bulldogs In 2012 Outback Bowl

Tavarres King

Georgia dropped a 33-30 decision to Michigan State in a thrilling three-overtime game in the Outback Bowl in front of 49,429 fans and a nationally televised ABC audience.

Bulldog junior Tavarres King set a school-record with 205 yards receiving on six catches, including a career-long 80-yard TD. Defensive back Brandon Boykin, who was named the MVP of the game, forced a safety, returned a punt 92 yards for a TD and scored on a 13-yard run.

With 2:06 left, MSU quarterback Kirk Cousins led a 10-play 85-yard drive that tied the game at 27-27 to send it into overtime. After an interception by Bacarri Rambo on MSU's first possession, Georgia senior Blair Walsh missed a 42-yard field goal to send it to another overtime. Both teams exchanged field goals in the second OT. The Spartans opened the third OT with a field goal that gave them a 33-30 lead. Georgia had a chance to tie it again, but its 47-yard field goal attempt was blocked, sealing the win for the Spartans.

Bulldogs Defeat Nebraska In 2013 Capital One Bowl

Chris Conley

No. 5 Georgia handed the 21st-ranked Nebraska Cornhuskers a 45-31 loss in front of 59,712 fans and a national TV audience in the Capital One Bowl.

On the second Georgia drive of the game, Aaron Murray capped an 80-yard drive with a 29-yard completion to Arthur Lynch.

Nebraska answered with a pair of TDs to take a 14-9 lead, but the lead didn't last, as Todd Gurley rushed for a 24-yard TD. The Huskers responded with a six-play, 44-yard drive that resulted in a 39-yard field goal that made it a 23-17 game midway through the second quarter. After a Georgia three-and-out, Nebraska took a 24-23 lead on a 16-yard pass to Rex Burkhead.

On the opening drive of the second half, Nebraska scored on a two-yard TD run by Burkhead that extended Nebraska's lead to 31-23. Georgia answered on the following drive with a 49-yard touchdown grab by Chris Conley. Georgia scored TDs on its next two possessions to take a 45-31 lead and seal the bowl victory.

Todd Gurley

No. 23 Georgia Bulldogs sustained a 24-19 loss to Nebraska in the TaxSlayer.com Gator Bowl in front of 60,712 fans in Jacksonville and a national ESPN audience.

After a scoreless first quarter, Hutson Mason led Georgia on an 12-play, 38-yard drive that produced a Marshall Morgan 39-yard field goal. Nebraska, however, took advantage of a fumbled punt return by the Bulldogs to take a 7-3 lead with 9:05 left in the second quarter. The teams traded field goals to complete first-half scoring with the Huskers holding a 10-9 edge.

Nebraska forged ahead 24-12 with touchdowns on its first two possessions of the second half. The latter came on a 99-yard pass from Tommy Armstrong, Jr. to Quincy Enunwa with 4:58 left in the third quarter.

Georgia scored its first touchdown of the game at the start of the fourth quarter when Hutson Mason passed for 25 yards to Todd Gurley. Later in the fourth quarter, the Bulldogs looked to take the lead, twice driving inside the Nebraska 20. Georgia was unable to convert on either fourth down, however, allowing Nebraska to come away with the victory.

Belk Bowl MVP

Nick Chubb rushed for a UGA-bowl record 266 yards to propel No. 13 Georgia past 20th-ranked Louisville 37-14 in front of a crowd of 45,671 and a national ESPN audience in the Belk Bowl at Bank of America Stadium in Charlotte.

Georgia struck first, taking a 7-0 lead on a nine-play, 60-yard drive in the first quarter. On 2nd-and-14, Hutson Mason connected with Chris Conley for a 45-yard touchdown that gave the Bulldogs a 7-0 lead after the Marshall Morgan PAT.

The Cardinals answered on the next drive, going 84 yards on nine plays to tie the game at 7-7. Gerald Christian scored the TD on an 11-yard pass from Kyle Bolin.

Already leading 20-7 at halftime, Georgia broke the game open late in the third quarter. Chubb's 82-yard run, starting at his own 3-yard line, paved the way for Sony Michel to score from two yards out with 5:41 left. After UL answered with a score, the Bulldogs put the game out of reach in the fourth period with a Morgan field goal and an 8-yard TD run by Chubb.

Terry Godwin
Taxslayer Bowl MVP

After jumping ahead 24-3 in the third quarter, Georgia was able to hold on and beat Penn State 24-17 in the TaxSlayer Bowl at Jacksonville's EverBank Field.

Freshman Terry Godwin became the first non-quarterback to throw for a score for Georgia since 2005, and the first Bulldog wideout to throw for a score since 1998, when he hit senior Malcolm Mitchell in stride for a 44-yard strike for the first touchdown of the game. Later in the first half, he pulled in a 17-yard touchdown from Greyson Lambert.

After Sony Michel's third-quarter TD run pushed Georgia comfortably ahead, Penn State finally broke through on the first play of the fourth quarter. Backup quarterback Trace McSorley connected with Geno Lewis for a 17-yard score. Two drives later, McSorley hit DaeSean Hamilton for a TD that trimmed the margin to 24-17.

Georgia got the ball back and consumed most of the remaining 6:07 with a solid drive. Bulldog defenders, however, had to preserve the victory by batting down a 43-yard Hail Mary heave by McSorley on the final play.

Sony Michel

The Georgia Bulldogs grabbed the school's 30th all-time bowl victory in a 31-23 win over the TCU Horned Frogs in the Autozone Liberty Bowl at the Liberty Bowl Memorial Stadium in Memphis.

Georgia junior tailbacks Nick Chubb and Sony Michel combined for 268 total yards and three touchdowns. Chubb amassed 142 yards on the ground, including a 13-yard touchdown run that strengthened the Bulldogs' lead to eight points at 31-23 with 2:48 left in the game.

Michel, the Liberty Bowl Offensive MVP, supplied the Bulldogs with one rushing touchdown on 87 yards and another on 39 receiving yards. On the defensive side of the ball, sophomore lineman Trenton Thompson collected three sacks, a Liberty Bowl record, and was named Liberty Bowl Overall MVP and defensive MVP.

Georgia took its first lead of the game at 21-16 on a 4-yard pass from Jacob Eason to Javon Wims midway through the third quarter. The Horned Frogs answered late in the period with a short touchdown pass of their own. Rodrigo Blankenship's 30-yard field goal 90 seconds into the fourth quarter gave Georgia the lead for keeps.

Bulldogs Top Sooners In Rose Bowl Game for the Ages

• Sony Michel's 27-yard touchdown run in the second overtime capped one of the wildest games in program history, a 4-hour roller coaster ride that sent Georgia into the National Championship Game.

• Michel's winning score was his fourth of a career-best game, one in which he gained 181 yards rushing and also caught four passes.

• Georgia overcame a 17-point second-quarter deficit and and a 7-point margin in the final minutes of regulation. Nick Chubb scored the equalizer on a 2-yard sprint around right end with just 55 seconds left, knotting the score at 45. The tying drive covered 59 yards in seven plays.

• After an exchange of field goals in the first overtime, Lorenzo Carter blocked a Sooner field goal from 27 yards to give Georgia the advantage. It was the Bulldogs' third block of a placement kick in the 2017 season and fourth block overall.

Bulldogs' Bid for Title Falls Short vs. Alabama

• Alabama defeated Georgia in the 2018 College Football Playoff National Championship Game, overcoming two 13-point deficits and an errant field goal attempt that would have won it in regulation.

• Still, the Bulldogs led in overtime on the strength of a 51-yard field goal by Rodrigo Blankenship. They even took the upper hand by sacking Bama quarterback Tua Tagovailoa for a 16-yard loss on the Tide's first play in the extra period. But on second down, Tagovailoa hit DeVonta Smith for a 41-yard scoring pass that ended the game.

• Georgia controlled the first half, taking a 13-0 lead on Mecole Hardman's 1-yard run just before intermission. Hardman scored again on an 80-yard pass from Jake Fromm with 6:52 left in the third quarter, answering Bama's first score of the night.

• This game marked Georgia's first appearance since 1982 in a game where victory would have given it a national title in football.

Mecole Hardman

• It was also the first time that any Bulldog team had played consecutive overtime games. Georgia is now 8-6 all-time in overtime contests, including 3-3 at neutral sites.

The Arch

Serving as the official symbol of the University of Georgia, the Arch was built in the 1850s and originally served as part of a larger iron fence securing the campus. Daniel Redfearn (BL 1909, BS 1910) is credited with making the Arch the sacred symbol of UGA. Recognized as one of the school's finest icons, students today hold the Arch in high regard as its three pillars represent the virtues of wisdom, justice, and moderation.

The "G"

In 1963 after becoming the Bulldogs' Head Football Coach, Vince Dooley redesigned the football uniform, choosing a red helmet with a black "G" on a white background as the dominant feature of the new uniform for the 1964 season.

He discussed with his staff that a forward-looking "G" would be an appropriate emblem for the helmet of the Georgia team. Dooley had just hired John Donaldson, former Georgia player from 1945 to 1948, as backfield coach. Donaldson was keen on the idea of a new image and volunteered his wife, Anne, who had a BFA in commercial art from UGA, to design a logo for the new Georgia helmet with the general specifications Dooley had outlined. Dooley accepted Anne's original "G" which fit his vision for a forward look to Georgia's new emblem.

Since the Georgia "G", though different in design and color, was similar to Green Bay's "G", Coach Dooley thought it best to clear the use of Georgia's new emblem with the NFL team. Athletic Director Joel Eaves called for permission, which was granted. However, since its inception in 1961, the Green Bay "G" has been redesigned several times and now looks like Georgia's original 1964 "G." Georgia is proud that the Packers apparently liked the special nuances of the Bulldogs' forward-looking "G".

Georgia's oval "G", eventually replacing Georgia's old block "G" as the official UGA symbol, has stood the test of time. It made its first appearance in the opening game in 1964 and was an immediate hit with the Georgia fans, especially after Dooley's first three teams were so successful—highlighted by the 1966 SEC Championship.

"Silver Britches"

Silver Britches were an innovation of Coach Wally Butts, who took over as head coach in 1939. The handsome pants complemented the bright red jersey and made for a striking uniform. Through the years, fans referred to the Bulldogs' silver britches in their chants and on banners, but the phrase really caught on in the early fifties with a cheer, banners, and colorful vests that proclaimed "Go, You Silver Britches." Coach Vince Dooley re-designed the uniform when he came in 1964 and used white pants; however, he re-instituted the silver britches in 1980 just prior to what turned out to be Georgia's national championship season.

The Chapel Bell

The ringing of the chapel bell after a Georgia victory is a tradition that continues even though freshmen are no longer ordered to do the chore. In the 1890's, the playing field was located only yards from the Chapel and first-year students were compelled to ring the bell until midnight in celebration of a Bulldog victory. Today students, alumni, and townspeople still rush to the Chapel to ring the bell after a gridiron victory.

"Glory, Glory"

Among the University's oldest and most lasting traditions is the school fight song, "Glory, Glory," which is sung to the tune of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." It was sung at games as early as the 1890's, but arranged in its present form by Georgia's immortal musician-composer Hugh Hodgson in 1915. There have been many Bulldog songs through the years and at least two collections dating back to 1909 have been published, but none have enjoyed more acceptance than "Glory, Glory."

"How 'Bout Them Dogs"

This is a slogan of recent vintage, but one that has become a battle cry of Bulldog fans probably because of its obvious grammatical slur. It first surfaced during the mid to late 1970's especially during the 1978 season when the Bulldogs posted several remarkable, come-from-behind victories. It gained national attention and exposure when Georgia won the national championship in 1980. A major wire service used the phrase in its story of Georgia's victory over Notre Dame and many newspapers picked it up in glaring headlines across the country proclaiming "How 'Bout Them Dogs!"

"Bulldogs"

Many oldtimers say Georgia acquired the nickname, "Bulldogs," because of the strong ties with Yale, whose nickname is "Bulldogs." Georgia's first president, Abraham Baldwin, was a Yale man and the early buildings on campus were designed from blueprints of the same buildings at Yale. However, the first references to the nickname "Bulldogs" actually came in the 1910's (1911-20) by Atlanta newspaper writers covering both football and baseball games. Although used occasionally during the previous decade, the nickname began to be consistently used around 1920.

On Nov. 3, 1920, Morgan Blake of the Atlanta Journal wrote about school nicknames and said "The Georgia Bulldogs would sound good because there is a certain dignity about a bulldog, as well as ferocity." After a 0-0 tie with Virginia in Charlottesville on Nov. 6, 1920, Atlanta Constitution writer Cliff Wheatley used the name "Bulldogs" in his story five times. Gene Hinton also used the term "Bulldogs." The nickname seemed to be off and running.

"Between The Hedges"

A reference to Sanford Stadium that dates to the early 1930's. The famous Chinese privet hedges that surround Sanford's playing field were only one foot high when the stadium was dedicated in 1929 and were protected by a wooden fence. It was natural for a clever sports writer, referring to an upcoming home game, to observe "that the Bulldogs will have their opponent 'between the hedges." At least one old-timer says the phrase was first coined by the legendary Atlanta sportswriter Grantland Rice.

"Lone Trumpeter"

Seven minutes before kickoff in Sanford Stadium, the Bulldog Nation directs its attention to a lone trumpeter standing in the upper deck of the southwest corner of the stadium. The soloist is recognized and begins to play the first 14 notes of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." The Battle Hymn solo was originally composed in 1987 as a student project by Jeff Simmons and became a part of the pre-game traditions in 2000. Each year, 25-30 members of the Redcoat Band audition for one of the 4-5 soloist positions.

UGA MASCOT TRADITION

Although the University of Georgia is now known as the home of Uga, the pure white English bulldog, several mascots led the Red and Black before Frank W. Seiler provided the current lineage beginning in 1956.

The Goat -- Feb. 22, 1892

Georgia's mascot for its first football game against Auburn, February 22, 1892 in Atlanta, Ga., was a goat. Old newspaper clippings indicate that the goat wore a black coat with red U.G. letters on each side. He also had on a hat with ribbons all down his high horns, and the Auburn fans yelled throughout the game "shoot the billy-goat."

Trilby with owner Charles H. Black

In 1894, Georgia's mascot was a solid white female bull terrier owned by a student, Charles H. Black, Sr., of Atlanta. Trilby, named after a novel by George Du Maurier, served as the campus pet and mascot for the Chi Phi fraternity.

Disputing stories speculate the origin of the Bulldog nickname, and the story of Trilby provides yet another opinion: "...every day Trilby took herself down to old Herty field with her master for football practice. She ran signals with the best of them and became an accustomed figure on the athletic field...One morning, Trilby failed to appear for her breakfast and after a frantic search she was finally discovered proudly washing the faces of her newborn family, 13 white puppies...Late one dusky fall afternoon, Trilby appeared for a grid workout and scampering after her came her 13 children, darting through players' legs, barking and pace. 'Well,' suggested one of the players, 'Trilby has brought us a name, Bulldogs.' ...Every time a game was played on Herty Field, the boys would floss Trilby and her 13 offerings up with red and black ribbons, and so attired they have gone down in history as perhaps the first 'sponsors' in southern football." —Ruth Stanton Cogill (Atlanta newspaper)

"After the rein of Trilby and her family, chaos developed in the mascot department at the university. Many games had several, depending on which alumnus got his dog to the game first." —AJC, Nov. 18, 1962

Mr. Angel, 1944-46

Mr. Angel, a brindle and white colored English Bulldog owned by Eastman,Ga.,-physician, Warren Coleman, filled a void during some of the war years.

There was no mascot roaming the sidelines and Coleman took Mr. Angel to games and stood with him on the sidelines. His picture on the field and with the Georgia cheerleaders appears in the 1945 and '46 UGA annual, the Pandora.

Butch, 1947-50

Butch was a brindled English bulldog owned by Mabry Smith of Warner Robins, Ga. He was spotted by students who were attending the 1946 Georgia-Georgia Tech game in Athens, and the canine appeared to be suited for the mascot position. Smith agreed to loan Butch to the University during the football season along with a female puppy named Tuffy. The female died of a heart attack following the Georgia-Kentucky game in 1948, but Butch continued to serve. Spending the off-season at Smith's home in Warner Robins, Butch was tragically shot in the summer of 1951 by a policeman after the dog escaped from his pen and was found roaming the streets. Butch is buried behind Smith's business along Watson Boulevard.

In 2004 plans for a marker honoring Butch in his hometown were put into motion by longtime Warner Robins resident Guy Fussell.

Uga Takes the Field

In the last 100 years of intercollegiate football, Georgia's Uga has established himself as the nation's most well-known mascot. The line of pure white English bulldogs, which epitomizes everything Georgia, has been owned by the Frank W. "Sonny" Seiler family of Savannah, Ga., since Uga I first graced the campus in 1956.

Sanford Stadium Graves

Through the years, Uga has been defined by his spiked collar, a symbol of the position which he holds. He was given his name, an abbreviation for the university, by William Young of Columbus, a law school classmate of Seiler. Each of the Uga mascots is awarded a varsity letter in the form of a plaque, identical to those presented to all Bulldog athletes who letter in their respective sports.

As determined and published by the Pittsburgh Press, the University of Georgia is the only major college that actually buries its mascots within the confines of the stadium. Ugas I-IX are buried in marble vaults near the main gate in the embankment of the South stands. Epitaphs to the dogs are inscribed in bronze, and before each home game, flowers are placed on their graves. The memorial plot attracts hundreds of fans and visitors each year.

For the past 20 years, Uga's jerseys have been custom-made at the beginning of each season from the same material used for the players' jerseys. Old jerseys are destroyed.

Uga's on-field home is a permanent air conditioned doghouse located next to the cheerleader's platform, providing comfort in the heat of August and September. The custom-made doghouse is a gift from the Bahamian Bulldog Club of Nassau, Bahamas, through the courtesy of Fred Hazlewood.

Uga I

The current Uga line of solid white English bulldogs began with Uga I, Hood's Ole Dan, born Dec. 2, 1955, in Columbus. Uga I was given to Cecelia Seiler by a friend, Frank Heard of Columbus and appeared in his first game in the 1956 home opener. As recalled by Sonny Seiler, "...his original red jerseys were made by Cecelia. It was necessary to take up children's t-shirts to fit the dog in the right places. There is no telling how many of these jersey's he wore out. During the early games in Athens, especially the hot ones before he had a dog house, the large green hedges that surround Sanford Stadium afford welcomed shade in the heat of battle. Unfortunately, the hedges constantly tore these jerseys and new ones had to be made."

Uga II

Uga II, 1966-72 "Ole Dan's Uga" Record: 42-16-3

Uga I was succeeded by his son, Ole Dan's Uga at an impressive pregame ceremony at Homecoming, 1966. With the Georgia Redcoat Band lining the field, Uga II was led to the center of the field by Charles Seiler, son of Sonny and Cecelia. The student body erupted in a cheer that was picked up by the entire stadium, "Damn Good Dog!"

Uga II had an impressive reign as he watched Georgia participate in five bowl games and win two SEC championships.

Uga III

Uga III, 1972-80 "Seiler's Uga Three" Record: 71-32-2

Born Oct. 9, 1972, Seiler's Uga III was present for Georgia football's finest moment as Herschel Walker took the Bulldogs to the 1980 national championship. He led Georgia to six bowl games in nine years and closed out his career in ultimate fashion winning the 1980 NCAA championship. Uga III retired on the 100th football game of his career, marking the season-opener of the 1981 season. He died just weeks later.

Uga IV

Uga IV was perhaps the most active of all the Georgia mascots, standing as the only one to attend a bowl game every year of his service (1981-89). He took over for Uga III in the 1981 season opener and over the next nine seasons, led Georgia to a record of 77-27-4. The highlight of his career was his personal appearance at the Heisman Trophy Banquet with Herschel Walker in New York on December 9, 1982. Uga IV was escorted through thebanquet hall by the president of the Downtown Athletic Club, and was earlier photographed with Herschel by photographers from across the country. The proud Bulldog donned his game jersey for the outing and added the formal touch of a collar and black tie. Uga IV was the first mascot invited to the Heisman Banquet.Declared "Dog of the Decade" by Vince Dooley in 1991, Uga IV was posthumously awarded the highest honor available to University of Georgia mascots — the Georgia varsity letter.

Otto

Otto, 1986 "The Substitute" Record: 3-1

Although Otto was not pure white like his father, he was called upon to fill in for his younger brother, Uga IV, who injured ligaments in his left hind knee when jumping off a hotel bed before the Vanderbilt contest. In four games during the 1986 season, Otto led the team to a 3-1 record and also co-mascotted (along with Uga IV), a victory over instate rival Georgia Tech. After winning his first two games, fans cheered, "2-and-0 with Otto!" Dooley, serving as head coach during Otto's brief tenure, favored the substitute the most. "I have always had a great affection for those who came off the bench and performed, and he did that and had a great time," Dooley said. Otto is buried in the Seiler's backyard.

Uga V, 1990-99
"UGA IV's Magillicuddy II"
Record: 65-39-1

In the first game of 1990, Uga V officially began his reign as the Georgia mascot, taking over from his father Uga IV, who passed away at his home in Savannah on Feb. 26, 1990. Uga V was the last pup sired by Uga IV and was born on March 6, 1990.

Named in honor of one of the greatest Bulldogs, Dan Magill, former Assistant Athletic Director for Public Relations and longtime tennis coach and sports information director. Surprisingly, the Seiler family became aware that Uga IV's mate was expecting only 10 days before the litter was due. This notice came a week after Uga IV had passed away at his home in Savannah from kidney failure. There were only three pups in the litter and the last one born on March 6 was the only solid white male.

Uga V had been perhaps the most well known of all the Bulldog mascots, highlighted by his appearance on the cover of the April 28, 1997, Sports Illustrated which declared him the nation's best college mascot. Rocketed to stardom, he also appeared in Clint Eastwood's "Midnight In The Garden Of Good And Evil" — filmed in his hometown of Savannah, Ga. He died on Nov. 22, 1999, just over two months after his retirement.

Uga VI

Uga VI, 1999-2008
"Uga V's Whatchagot Loran"
Record: 87-27

In 2007, Uga VI became the winningest mascot in school history and owned a record of 87-27. The fall of 2008 would have been his 10th season after Uga VI reigned over more games than any other mascot with 114. He died on June 27, 2008. In his last game, the Bulldogs defeated Hawai'i 41-10 in the 2008 Sugar Bowl in New Orleans.

The pregame passing of the bone ceremony from Uga V to his heftier and friskier son, Whatchagot Loran, took place at the 1999 Georgia-South Carolina contest. Only a year old at his coronation, Uga VI stood as the biggest of all the Uga mascots weighing in at 65 pounds — 20 pounds heavier than his father.

His first season climaxed in a magnificent come from behind victory over Purdue at the Outback Bowl in Tampa. The 2000 season ended in Hawaii, but due to the distance and a quarantine rule, Uga VI missed the O'ahu Bowl, marking the first time the Georgia mascot had missed the postseason game since the 1969 Sun Bowl.

Alongside first-year head coach Mark Richt, Uga VI saw his third consecutive 8-4 season, which included a 26-24 win at then-No. 6 Tennessee for the Bulldogs' first win in Knoxville since 1980.

Uga VI and Georgia experienced their best run in two decades during the 2002-05 seasons. That stretch included 44 wins, a pair of SEC titles and appearances in the Sugar, Capital One and Outback Bowls.

In 2007, Uga VI passed Uga IV (77-24-4) for the most wins of any bulldog in school history.

"Loran's Best"
Record: 16-7

The seventh in the Uga line of Georgia mascots was introduced to the Georgia people on Aug. 30, 2008, during pre-game ceremonies of the Bulldogs' season opener against Georgia Southern.

"Loran's Best" officially became "Uga VII," when he was introduced for the first time to the Sanford Stadium crowd prior to kickoff of the Georgia vs. Georgia Southern game. He was escorted onto the field by members of the Frank W. "Sonny" Seiler family of Savannah who have owned the continuous line of mascots since Uga I took up the mantle in 1956.

Uga VII passed away unexpectedly on Nov. 19 of heart-related causes. It was the Thursday before the final home game of the 2009 season and the Bulldogs did not have a live mascot at the game. Instead, a wreath was placed on UGA VII's doghouse, and the players wore a special UGA VII decal on their helmets to remember him. "Russ," the five-year-old half brother of Uga VII, served as the Bulldog mascot for the Georgia Tech game in Atlanta and helped his squad to a 30-24 win. He was the first substitute mascot since "Otto" in 1986.

Epitaph: Gone Too Soon

Uga VIII, 2010
"Big Bad Bruce"
Record: 4-2

Uga VIII

Born Sept. 12, 2009 in Savannah, Ga., Uga VIII is the grandson of Uga VI. He carried on the tradition of more than 60 years of all-white bulldogs bred by Frank "Sonny" Seiler and family.

Uga VIII was named in honor of Dr. Bruce Hollett from the University's School of Veterinary Medicine. Dr. Hollett has been a longtime caregiver for the famed line of English bulldogs. UGA VIII served six games in the 2010 season before he became ill and missed the AutoZone Liberty Bowl. He passed away with lymphoma on February 4, 2011.

Epitaph: He Never Had a Chance

Uga IX, 2012-14
("Russ", 2009-2012: 16-9)

Uga IX

"Uga IX, formerly "Russ," the half-brother of Uga VII, served as interim Bulldog mascot for a total of 25 games. He worked nine games during the 2009 and 2010 seasons after Uga VII and VIII passed away. He roamed the sidelines at all 14 games during the 2011 season. He then served for two wins at the beginning of the 2012 season before being promoted as Uga IX prior to the Florida Atlantic game on Sept. 15, 2012. His time as mascot included the 2011 and 2012 SEC Eastern Division championships, three road wins at Georgia Tech, a victory over Texas A&M in the 2009 Independence Bowl in Shreveport, La., and a win over Nebraska in the 2013 Capital One Bowl. He was the first substitute mascot since "Otto" in 1986.

Epitaph: He endeared himself to the Georgia people. His dedication to duty when called upon was exemplary.

Uga X, 2015-Present
"Que"
Record: 42-12

Uga IX officially retired as the Bulldogs' mascot at the end of the 2014 season. After a three-month "audition" in that role, his grandson "Que" was formally crowned as his successor in a collaring ceremony prior to the Georgia-Georgia Southern game on Nov. 21, 2015. Que assumed the title of Uga X at the age of 2 1/2 years. During his audition, he made appearances at the Countdown to Kickoff event in July 2015, as well as Picture Day in August, before presiding over the entirety of the 2015 football season. Que capped his inaugural season by leading the team to a 24-17 victory over Penn State at the 2016 Taxslayer Bowl.

Greg McGarity

J. Reid Parker
Director of Athletics

Athens native and University of Georgia graduate Greg McGarity was named Director of Athletics at UGA on August 13, 2010, after serving 18 years in the athletic department at the University of Florida. Since that time, McGarity has emphasized exploring new ideas and initiatives designed to move the organization forward in all areas of competition, academics, service, and exceptional experiences for student-athletes and supporters.

McGarity oversees a 21-sport athletics program supported by a budget of $143 million. UGA teams under his watch have won national championships in women's swimming and diving (2013, '14, '16), equestrian (2014), women's indoor track and field (2018), men's outdoor track and field (2018), and SEC championships in football (2017), men's tennis (2011, '13, '14, '15, '16, '17) men's tennis SEC Tournament (2012, '13, '17), women's tennis (2013), women's tennis SEC Tournament (2014), women's swimming and diving (2011, '12, '13, '14, and '15), equestrian (2015, '17, and '18), and four SEC eastern division titles in football (2011, 2012, 2017 and 2018)). The 2017 football team was also the 2018 Rose Bowl champion and College Football Playoff national runnerup. During McGarity's tenure as AD, 18 different Georgia teams have been ranked in the nation's top 20 and 10 in the top ten. Georgia's finish in the Learfield Directors' Cup, which annually measures athletic teams success in NCAA championships, has been in the top 20 every year of his tenure, reaching as high as 8th in 2018.

McGarity has also been a standard bearer for academic achievement. Since his arrival, Georgia student-athletes have been the recipients of 18 NCAA Post Graduate Scholarships, 30 CoSIDA Academic All-American awards, three NCAA Top Ten honors, three SEC Boyd McWhorter SEC Scholar-Athletes of the Year, two SEC Brad Davis Community Service Awards, and one SEC Sportsmanship Award winner.

In addition, McGarity has been at the forefront of facility expansion and renovations which have totaled over $115 million during his tenure, with more on the way. The construction of the $30 million William Porter Payne and Porter Otis Payne Indoor Athletic Facility adjacent to the Butts-Mehre Building was completed in January, 2017, and provides a facility for use by multiple sports. Completed in July, 2018, is the $63 million Sanford Stadium west end addition which features a new home locker room, recruiting facility, and entry plaza connecting the Gillis bridge to the stadium as well as new concession stands and rest rooms. Also completed in 2018 were $7 million in improvements to Stegeman Coliseum and the Boyd Golf Center expansion. Other recent projects include a $12 million Foley Field (baseball) facility renovation and new scoreboards/video boards at baseball, softball and soccer. New sound systems in Stegeman Coliseum and Sanford Stadium have also been installed to improve the fan experience.

Under McGarity's leadership, fundraising has reached unprecedented heights. For the 2018 fiscal year, The Georgia Bulldog Club raised a record $80 million in cash and pledges to support UGA Athletics. In September of 2015 a new philanthropic giving arm was created, The Magill Society, which currently has over 900 members that have contributed more than $86 million to support athletic facility projects. The Scholarship Endowment has grown to over $41 million, and five coaching and administrative positions have been endowed.

McGarity was a letterman on the 1973 Bulldog tennis team and after graduation began his professional career at UGA. After serving as a student assistant from 1973-77, he held positions as assistant sports information director and head women's tennis coach (1977-81), administrative assistant (1982-88), and assistant athletic director for facilities and event management (1988-92).

McGarity is married to the former Sheryl Holland, who graduated from UGA in 1976 with a Bachelor of Science degree in education. They have one son, Alex, a graduate of the University of Florida and the University of Georgia.

Jere W. Morehead

President
University of Georgia

When Jere W. Morehead became the University of Georgia's 22nd President, he set forth a bold vision to elevate the birthplace of public higher education in America to new heights of excellence. Today, that vision is becoming a reality through hands-on student learning, expanded global research, and extensive public service and outreach.

President Morehead, an accomplished legal scholar and award-winning professor, has spearheaded efforts to strengthen undergraduate education and enhance student success. Under his tenure, UGA has become the largest public institution in the country to implement a campus-wide experiential learning initiative and has launched a number of capital projects to transform the learning environment—from the Business Learning Community and the Science Learning Center on the Athens campus to Delta Hall in the nation's capital.

UGA, which consistently ranks among the top 20 public universities in America, is known nationally for providing an outstanding value to students and their families. The academic quality of UGA's student body continues to grow stronger every year, and the University's retention and graduation rates are among the highest in the nation—a clear sign of academic excellence. Under President Morehead's leadership, UGA's research enterprise continues to evolve to address the most pressing challenges facing Georgia, the nation, and the world. Annual research and development expenditures—a key measure of productivity—have increased by nearly 30 percent over the past five years, defying national trends. UGA is recruiting world-leading scientists to expand research capacity in fields such as infectious diseases and informatics, while also elevating graduate education to train future scholars.

As the reach of the University becomes more global, UGA remains dedicated to its land-grant mission to promote prosperity across Georgia by training the state's leaders, helping to solve pressing challenges, and promoting economic development. The latest estimate puts the University's economic impact on Georgia at $5.7B, reflecting a growing investment in the future of this state.

The University is currently in the midst of its most ambitious fundraising campaign ever, the Commit to Georgia Campaign, with a goal of raising $1.2B to amplify the positive impact of UGA faculty, staff, and students on the world. Alumni and friends are supporting the campaign at unprecedented levels. In 2018, for the fifth consecutive year, the University set a new record in annual fundraising, with donors contributing $242M in new gifts and pledges—doubling the amount raised in FY13, the year before President Morehead took office.

President Morehead is deeply engaged in discussions about the value of public higher education and the role of athletics in universities. He is a member of the Committee of Research Intensive Public Universities under the Association of Public and Land-grant Universities as well as the Council on Competitiveness. He also serves as a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) Division I Presidential Forum, the Southeastern Conference (SEC) Executive Committee, and the SEC Working Group on Student-Athlete Conduct. He formerly chaired the SEC Working Group on Compliance, Enforcement, and Governance.

President Morehead is a graduate of the University of Georgia, earning a juris doctor degree from the School of Law in 1980. After graduation, he served as an Assistant United States Attorney with the Department of Justice from 1980 to 1986, when he joined the faculty of UGA's Terry College of Business. President Morehead is serving in his sixth year as the President of the University of Georgia, having previously served in a number of key administrative roles at UGA, including Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost, Vice President for Instruction, Vice Provost for Academic Affairs, and Associate Provost and Director of the Honors Program.

Athens Banner-Herald
By: Ryne Dennis
Published Thursday, September 27, 2018

Coming into the season, Georgia's offensive line returned all but one starter from a unit that bullied opponents around a year ago on the way to playing in the national championship game.

But after four games, a rash of injuries and jostling for starting jobs has left the group of Bulldogs that most believed to be one of the team's strongest entities hardly recognizable.

Lamont Gaillard has been the constant of the group as he's set to start his 33rd straight game for the Bulldogs when they kick off at 3:30 p.m. Saturday against Tennessee.

"I think he's the rock, you know," coach Kirby Smart said on Monday. "You got one guy in there, and that's always one of the toughest positions to replace, is that position. That's the voice, that's the leader. That's the guy that handles it all."

As much of a puzzle as the offensive line has become, Gaillard has remained the centerpiece.

"Continuity is really important in the offensive line and whether Andrew is beside Solly (Solomon Kindley) or Cade is beside Solly," Smart said, "that guy in the middle is one of the centerpieces, and he's done a good job leading that group."

After making the switch from defensive to offensive line during his redshirt freshman season, the role Gaillard has had for three seasons now has been quite miraculous.

The so-called quarterback of the line has to communicate with those around him, hear checks from the quarterback, snap the ball and then find his blocking assignment.

All of that while those around him have been changing at a moment's notice.

"Lamont is huge," quarterback Jake Fromm said. "To have those interchangeable parts along the offensive line, he gets those guys moving in the same direction. As far as the offense, if we are doing that then we are going to be successful."

Gaillard says he's just doing his part and he believes that those around him will fill in admirably when they get the chance.

He also puts the onus of the line's success on offensive line coach Sam Pittman and others.

"Some people have gone down, of course, but we've got more people who can come off the bench and ready to play," Gaillard said. "That is just the preparation that the coaches have given us."

"Lamont has done a good job of that communicating across the board, different fronts, different movements, different looks," Smart said. "He's the guy that leads that room through vocal and through kind of being the guy that's done it the most. So it's important to have him part of it."

Just a good ol' boy: Jake Fromm is like any other student at UGA; But he's also the quarterback of the football team

Athens Banner-Herald
By: Marc Weiszer
Published Aug. 26, 2018

The freshman experience for Jake Fromm was a just a tad bit different than most first-year college students.

Thrust into the most prominent position at a program thirsty to drink from the championship fountain, all Fromm did was help lead Georgia football to wins at Notre Dame, in the SEC championship game in Atlanta, in the Rose Bowl and very nearly to the national title that has eluded the Bulldogs since 1980.

He'll spend hours playing Fortnite. Or will fire up the grill at the home he shares with Georgia pitcher Tony Locey and tight end Charlie Woerner.

"He calls himself the grill-master but I think every man proclaims himself to be that," said Locey, Fromm's former baseball teammate at Houston County who now plays the sport at Georgia.

Fromm went from an expected backup role last season to suddenly the starting quarterback. Even though the SEC Freshman of the Year thrived in that role, he had to beat back five-star dual-threat recruit Justin Fields to hold onto the gig entering this season.

"The only way I see him going down is if he gets hurt and I don't even see him giving up after that if it does happen," said Nathan Ragsdale, a UGA student who is friends with Fromm. "That's just who he is. He's very driven. He's a competitor. It doesn't matter if it's fishing or hunting or whatever, he's ready to compete."

Ragsdale, who is from Fayetteville, South of Atlanta, bonded with Fromm this past school year because they both love the outdoors. Fromm and Locey became fast friends after Locey transferred to Houston County High before his junior season.

Locey and Fromm led Houston County to the 5A state title in 2016.

Fromm's pretty occupied with that football thing now but hasn't completely given up that other sport.

"Only a fastball," Locey informs.

Fromm and his friends take to the woods to hunt or hit the lake to fish.

"He's a simple guy, loves the Lord, loves the outdoors," said Locey, who attends 9:15 a.m. Sunday services with Fromm at Living Hope Baptist Church in Athens. "Goes about his business the right way. Just does everything the right way."

One in particular—Jeremiah 29:11—applies to the situation Fromm found himself this offseason, competing to hold onto his starting job with Fields joining the program this winter.

"For I know the plans I have for you, plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future."

Lassiter explained: "The plans he had for Jake were obviously beyond anybody's grasp. Nobody ever thought he would be given the opportunity that soon. I think that I understood and the people around us that watched that kid grow up knew that when he was given the opportunity it would be well managed and well taken care of."

That opportunity came on the third offensive series of Georgia's first game last season. Jacob Eason scrambled out of bounds and sustained a sprained knee ligament.

Fromm stepped in and never looked back, guiding the Bulldogs to a 13-2 season.

"Coming here, you definitely get a football education," Fromm said this spring. "You learn a whole lot about football. Definitely being your first year of college, you grow up a lot."

Fromm, perhaps because of the quarterback intrigue, has not been made available since the spring for interviews, leaving others to talk about him.

"I'm amazed at Jake, his command of the team, not just on the field, but when I was sitting in the team meeting room when he walked in, you could tell it was his team at such a young age," said former Arizona Cardinals coach Bruce Arians who took in a spring practice.

His father said last September that Fromm came to Georgia ready to compete.

"He watched Eason on film, he watched Jalen Hurts on film, he watched Shea Patterson, all the schools he could have gone to, he watched and said 'I think I can beat this kid out," Emerson Fromm said. "And if I can't beat them out, I'm one play away from going in."

Coach Kirby Smart said Fromm knows "the inside and outside of everything a little better now."

That's the benefit of playing more than 900 snaps last season.

"I think he's much more comfortable," Smart said. "You can't even imagine from this time last year to now. That's just a lot of games. He's played a lot of football games. His understanding of what we're trying to do offensively, his step now is he knows what the defense is doing now before the defense does it, especially against us, who he goes against every day. So his development has been good because he played all these games. He understands where the weakness is in each defense and he can exploit that."

Fromm could lean heavily on Georgia's run game last season, but still threw 24 touchdowns with seven interceptions and was ninth nationally in passing efficiency.

"I've never see him waver," Ragsdale said. "He's very confident in his abilities. Not cocky, but just confident. He works hard to maintain that."

"Somebody went under and held on too long to the rope and happened to come back in the boat," said Locey, who was there. "He wasn't paying attention, wasn't even looking. It was a freak accident. If the person did it 100 times, it probably would hit him once. It just so happened to hit him right."

There was initial worry about the injury but it turned out Fromm didn't miss practice time. He wore a splint on the hand this preseason.

Those injuries—minor as they may have been—were big news because it was Fromm.

"He can't just walk outside of his house without someone recognizing him," Locey said.

That doesn't keep Fromm going to see country artists Cole Swindell (who texted Fromm before the show), Riley Green or the Zac Brown Band. His friend Jordan Rowe, a UGA student, played the famed 40 Watt in Athens in August.

Lassiter and his family take Fromm out to get burgers at Grindhouse when he's in town.

"His body has changed because of what that staff has done there," Lassiter said. "He's always been able to make just unbelievable throws, putting the ball where it needed to be. He's always understood defenses. I think the biggest thing is pocket awareness, know when to get out, know when to step up. Those things have continued to improve. The thing overall I've seen in him is his physical attributes. He is bigger and stronger and faster than he ever has been."

Year one of Jake Fromm at Georgia nearly translated into a national title. With Fields in the mix for playing time, Fromm 2.0 may need to be even better.

"They say there's always room for improvement," wide receiver Jayson Stanley said. "I'm scared to see what Jake (could do). We could go so far. I see us going farther."

Red & Black

Published Nov. 8, 2018

When D'Andre Swift was a young child, he would spend Sundays in front of the TV watching the Philadelphia Eagles. Living in Philadelphia, Swift grew up an Eagles fan and often watched games with his grandfather, Henry Holloway.

Darren Swift, his father, said he remembers Swift expressing a dream during those early years while watching the Eagles.

"He would always say to myself and to my father-in-law, 'Dad — or Pop-Pop — I'm going to be on TV when I get older. I'm going to play in the NFL,'" Darren Swift said.

As a sophomore running back at Georgia, Swift is one step closer to achieving that childhood goal. He first stepped in the national spotlight during his freshman year in 2017 when he finished as the team's third-leading rusher and fourth-leading receiver.

In the wake of the departures of Sony Michel and Nick Chubb, D'Andre Swift was called up to step into a featured role. For much of his sophomore year, he's been hindered by injuries which set him back early on. But it didn't stop from pursuing his childhood dream. Since returning to full form, Swift has gone on to have some of his best performances in games against Florida and Kentucky. His presence in the backfield is a key part in Georgia's pursuit for another SEC championship title.

"I think that when I'm healthy, the sky's the limit for me," Swift said.

Swift had his first career 100-yard rushing game against Florida on Oct. 27, where he finished with 104 rushing yards on 12 carries and one touchdown. Just seven days later against Kentucky on Nov. 3, he broke the personal record he set the week before, rushing for 156 yards on 16 carries for two touchdowns.

While he's found success the past two weeks, Swift wasn't as explosive earlier in the season. He dealt with different injuries throughout the season. He suffered a foot contusion against LSU and revealed in September he also dealt with a groin injury, similar to one he dealt with this spring.

Swift's accomplishments were recognized, and he was named Co-Offensive Player of the Week on Nov. 5 for his career-setting performance against Kentucky.

"I'm getting back healthy, so I think people are going to start seeing more of me exploding and stuff like that," Swift said.

Georgia head coach Kirby Smart recognizes Swift's growth from last season. During a press conference on Sept. 25, he said Swift has become more of an explosive running back.

Smart pointed out the differences in Swift between his two seasons. He was in the role as the change-up running back his freshman year because Michel and Chubb were Georgia's featured backs. This season, Swift has taken more reps and has worked to be a featured running back.

"I'm very pleased with his ability to protect and catch the ball out of the backfield," Smart said. "He's working really hard."

Swift has been splitting carries this season with junior running back Elijah Holyfield through Georgia's nine games. Swift acknowledged a competitive nature between the two of them, but referred to Holyfield as a brother.

Holyfield expressed a similar sentiment about Swift. He said they work to push each other to improve and be more vocal leaders for the team.

"We do a lot together, on and off the field, so I mean, we complement each other really well," Swift said.

Vanderbilt senior quarterback Kyle Shurmur said at SEC Media Days he remembered playing against Swift in high school. Shurmur attended LaSalle College High School, a rival school to Swift's St. Joseph's Prep.

"I was a junior and he was a freshman, and he was one of the best players on the field, if not the best player on the field," Shurmur said on July 19.

Gabe Infante, Swift's high school coach, agreed. Infante said he believes D'Andre Swift is one the best players he's ever seen in his 20-year coaching career.

Swift's strengths as a running back from high school translated into his current role at Georgia. Infante said he is asked to catch the ball out of the backfield, pick up hard yards and pass protect, three components that make him a well-rounded running back.

"So when you really look at what he does, in my opinion, he's the most complete back Georgia has," Infante said. "Because no one else is asked to do everything he's asked to do."

Infante's memories of Swift include what the running back did on the football field in high school, from winning a state championship in 2016 to signing with Georgia. But the coach's favorite memory comes in a small moment during his sophomore year of high school when the team stopped for lunch.

Swift's mother and sisters were traveling behind the team, and Infante invited them to eat. Infante said he watched Swift serve his younger sister and make sure she had what she needed in front of the football team.

"To see the genuine love and care he had for his little sister told me a lot about that young man," Infante said. "For him to just be focused on his sister was a wonderful tribute to him as to what is really important to him. His family is really important to him. He's a very, very loyal young man."

Swift and Infante still keep in touch, either through texts or visits when he returns home to Philadelphia. Swift said their conversations revolve around school and a general discussion about life. Sometimes the conversations turn to football, where Infante might offer coaching pointers or advice. Mainly, though, Infante said their conversations are like two old friends catching up about life.

"He just did a great job at just helping me become a better man," Swift said.

When Swift runs wild on defenses and scores touchdowns for Georgia on Saturdays, people from his past are watching him, witnessing the next phase in Swift's road to fulfilling his dream.

Infante tries to watch every Georgia game he can to see Swift play, and he'll sometimes text Swift on Georgia game days to offer his support. The running back said Infante helped him mature early on in high school, and his maturity level transferred well into his collegiate career from the beginning.

He said he remembers when Swift carried the football for the first time, made his first catch and made his first block. He thinks of the young football player, the one who used to sit in front of the TV and dream of being on a national stage.

"Ever since that point, nothing has deterred him from setting that track for himself," Darren Swift said. "And that's his goal no matter what, he feels his goal, that it's obtainable."

One of the many nicknames for Georgia running back legend Herschel Walker was “Goal-line Stalker.” Not that Elijah Holyfield or anybody else can be compared to the man whose No. 34 jersey has long been retired by the Bulldogs, but he deserves a similar nickname at this point, too.

Here’s one that might work: “Pylon Destroyer.”

If you’ve watched Holyfield play these last two seasons, you know immediately why this fits him. When it comes to seeking out and destroying goal-line pylons, there are few around who do it with the effectiveness and efficiency of Georgia’s junior running back.

Take this past Saturday. Holyfield’s passage to the east end zone at Sanford Stadium seemed to be closing down fast due to Georgia Tech’s angling defensive pursuit. But somewhere along about the 5-yard line, Holyfield left his feet, and at that point, he became an styrofoam-seeking missile. With the outstretched football acting as his nose cone and the rest of his body following torpedo-like perfectly parallel to the football field below him, Holyfield found his mark. The bright-orange target was obliterated and Holyfield and the Bulldogs were rewarded with another 6 points.

We’ve seen this action repeated several times this season. Of his seven touchdowns, at least three have ended in significant pylon-destroying leaps. Keen observers will recall Holyfield’s first career pylon kill at the end of a 39-yard run against Florida last year in Jacksonville. But Holyfield’s most impressive dive was probably the one that came at the end of a 24-yard run against Vanderbilt earlier this year. That one included a half-twist to South boundary, allowing him to break the plane of the end zone sideways. All have been captured by the talented photographers who crowd the sidelines at Georgia’s games.

quite proud.

"It's always like that," Holyfield said. "I just see the pylon and try to get to it anyway I can. I just try to reach it, and I usually can get to it. If I can see it, I know I can get the ball to it."

Destroying pylons came naturally to Holyfield. There were a lot of other aspects of the college game that did not.

The Woodward Academy graduate had to work hard on his pass-protection skills early in his Georgia career. Likewise, it took Holyfield a while to become an adept receiver out of the backfield. On that front, he's still a work in progress, with just four catches on the season and six in his career.

But it's not from a lack of trying. Georgia coach Kirby Smart said Holyfield stays after practice every day to catch as many as 100 extra balls to entrust his coaches that he'll be able to do that whenever needed.

"I've been very pleased with Elijah," Smart said Monday as he discussed Saturday's SEC Championship matchup with No. 1 Alabama. "His leadership more so than his ability to get to the pylons has been tremendous. His work ethic day in and day out, his toughness and his attitude, is tremendous."

Holyfield and his backfield mate D'Andre Swift are a couple of big reasons the Bulldogs are back in the conference title game. A year ago, they were understudies to Nick Chubb and Sony Michel. Both of those guys are now starting running backs in the NFL, which only underscores the level of weaponry Georgia was losing off that team.

The Bulldogs felt good about Swift being able to match the production of those predecessors, even though his durability and stamina were in question. But when Zamir White – America's No. 1-rated recruit better known as "Zeus" – went down in preseason camp with a second knee injury, there were concerns about whether the Bulldogs could replicate the level of run game that helped propel them to the College Football Playoff finals last year.

A year later, Holyfield and the Bulldogs have answered that challenge with a resounding clang. With the regular season now completed, Swift (962 yards, 6.9 ypc average, 9 TDs) and Holyfield (896-6.7-7) have produced almost identical rushing numbers on the field.

More importantly, Georgia is almost identical as a run-oriented football team. In 2017, the Bulldogs logged 550 rushing attempts for 3,188 yards (5.8 ypc) and 35 TDs. So far in 2018, they've had 498 carries for 3,118 yards, (6.3 ypc) and 29 TDs. Accordingly, Georgia leads

"I think both those backs would tell you they benefit from a physical offensive line and a group of receivers that are a threat to catch the ball," said Smart, done with heaping praise on Georgia's backs. "So those things help open boxes. When people don't want to play you one-on-one, which Alabama will, they open up things for the other guys. And that's important.

"But Elijah has been tremendous, and he has a good knack for getting the ball in the end zone. He's a slasher. He's not afraid of contact."

"We talk every once in a while," Holyfield said of both Chubb and Michel. "We'll hit each other up on Instagram or they'll shoot me a text every once in a while. They've been real, real supportive and they approve of what we've done so far. They just want us to get this next game."

Beating Alabama is all that's on Holyfield's mind and the minds of all the Bulldogs at this point. If they're to do that, their ability to run the football and take out the occasional pylon will certainly be a contributing factor.

"I feel like all of us have done a really good job this year, and I feel like we've gotten better throughout the year," Holyfield said. "This is the time to really make yourself a name."

Holyfield already has. Pylon Destroyer.

'Hot Rod' Blankenship has turned into a cult hero

Associated Press
By: Paul Newberry
Published Oct. 31, 2018

No one is quite sure how Rodrigo Blankenship sees through those big, thick glasses.

Georgia coach Kirby Smart even tried them on.

"I don't understand eyesight," Smart said, "but I don't see how those could help anybody."

Clearly, they work just fine for the kicker known as "Hot Rod," who has become one of the sixth-ranked Bulldogs' most reliable players and a bit of a cult hero.

While Blankenship goes with a much more subdued pair of wire-rimmed specs away from the field, he definitely needs those black, goggle-like sports glasses to see what he's doing on game day. They're not some sort of fashion statement or marketing gimmick. He's unable to wear contacts, so that's really his only option.

"Being able to see important things, like the play clock on a field goal or a kickoff, I need my specs to be able to see that," said Blankenship, who is nearsighted. "To see the uprights from 50 yards away, that's helpful to be able to have a really nice, sharp image. I don't think they hold me back in any other way. They just help me see as clearly as I can and be the best kicker I can be."

Smart doesn't mind how Blankenship looks, as long as he keeps kicking like he has over the past three seasons.

"I know one thing, he sees that ball on the ground, and he gets his toe on the leather real well," the coach said. "So they must work for him."

Two seasons ago, Blankenship was a largely obscure walk-on who didn't even claim the starting job until the fourth game of the season, after then-No. 1 kicker William Ham missed four of his first seven field-goal attempts.

Then, against Kentucky, Blankenship connected on the first game-winning kick of his career. It wasn't really that dramatic — the chip-shot from 25 yards was little more than an extra point , and neither team did anything special that season — but it was the postgame interview that propelled his popularity as Blankenship left both his helmet and his glasses on as he faced the camera.

A social media hashtag, #respectthespecs, became Blankenship's calling card. He did nothing to dissuade the image of the quirky placekicker, also going with pink cleats as his preferred footwear (though he's since added some silver to his collection). He even got a shout-out from Jimmy Kimmel.

"He did a great job in that game two years ago, and I think that certainly gave him the confidence, gave us the confidence in him that he was a pressure player and enjoyed the moment," Smart said.

Blankenship propelled himself to even greater heights in 2017, converting 20 of 23 field goals and all 63 of his extra points, as well as finally earning a scholarship. He was at his best on the biggest stages, setting a Rose Bowl record with a 55-yarder in the national semifinal victory over Oklahoma, and putting himself in position to be the hero of the national championship game when he knocked one through from 51 yards in overtime against Alabama .

Of course, the Crimson Tide threw a winning touchdown pass on second-and-26 to ruin the ending to Blankenship's storybook season. But he's picked right up where he left off, hitting 14 of 18 field goals and remaining perfect on extra points (he's now made 125 in a row over his career).

"He's automatic," said defensive back Tyrique McGhee. "I'd be surprised if he ever missed one the rest of his life. The guy's clutch."

Godwin's career has gone by in the blink of an eye

Athens Banner-Herald
By: Ryne Dennis
Published Nov. 23, 2018

Terry Godwin's smile can light up a room.

Monday for example, with a throng of media hurling queries his way about all aspects of football and life, each answer began with a flash of the pearly whites.

After games, his demeanor is the same—the routine never changes.

Question.

Answer.

Or maybe that smile is an incessant attachment to Georgia's senior receiver.

To those who know him best, who see the same smile every day, it's just Terry being Terry.

When Kirby Smart arrived two seasons ago, Terry being Terry didn't have the same overtone.

By his own admission, Godwin wasn't ready to face the challenges Smart brought to the program.

Smart ramped up intensity at practice and demanded more out of his receivers than simply route running and pass catching.

"He's changed my practice habits to be the best practice guy here and it's showing on the field now," Godwin said. "Just me being who I am, I wasn't the hardest practicer. He came in and changed that. It kind of helped me in the game because now practice is harder than the game."

It took a little time, especially in Smart's first season when the Bulldogs finished 8-5 and Godwin had a modest 397 receiving yards.

"Terry has grown as a kid," Smart said. "When I first got here his practice commitment was there, and he got better at it and he got better and he got better. And he worked at it."

That buy-in reaped its rewards last season as a junior, when he had 639 receiving yards despite the same number of catches (38) as the year before.

The play that stands out to most came on a one-handed snag for a touchdown against Notre Dame that has made the highlight reels for years to come.

But like his smile, that play was just more of Terry being Terry.

"He'll do stuff in practice where you're just like, 'if that happened in a game it would be all over SportsCenter,'" Nauta said. "He's a special talent, for sure."

Early season injuries limited Godwin this year, but he's made up ground as the season's progressed.

Godwin missed two of Georgia's first three games and he had but four catches through five games after the Bulldogs downed Tennessee.

His return to mostly full health was marked by another highlight-reel play against Vanderbilt in Week 6, when he sped down the middle of the field before tossing aside a pair of Commodore defenders near the goal line for a 75-yard touchdown.

He added a 38-yard touchdown on fourthand-3 late in the first half against Auburn that showed his explosive capabilities as well.

To Godwin, who briefly considered entering last year's NFL draft, his time in Athens has gone by 'in a blink of an eye.'

What stands out is the heights that he and the senior class have taken the Georgia program in four seasons.

"I'd have to say thinking back to the Georgia Southern game at the beginning of my freshman year," Godwin said. "Thinking about where we were then to where we are now, we got here in the blink of an eye. It's like day and night with that."

Quick Chat with Richard LeCounte

Frierson Files

Frierson: I do one or two of these a week throughout the season, on top of the other things I write, so I talk to a lot of football players. One of my questions last season, that I asked to just about all of them, was: who's the funniest guy on the team? And without a doubt, your name was mentioned more than anyone else. Why do think that is?

LeCounte: Being around this group of guys, as you can see, there's great energy. It brings the best out of everyone, and being around those guys I feel like if everybody's not having a good time, I feel bad. I love positive energy and things like, and when we're sitting around joking, it's always, I'll say a joke or somebody else will say a joke, and we get to cutting up together I love good conversation and jokes and stuff like that.

Frierson: Now it's your turn, who do you think is the funniest guy on the team?

LeCounte: Oh man, I'd have to say (Deandre) Baker is pretty funny, too. 'Dre Baker's funny. David Marshall, he's quiet but he's super funny. I ease him up a little bit because he's always quiet, but when you get to sitting around and cutting up, he's a hilarious person.

Frierson: Tell me about your hometown of Riceboro — what's it like growing up in a place that small?

LeCounte: It's a tight-knit community, everyone knows each other, it's that thing when you're growing up where you go outside at 8 o'clock (in the morning) and you come back when the streetlights come on. That's the type of childhood I had, a great childhood. My family, my neighbors, everybody cared for each other —if I'm playing all day I can go to my neighbor's house to get something to drink. It was always great vibes, great family members, and I had a lot of peers around my age at that time so all of us hung together, 15 or 20 of us.

Frierson: What's the most creative thing you do, or something creating you wish you could do.

LeCounte: I wish I could draw, I'd love to draw pictures and things like that. I've got a mind to do it, and I love picturing things and wondering how things work and how to put them together, and I just wish I had that artistic hand. And the people that can do it, it's so natural. Man, why don't I have that?

LeCounte: Probably hanging out with some of my friends from back at home. One of my mentor-type guys, Jordan McRae (from near Savannah, played at Tennessee), who played for the (Cleveland) Cavaliers, and Raekwon McMillan (from Hinesville, former Ohio State linebacker) played for the Dolphins — he's like my best friend and he came up here in the offseason and was training in Atlanta. And Jordan lives up in Atlanta.

All of us being together and having a good time; all of us went to the same high school (Liberty County), so we're from the same area and we're all real tight. Us coming out of that small area, we all stick together. It's always fun being around good company; being four hours away from home is kind of hard, not being able to see your family every weekend, so weekends when I wasn't back home, I was up there with those guys.

Frierson: Are you a bit of a celebrity in Riceboro, just because you were such a great high school player and now you're playing for Georgia?

LeCounte: I wouldn't say I was a celebrity or anything like that (smiling), but a lot of people know me. That's my personality, I love talking to people and things like that. I'm known more for being a kind person in the community than for football, but I happen to also play football. Either with or without football, I'm probably still the same person.

Frierson: That's a really nice perspective. Fifty years from now you'd certainly rather be remembered as a nice, kind person than someone that was a good football player.

LeCounte: I'm great at untying knots and juggling. I can juggle anything. I took so much time learning how to juggle and when I started juggling everyone was like, OK, so, go join the circus. (laughs). It fascinates my niece and nephew, but other than that it can't really do much for me.

Frierson: I think whatever you're juggling is going to have to either be on fire or be dangerous like a running chainsaw.

LeCounte: I gotta have a knife in my hand to juggle for y'all (laughs), that's funny.

Frierson: OK, so where did the untying knots part of your answer come from?

LeCounte: Oh, I don't know. I'm great at untying knots, though. That's something I can brag about, untying knots (laughs).

Frierson: (laughs) That's a great answer. ... If you could be great at any other sport for a day, just to experience it, what sport would it be?

LeCounte: Soccer. Like a Ronaldo type. That guy on Instagram has like 82 million followers; everybody knows this guy from soccer. That's a great thing to do, and seeing the World Cup and things like that, I'm a person that feeds off energy so that energy in that World Cup stadium, man, I'd have a great time being in there.

LeCounte: Man, I've got like an old-school soul. I love the older things, as far as music, as far as the way I dress; you know, I'm not into all that flashy type of dress. ... I love collared shirts and things like that. I'm an old school type of guy."

Quick Chat with J.R. Reed

Frierson Files
By: John Frierson
Published Nov. 6, 2018

Frierson: I was looking at your bio and saw that you played receiver and defensive back in high school, so how would J.R. the DB cover J.R. the wideout? Who would win that head-to-head?

Reed: Probably the DB. I was a pretty good receiver, I wouldn't say I was, like, amazing, but defense was my specialty ever since I was younger. My dad told me, you're going to be a defensive player, not an offensive player.

Frierson: Because?

Reed: Just because of my ability to run to the ball; when I was little I'd never get tired. When I was playing soccer I'd tell the coach, I'm not tired, don't take me out. And so when it came to football they'd put me in the middle, playing safety, and I'd just fly to the ball.

As I got older I started falling more in love with defense because it's all about the effort you give to the ball. The ball can be way over there and you can be on the left side and you can run all the way over there and make a tackle. It's all about the effort you give.

On offense, it's all about if you're open, you might be open but the quarterback doesn't see you and all this other craziness. I'd rather play defense, so the defensive guy won [my head-to-head].

Frierson: What other sports besides football and soccer did you play growing up and how would you rate your abilities in those sports?

Reed: One through five, five being the best and one being the worst, one on baseball, absolutely the worst. When I was little, playing third base, the ball would be hit, say, to second base — this is tee-ball and I'm young — I'd run over to grab the ball from second base and run over to tag the runner at third. I was awful at it because I couldn't just sit there and wait for the ball to come to me, I was just too bored.

Soccer, I would give myself a four. I was a pretty good defender in soccer, and defense is my thing. I could steal the ball and get rid of it and chase down offensive players. I could play pretty good defense in soccer.

Football, definitely a five. Swimming, I was a good swimmer. I didn't do it as a sport but I'd say a three. And then any recreation, gym sports, sports you play in gym [class] like kickball and dodgeball, that's a five.

Frierson: Do you miss having the opportunity to show off your kickball or dodgeball skills?

Reed: I miss the opportunity to play dodgeball — that's one of my favorites. That and kickball. Those two sports are so simple and take you back, I could play them whenever.

Frierson: The last time we did this, before Christmas, you talked about how your house was always decked out for the holidays. Did the Reed house get the same treatment at Halloween?

Reed: It wasn't really a Halloween house. We got to get dressed up as whoever we wanted to be and we had our candies, but it wasn't really a Halloween decked-out house. We'd have maybe the fake spider webs and the fog machine, but we didn't have anything too scary.

Frierson: Is there a candy that you like at Halloween that you ignore the rest of the year? I'm that way with candy corn, which is probably a good thing.

Frierson: What's the most important class you've taken in college? Or the one that has affected you or interested you the most?

Reed: Interpersonal communications — I took that and it shows you how humans work and human nature and how we communicate and different levels and stages of relationships. And if you hit this phase you might as well just quit your relationship because it's going to go downhill from there, there's not coming back. That class was just very interesting to me.

Ledbetter, Smart represent more than player, coach

Athens Banner-Herald
By: Ryne Dennis
Published July 18, 2018

Jonathan Ledbetter sported a sleek black suit with a G lapel pin, a bright pink bow tie, green, blue and pink argyle socks, and sneakers with flames on them.

It was a last-minute wardrobe decision, but the senior defensive end looked sharp considering he had just four days to prepare for his role as one of three Georgia representatives at SEC Media Days.

"I never would have thought I'd be here, " Ledbetter said Tuesday. "Honestly, I'm just blessed. I just got selected to go to a really prestigious event."

The short notice had little to do with Ledbetter's doubt of being one of Georgia football's player reps.

A little more than two years ago, Ledbetter was found slumped over a steering wheel, passed out at a traffic light with his car running. Just 18 years old at the time, Ledbetter was arrested, charged with DUI and underage possession of alcohol.

Smart became his head coach the following year.

"I think back to his 10th grade year when he first committed to the University of Alabama and I was there," Smart said. "He was a really good player and someone I really enjoyed getting to know."

In Ledbetter's best interest, there couldn't have been a better hire than Smart.

Despite Ledbetter's flip from Alabama to Georgia, Smart had become family. And people rarely give up on their family.

After Smart's hiring Ledbetter was arrested for a fake ID and underage consumption, charges that were later dropped, in March before his July DUI.

Smart was there when a family member needed him most.

He was tough but fair suspending Ledbetter for the first six games of 2016 school policy for a second alcohol arrest, while guiding him through his issues.

As a result, Ledbetter and Smart have a relationship that's incomparable between most players and coaches.

"He is family," Ledbetter said. "I view him more as my family than a head coach … Sometimes there's the raw, uncut Kirby at practice, sometimes there's the man that will put you up under his shoulder and talk to you like a son."

The kin-like bond is noticeable when Ledbetter reflects on Smart's guidance the past two seasons.

"He's just a great guy and he'll tell you that he just wants you to be yourself with him because he's going to be himself with you," Ledbetter said. "I know not every kid in college has that experience and not every kid in college football gets to talk to their coach like that."

Ledbetter admits to ups and downs in his relationship with Smart, but like most families it has resulted in the best interest of the group.

Ledbetter answered questions about defending the run-pass option, how the Bulldogs are trying to forget about last season's ending and if their expectations could match last year.

For someone who never thought he'd be in this position, he was now a main voice for the program.

"He stood by me no matter what and talked me through it and coached me through everything," Ledbetter said. "It's just really powerful. You're just kind of cooking when you have something like that. You don't have that connection now with everybody."

The quiet All-American: Georgia's Deandre Baker is driven by performance, not talk

By Seth Emerson
The Athletic
Sept. 6, 2018

The story might seem ruined because the encounter did not lead to an immediate friendship, did not result in a mentorship between an NFL great and a future college star. But that wouldn't fit Deandre Baker. In that way, the story is perfect.

Antonio Brown is the NFL's best receiver. His father Eddie Brown was, at the time, the coach at Miami Northwestern High School, and had invited his son to practice, and one of the players the coach wanted his son to meet was Baker, the up-and-coming cornerback.

"I knew he was special. I knew he had that 'It Factor,'" Eddie Brown said.

But he also knew Baker was shy. So he walked Antonio Brown over to Baker, they exchanged hellos, shook hands, and then Baker turned and ran back to his side of the field.

"That was it," Eddie Brown said. "Deandre doesn't say much of a thing."

That hasn't changed. Baker, now a senior cornerback at Georgia, is a preseason First Team All-American, yet is one of the few starters yet to consent to an interview since preseason practice began. That's OK. Plenty of others can do the talking for him, and explain how a seemingly unheralded recruit became one of college football's best cornerbacks.

Mel Tucker arrived at Georgia after the 2015 season, when Baker played a quiet 11 games, mostly on special teams. There was little buzz about his future. But Tucker, the team's new defensive coordinator and secondary coach, watched Baker in offseason workouts, and immediately realized what he had.

"I pulled him over and said 'Hey, I think you could be a heckuva player: You're six-feet tall, you're the fastest guy out here, you have good change of direction, you have great length.' I said, 'I really believe that you can do something here," Tucker said. "All you have to do is listen, pay attention, do what I ask you to do.' That is what he did."

Six games into the following season, Baker was inserted into the lineup during a blowout loss at Ole Miss, which was carving up Georgia's secondary. Baker has been entrenched in the lineup since then.

The ascendance to stardom happened almost quietly: Game after game went by during Georgia's magical 2017 season, and it finally occurred to people in the outside world that on the rare occasions a big pass play happened against Georgia, No. 18 was never in the picture. Not a single touchdown was thrown against a man covered by Baker, either in man or cover-2.

Baker's season snuck up on people enough that he was only a Second Team All-SEC pick by the coaches. The AP left him completely off. But NFL scouts noticed, moving Baker up their draft boards, tempting him enough that he took his decision a few hours up to the deadline. He would later say the moment he made his decision was when ESPN showed a highlight of the end of the national championship game — Baker was on the other side of the field — and he vowed he had to not let that happen again.

But Georgia coach Kirby Smart believes the decision was more pragmatic, that Baker could lift himself higher in the 2019 draft than had he entered as an underclassmen. Either way, it was a major lift for a defense that lost All-American inside linebacker Roquan Smith one year early, along with six other starters.

"Yeah, it would've been tough to replace all we had to replace and then you add Bake," Smart said. "I think Bake made a good decision, but Bake probably was the most highly-rated guy when it came to scouts' opinions as far as deciding to come back. He had a tough decision to make. I feel like he made the right one; only time will tell if he improves and continues to work to move up the draft board. But he has chance to do that. He's a talented player."

Baker was only a three-star recruit coming out of high school, but a few high-profile programs were on him. Alabama, Nebraska and Texas also offered him.

Larry Blustein, a longtime recruiting analyst in south Florida, recalled seeing Baker as a youth football player, and thinking even then he was one of the top players. Baker's physical skills didn't translate well to camps, where more eyes are on recruits. But real football games are played in pads. Blustein remembers seeing Miami Northwestern playing against Carroll City, its chief rival, and Baker stood out.

"Watch any of the games that he played and he was always around the ball," Blustein said. "I remember saying, this kid is getting way under-recruited because no one is watching him in the game. They're watching him (at camps) in damn shorts and a T-shirt, where nobody has an advantage. In a game it's a whole different story."

Nick Saban wanted Baker. During an official visit to Tuscaloosa, the two had breakfast together. But the next week Baker committed to Georgia, where, to hear Eddie Brown tell it, he was always going if he had the offer. For whatever reason, the kid from south Florida grew up wanting to go to Georgia.

"He's at his dream school," Brown said. "I don't think there's a better story. He's living out his dream."

Earlier this year Antonio Brown was back in town, and his father, now coaching at another school, tried to pull together some players for a workout. Most everybody jumped at the chance to work with one of the best players in the NFL. An exception: Baker, who was in town but had just gotten back and was tired. He respectfully declined. His old coach wasn't offended. That's just Deandre.

"He was a quiet kid. He had his circle that he talked with, that could get conversation out of him. He was that guy that was always sitting in the back, head on the wall," Brown said. "But when it came time to play football, he was in the forefront.

"He likes to talk on the field."

Frierson: I did a Google search of your first name, Dequartavious, and you are the only thing that comes up, in all of Google.

Crowder: For real?

Frierson: Did your name come from anywhere in particular?

Crowder: Nah, my aunt named me. I've got a cousin named Shantavious and I was Dequartavious, and we both go by the same name — but I'm T-a-e and she's T-a-y-e, so that's kind of cool.

Frierson: Where would you go if you were given all the time and money you needed to travel anywhere in the world?

Crowder: I'd probably go to Europe, just because I want to see something different and see how they live over there.

Frierson: Who would you take with you?

Crowder: I'd take my boy Roquan Smith. I'd definitely take him because I know he'd want to go, too.

Frierson: What is it like watching him on TV with the Bears?

Crowder: Words can't really explain it. You can't really make it bigger than what it is, but it's awesome, a special thing.

Frierson: Roquan's such a great player, great guy, so easy to look up to — and then his first play he gets a sack. Did you get goosebumps watching that?

Crowder: (Laughs) Yeah, I did. As soon as he got in I just had a feeling something was going to happen for him.

Frierson: I certainly didn't expect that game to end the way it did [with the Packers rallying in the fourth quarter to win].

Crowder: I hated that it ended that way, but Aaron Rodgers, man, you can't relax with him.

Frierson: If you could be great at any other sport for a day just to experience what it's like, what sport would it be?

Crowder: I would definitely go with soccer (laughs).

Frierson: Really? Where did that come from?

Crowder: I was pretty good at soccer, too, but I didn't play it in high school. I would definitely play soccer.

Frierson: Do you follow it, like watching the World Cup or some of the European leagues?

Crowder: I'm pretty good at it, but now that I'm pretty good I want to go up and beyond. I see people across the world that are so good at it, which is pretty cool. But I can't really get it yet.

Crowder: Any sport game: soccer, 2K, Madden, all of those I can play pretty good.

Frierson: What's something you know now that you wish you'd known or understood as a freshman?

Crowder: I wish I'd known how to practice. When I first got here I didn't really know how to practice; sometimes it takes people longer to adjust to how you practice and do things. I wish I came in more mature and ready, but it took me some time.

Frierson: Because it came too easy in high school?

Crowder: Yeah, it did maybe come too easy in high school, and coming here was a big step. I had to learn how to adjust with school and ball. It was a big step I had to take.

Frierson: What other sports did you play when you were growing up? What were you good at?

Walker: I was just always good at football growing up, and I played some basketball as well, but it was mainly football.

Frierson: This is a question I ask whenever I do one of these with basketball players but given your size and athleticism I'll ask you as well, do you remember your first dunk?

Walker: (Smiles) Yeah, I remember my first dunk [around are 13 or 14]. We were up by a bunch of points against one team and our head coach wasn't coaching so we had one of the players' dads step in and coach. We were up and had run the score up and we were out there doing what we wanted.

Somehow I stole the ball at the half-court line and dribbled it back toward the goal. I went up for a dunk, but I took off at the free-throw line and I actually traveled. I took like three steps and then I dunked, and they called a travel. I made it and everything but they called a travel. That's one I won't forget.

Also, I remember the first time I tried to dunk and I didn't make that dunk, and we were playing in the state championship when I missed.

Frierson: Where would you go if you were given all the time and money you needed to travel anywhere in the world?

Walker: I would say Dubai, or somewhere where I can play with monkeys.

Frierson: (Laughs) Okay.

Walker: I don't want to be too far in the wild, but I want to see monkeys, I like monkeys. I'd say Dubai, though, for the most part.

Frierson: It's amazing how often Dubai comes up, because I ask this question is just about every one of these that I do. It's come up a lot in the last year, I think in part because the pictures on Instagram look so good.

Walker: I actually have a teacher out there, an old high school teacher that lives out there now, so I do plan to go to Dubai.

Frierson: If you could play with or against anyone, who would it be?

Walker: Man, I'd just like to go to the Pro Bowl and play in the Pro Bowl with all those guys and against all that talent. Just to be around everybody and see how everybody is and how they practice.

Frierson: I would imagine that it inspires you and gives you confidence to see so many guys you played with here making an impact in the NFL right now.

Walker: No doubt. I feel like a lot of the guys that just got drafted, the rookies, may be able to go play in the Pro Bowl this year.

Frierson: What's something from your childhood that you really miss?

Walker: I just miss, man, being able to go back to the recreational park and playing football on Saturdays. It was amazing, man, just being a little kid and running around and having fun. On Saturdays after the games, we used to stay up until like 1 o'clock playing around and still up, like we didn't just play a football game.

Frierson: What's the best live performance you've ever seen?

Walker: My first time seeing Migos perform. I remember the first time I saw Migos perform they had just come out with the song "Pipe It Up" [in 2015] and I was sitting in the crowd, not even expecting them to perform, I don't think, I was just there.

They came in and performed the song I was just like, with my mouth wide open, just lost. I don't really go to performances or concerts or stuff like that, but I saw that and it was amazing.

Frierson: The thing I remember about your alma mater Mays, from my days covering high school football, was the band. The band is worth the price of admission by itself. What was it like being at a school with a legendary band and did you ever actually get to see them perform?

Patrick: Oh man, I love that band. I was actually really, really tight with the band director during that time. He would ask what songs we wanted, what we wanted to hear and they were so advanced they would have college guys come in and teach them different things. Our band was just excellent, and they were super loud and that was kind of our pump-up going into the games.

Frierson: Do you have a connection to the Redcoat Band because of that experience? I think most guys don't think too much about their high school band one way or another and maybe that carries over to college, but you're someone that knows what a great band can do.

Patrick: Definitely. What people don't understand is, on third downs and before the games, those tones, that's the band doing that. I'm not sure people understand how much the band makes an impact during the game. At different times when they play, when we need noise, I'm not sure people really understand how much goes into it.

Frierson: Do you play any instruments? Do you have a creative side or musical side?

Patrick: You know what, I feel like everybody has a musical side when they get in the shower, but that may just be me.

Frierson: The shower or the car.

Frierson: Who is the best singer on the team?

Patrick: The best singer on the team? I probably have to toot my own horn here and give it to myself.

Frierson: What's your song, you have to have one that you do better than anything else?

Patrick: Hot wings, easy.

Patrick: You couldn't even finish it, it's hot wings, easy.

Frierson: Take me through your hot wings approach or philosophy, because I get the feeling you've put some thought into this.

Patrick: I kind of switch it up depending on my mood. When I'm in a good mood I just want my hot teriyaki with the lemon pepper sprinkles. But when I'm feeling kind of mellow, I just go for the lemon pepper, fried crispy, extra lemon pepper.

Even when I'm feeling super hungry and I haven't had enough meals that day, I'll get a Philly and six-wing combo, but you got to hot teriyaki and lemon pepper sprinkle the wings.

Frierson: The thing I'm taking away from what you just laid out is that you really like teriyaki and lemon pepper sprinkles.

Patrick: Definitely, definitely.

Frierson: Is this a system that's evolved over time or has this been your go-to from the beginning?

Patrick: It's definitely evolved over time. I feel like as a family if there is any type of food, we would definitely be a hot wing family. Coming from the city you just had so many different wing spots around, in different areas, and different places have different tastes.
